GROTTO GAVE VETS GOOD RUN BILLIARDS

First Division Tournament Last Night Close, G.W.V.A. Winning by Only 16 Points

The Grotto billiard players made a brave attempt against the Great War Veterans in last night's first division billiard tournament and were beaten only by the narrow margin of 1192 to 1176. It was one of the closest tournaments of the season. There was not a single cinch win on either side and there were no total scores under the 200 mark. The Vets won three games and the Grotto, two. The tobacconists bettered their standing considerably while the Veterans went down a point or two.

Individual scores were as follows:

Col. S. P. McMordie (Vets), 250; George Waugh (Grotto) 203

Sergeant Jebson, 250; Don Brown, 235.

G. P. Tinker, 238; Bert Morgan 250.

J. Walsh, 204; E. Pearce, 250.

Fred Pyle, 250; W. J. Nelson, 238.

League standing to date:

	Games	Tl.	Ave.
P. R. B. P.	3	3610	1203
G. W. V. A.	3	3585	1192
Grotto	4	4252	1063

If the Prince Rupert Billiard Parlor does not do better in its second division billiard tournament with the Callies tonight than it did with the Canadian Fish & Cold Storage team on Tuesday, it is going to find itself in second place with the Great War Veterans in the lead as far as the league standing is concerned. It is expected, however, that there will be some rearrangement of the Billiard Parlor team tonight. The Callies may be expected to be on their toes to win their first victory of the season and they will pretty well have to do this if they are to continue in the running at all.

Herb Stuart, nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hampton of Prince Rupert, after a brilliant career as an amateur hockey player with the Brandon Club, has finally decided to enter the salaried ranks. He signed on with the Edmonton Eskimos last month and on Monday night of this week played his first game when the Eskimos were winners over the Vancouver Maroons by 5 to 4 in an overtime contest.

This is part of what the Brandon home town paper said when it was announced that the popular player was leaving: "Herbie Stuart, for several years the mainstay of the Brandon hockey team and recognized as about the finest piece of goal tending material in this neck of the woods has finally heard the call from the professional ranks and has signed a contract with the Edmonton Eskimos. Stuart has been besieged with pro offers for the past three years. He is of such recognized ability that they got better and better until Kenny McKenzie, manager of the Eskimos, made him the finest offer that was ever made an amateur in this country. Stuart felt it was so good that he could not afford to turn it back so he affixed his signature for a two-year contract." As a result of Stuart's departure, it is feared that the Brandon Club may not be able to carry on in the Manitoba Amateur Hockey Association.

Fielding records for the American League for the season of 1924, for both clubs and individuals, indicate a more active as well as a more accurate defence over the previous season. There were many high marks reached in chances accepted and in one notable case, a new record made, that by William Jacobson of the St. Louis Browns who set for both numbers of put outs and total chances for outfielders. The centre gardener of the Browns in 152 games had 48 putouts and seven assists. The New York Yankees led the league in fielding as a club with a percentage of .974 as against .977 in 1923. George Sisler led the first basemen; Eddie Collins, the second basemen; Willie Kamm, the third basemen; Rigney, the shortstops; Henry Severeid, the catchers and Hegb Pennock, the pitchers.
