MUTINY OF EGYPTIAN TROOPS IN SUDAN

MEN TRAPPED IN SOUTH WALES COAL MINE WHEN RUSH OF WATER COMES

British Troops Fire on Sudan Mutineers After Attack on a Hospital

CAIRO, Nov. 28.—Two platoons of the Eleventh Sudanese army at Khartoum mutinied today and attacked the military hospital. They killed one British and two Syrian doctors. British troops fired on the mutineers, who suffered severe casualties.

It is not believed that the mutiny can spread sufficiently to endanger the British position in the Sudan or is it likely to have any influence against Britain there.

The battalion at Khartoum constitutes the only Egyptian force now left in the Sudan. The British military are strong enough to keep the situation in hand.

Twelve more persons were taken into custody today and the police expect to detain 35 in all as a precaution.

COOLIDGE NO LONGER TIED

Can Carry Out Own Policy and People Wondering What It Is

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—(By Canadian Press).—Development of the foreign policy of the Coolidge administration, now that President Coolidge has been elected by a great popular majority, is awaited with intense interest in Congressional and diplomatic circles. It is the general feeling that the President's own views as to foreign relations are to a large extent an unknown quantity for the reason that until now he has been obliged, or felt he was obliged, to be more or less tied to the Harding policies.

Beyond doubt, the Coolidge administration will preserve an attitude of the utmost friendliness toward Canada and the British nation in general. In case Canada sends an envoy to Washington as a permanent proposition, as it is expected here will be done, the Coolidge administration will welcome such action.

It is with respect to the League of Nations, the World Court, recognition of the Russian Government, and policies in the Far East that there is a feeling of some doubt and uncertainty as to what the Coolidge administration will do. Judging from past utterances, the President feels the League question is settled for good and that the United States intends to keep out of the League.

The President has shown some leaning toward the World Court but exactly what reservations he will want if this country joins it is not entirely clear.

Russian Recognition
As to Russian recognition, there is some reason to believe the President is more open-minded on the subject than Secretary Hughes who is implacably against it. It is known that friends of recognition in the Senate do not consider it to be out of the question that the President may take a course that may lead to this country laying down certain conditions which Russia will be able to accept. This does not mean quick recognition but it means that the friends of recognition hope for eventual recognition at the hands of the Coolidge administration.

STUDENTS FROLICS SHOCK PEOPLE OF CITY OF BOSTON

BOSTON, Nov. 28.—Boston is shocked. The Boston Intercollegiate committee on living conditions among students has approved a report indicating that all is not as it should be in the famous Back Bay district where men and women students are "flying with less protection from moral temptation than is desirable."

The report charges that gambling and promiscuous drinking are common amongst the student population and that drinking at club and college organization dances recently has been "noticeable." It urges that the college authorities ask the police to be more strict in student residential sections.

CLUB IS HELD BY VANCOUVER

Members Sign Pledge That Personal Property Tax Shall be Removed, Says Member

VICTORIA, Nov. 28.—Charles Woodward, member for Vancouver, told the Legislature yesterday he had little doubt the personal property tax would be removed next year. It was hoped to abandon it this year. He said: "The Liberal members of Vancouver have signed a pledge it will be taken off next year and we have a club over the government."

Rev. M. J. Hinchcliffe presented an amendment to the budget resolution and bitterly attacked the government for allowing discriminatory changes in the regulations regarding the Mothers' Pensions' Act. Hinchcliffe's amendment constitutes a motion of want of confidence.

Changes in the Pensions' Act he asserted result in great injustice to the women of British Columbia.

CARLISLE, Wales, Nov. 28.—After working waist high in water, battling the deadly blackdamp all night, rescue crews today were still struggling to reach nine miners trapped in Penlan Pit at Dunvant, when a sudden rush of water caused numerous roofs to fall.

Scores of miners escaped through water reaching to their necks and reached the outside safely.

The scene at the pithead was a touching one. Hundreds of women, relatives and friends of the trapped men, gathered there to keep vigil awaiting the arrival from below of those who did not come.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—Bobbed haired members of the choir of Mount Vernon Place Methodist Episcopal Church, South, have gone on strike as the result of their designation as "Bobbed-haired sissies" by the Rev. Burke Culpeper, a Memphis evangelist.

About half the choir is out. Undaunted, Culpeper is continuing to lambaste the ladies who have bobbed their locks.
