TORONTO (CP)—The national ting their own sub-contracts, he day urged "war on poverty" as the best means of achieving "Recently a group of veterans lasting peace. At the same time, it would have taken out of a resolution any approval of military preparedness.

The resolution said:

"Military preparedness, necessary though it is in the present international situation, cannot take the place of positive action to end poverty and exploitation."

Mrs. Sophia Dickson and Peter Makaroff, Saskatchewan delegates, asked for deletion as "irrelevant" of the words "necessary though it is in the present international situation."
