VICKS RELIEVES CROUP OVERNIGHT

So Declares Mrs. Ault, of Bladworth, Sask.

Every mother wants her children to be active and to grow strong through outdoor play. But frequent colds sap their vitality, cause loss of school standing, and keep youngsters puny and delicate.

Mothers who use Vicks VapoRub for children's colds find that the kiddies can play outdoors and that their cold troubles can usually be checked overnight.

Applied over throat and chest, Vicks acts like a liniment or poultice. In addition, the ingredients are vaporized by the body heat and are inhaled directly into the inflamed air passages. This double action quickly loosens up a cold.

Mrs. A. J. Ault, of Bladworth, Sask., writes: "My little boy had such a bad case of croup that he could not lie down, having to cough continually. Medicines did not seem to do him any good. I used Vicks VapoRub, rubbing it on his chest and neck, and then put him to bed. He slept well and was greatly improved in the morning. I repeated the treatment the next night and he was well again."

At all drug stores 50c a jar. For a free test size package write Vick Chemical Co., 344 St. Paul St., W., Montreal, P.Q.

Though Vicks is new in Canada it has a remarkable sale in the States. Over 17 million jars used yearly.

hair," accompanied by Pete on the carving knife and fork. The latter is a newly invented musical instrument imported for the occasion. Fred Wermig sang a new recipe for sauerkraut. H. H. Jepson gave a skirt dance with spurs on and Stanley Smith brought the evening to a sudden termination with a lecture on "How to win at rummy with your eyes shut." The gathering dispersed in the early hours of the morning without ambulance aid.

Hanaco in Blow

The Canadian schooner Hanaco, Capt. Bert Hanson, arrived in port on Thursday morning with a catch of 10,000 pounds of halibut, 4,500 pounds of which was brought in from the schooner, Cape Swain, Capt. Red Pierce. The latter vessel is still out on the high spots, Capt. Hanson reports having encountered very dirty weather on the trip and was only able to fish for the better part of three days. In assisting the skipper of the Hanaco to pull in an extra large halibut Albert Quinton, the cook, fell overboard when the boat gave a lurch. Skipper Hanson quickly introduced the gaff hook to the cook's wearing apparel and after strenuous efforts was successful in pulling him back to the deck. Oscar Young, the mate, who was in the pilot house at the time, on seeing Quinton fall overboard, reversed the engine with the result that the gear became entangled underneath the boat. The schooner Cape Swain was also in the storm and for that reason transferred her fare to the Hanaco owing to the lightness of the catch.
