SPORTS ROUND-UP

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK.—There are men in the sports world who employ more polished English than Casey Stengel, the former left-handed dentist, but none to his knowledge who can get to the kernel of a matter as surely.

For example, there is Casey's estimate of his own team, who is being hailed at 20 as the next super-star. "I take him," says Casey, "he strikes out three or four and you get to thinking he ought to be taken out while and then he goes with the bases maybe and hits one out of the and you don't feel like any more."

man's opinion: It was that the Olympic committee ever let itself be into making basketball a part of the games. All would have been as and it would have proven more dandy vacation for the badge wearers.

usion of the cage game made no friends for anyone, especially for the United States. It was a made-up game, and United States was so great from that it was strictly no. Other countries have had this, especially when it was stacked with seven-who they cannot. Bob Kurland took an ending from the London four years ago because height advantage.

Other countries are getting. Maybe they will all up one of these Olympics then there should be a fight or two in every game.

G-A Trounce Hotelmen In Error Stricken Bill

The team with the youngest average age, spotted with rookies, last night cinched its pennant victory in the City Baseball League when Gordon & Anderson blasted Commercial Hotel 10-4.

Vic Carolei, who alternates between catching and the mound tossed away six scattered hits to the Hotelmen, while Vern Ciccone gave up 10 to the winners. But it was the error-stricken third inning which spelled ruin for the Hotelmen. G-A brought in eight runs off five hits and six errors, five of which were committed, one after the other by Commercial's outfielder Bill Gunn substituting for short stop. Gunn was also picked off in a hotbox between second and third after having reached first on an error by outfielder Marshall.

Gordon & Anderson scored two more runs in the seventh and last inning of the night game, led off with a single by shortstop Ralph Enridge and scored with a single by Sid Scherk and an error.

HARDLUCK CICCONE
Commercial's pitcher, Ciccone, had tough luck all the way. With only scattered support in the field, he had to work himself out of one tight spot after the other. Then, in the second inning, when Hotelmen scored their two runs, Ciccone got in a hotbox between second and third and collided with shortstop Enridge trying to beat out the ball.

Both players suffered cuts on the face. At the end of the fifth inning, the luckless pitcher had to be helped off the field when a hard hit, grass-cutting ball by Scherk hit his foot and paralyzed it. Ciccone hit the dirt, but recovered in time to throw the ball from an awkward sitting position to first for the third out.

Big hitters for G-A were Sid Scherk, with three hits for four times at bat and Ralph Enridge, with two for four. Joe Davis, Commercial's first baseman, collected two for three.

The one-sided victory for the Hardware Men which had Hotelmen manager Miner Simundson looking mighty sad and Stan Cornwell from the opposing dug-out sparkling, ended this season's league baseball.

PLAYOFFS
It gives Gordon & Anderson 11 wins to 6 losses, second place Abel & Odowes eight and eight, and Commercial six wins and 11 losses.

Final playoffs start Sunday with the first game of a best of three series between the Clothiers and Hotelmen. Winners meet Gordon & Anderson for the Bert Morgan Trophy championship.

Last year's winners were Abel & Odowes, who also won the league championship.

Russians Mean To Beat World

By EDDY GILMORE

MOSCOW (AP)—The Russians are going to the next Olympic Games in Australia determined to beat the United States and every other country in men's track and field events and swimming. They have a good chance of doing it.

Anyone living here knows with what zeal they are going to throw themselves into the task.

Four years ago the central committee of the Communist Party set two goals—to win world championships and set world records in all major sports. Much has been accomplished by Soviet athletes since that time. The biggest thing, of course, was their participation in their first Olympics. And according to their calculations, they won it unqualifiedly.

But Russians lagged behind in track and field events and performances of their men and women in swimming left much to be desired. They also lost to the United States in basketball and to Yugoslavia in football.

One can be almost certain there will be improvement in coming years.

The job probably will be tackled immediately. With millions of young people to draw from, the Soviet sports organization, which functions on a 12-month basis, is going to comb the country for prospects while perfecting talent they already have.

Determination, practice, work, assistance by state and party, and an inherent talent for sports plus a huge pool to pick from accounted for the strong Russian showing at Helsinki.

OGDEN, Utah (CP)—Youthful heavyweight Rex Lane said today he is going after Ezzard Charles in a 10-round bout tonight like he is fighting for the title.

But Charles and his handlers had a different version. "Ezzy is ready for Rex," Jake Mintz, Charles co-manager announced.

If he should lose this one, he's about through, but a victory tonight will put him back in the picture."

Jet Pilot Passes Out; 'Hitchhiker' Takes Over Control

WITH U.S. FIFTH AIR FORCE, Korea (AP)—You're whizzing along at 500 miles an hour seven miles up—your first ride in a jet—and then the pilot passes out and the engine fails.

That was the recent predicament of M-Sgt. Charles E. Hilt, 31, of Parker, Fla., who was hitching a lift from Korea to Japan in a two-seater jet trainer. The pilot passed out when his oxygen supply failed.

The Air Force said the sergeant took over the controls and flew the jet until the engine quit. Then he manoeuvred it to a level where the pilot, Lt. Robert W. MacDuff of Avenel, N.J., regained consciousness.

They were headed for Japan, flying at 37,000 feet, when Hilt heard MacDuff come in through the earphones. He wanted to work out a navigational problem and would the sergeant please hold the auxiliary control stick?

He saw MacDuff's head nod occasionally, but thought the pilot was checking his map and then bobbing back to check instruments. MacDuff was reacting from lack of oxygen and had passed out.

Hilt said he didn't get worried until MacDuff failed to answer over the communications system.

He waggled the stick, but still no response. Then he realized he had just become a jet pilot.

After following the Japanese coastline for a while the engine quit, then by trial and error on the stick, Hilt learned the slowest rate of descent and started a long glide over land—determined to ride the plane down. At 13,000 feet MacDuff came to.

MacDuff took over the controls and finally got the engine re-started at 6,000 feet.
