GOVERNMENT SUPPORT FOR MUSIC STUDENTS

Chicago Composer Thinks United States Should Do More For Musical Education

FRANKFORT, Dec. 4.—Native musicians will never have a fair opportunity in the United States until the cost of musical education is reduced in America, according to Simon Bucharoff, the Chicago composer who is in Germany arranging for the production of his new grand opera, "Sakahra."

"We should have government and city support for music schools and opera houses in the United States," said Mr. Bucharoff, "and I believe such public spirited citizens as General Dawes will eventually bring about the establishment of schools of that character, where poor, but talented young Americans may get thorough musical education at small cost. A school, such as the Berlin Musical High School, would be a boon to hundreds of young Americans who are struggling to become artists.
