

SPORTS ROUND-UP

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—One of the best ways to get a great deal of money is to buy a horse like Lea, the head sire at Calumet Farms, and then sell it in a small armored truck to carry you in to the track and then when the stuff begins to clutter the living room.

If you do is go to one of the big sales and bid a little more than anyone else for the horse you have in mind, just as it did. You can afford to be generous under the circumstances and go perhaps as high as $14,000, that being the price at which Bull Lea was sold down at the 1936 Saratoga, to which he was sold by Coldstream Stud.

In this initial outlay, about $10,000 expense will be out of your pocket to now the sons and daughters of Bull Lea have been in the neighborhood of $100,000. In one year alone, the old boy's progeny has brought home $1,334,027, which is a record. Calumet has never before sold a horse for so much.

Lea's favorite son, Cinnamon, $1,085,760, making him the first and only horse to stand third in the winning list. Others, including Bewitch, Coaltown, and Hill Gail, recent winners of the Kentucky Derby, are high on the list. Every time you look up at the Calumet product, ridden by Arcaro, is running off $100,000 stakes.

AS NO MAN O' WAR, the golden harvest he sired, Bull Lea probably be the first to admit was no Man O' War in his days. Fact is, he was a paltry $94,825, and distinguished that his sire at one time, in 1943, for $250.

After that his children to run over other and Calumet not only the price in a hurry but very particular about the Bull Lea associated with those of the past. Since 1949, when the money-winning sires third straight year, the has been $5000 for social-able visitors.

He is readily imagined, a foal is handled with tender care from its parents and lacks for except a governess. To reach the sales can be so it may be seen Calumet is conferring a flavor upon any breed fortunate enough to be at Lea's services.

Cards Take Double Bill From Pirates

NEW YORK (CP)—It may have been rugged going, but Eddie Stanky's major league leaguers stayed right up with the best of them Wednesday night.

His St. Louis Cardinals were pressed at times but they managed to defeat last-place Pittsburgh Pirates 7-2 and 3-2 in a National League doubleheader.

The two Pittsburgh wins left them in third place. First game was a toughie for the Cards. They battled to a 2-2 tie until the 10th inning and then exploded for five runs to take the decision.

Johnny Merson won the series.

Not the Way We Heard it—

MOSCOW (AP)—Two Russian correspondents of the Literary Gazette wrote from Helsinki that the officials of the United States delegation did everything in their power to set up an iron curtain around the American Olympic team.

The correspondents—Anatoli Sofronov and Nikolai Latyshev—said the American officials tried to hide their athletes in order to keep them from making friends with the Russians.

The American officials were frightened, said the Soviet paper, at possible friendly meetings between American and Soviet athletes.

During the Olympic games, U.S. and Russian athletes mingled freely. The rowing teams worked out together, swapped tips and friendly banter, and the rival coaches shared a single launch.
