Better Things Coming. The summer holiday months are apt to be quiet in Prince action had been approved by the Rupert, and this summer seems likely to be no exception to the council and no question had been rule. There has been a little letup in the march forward but that raised until this particular teleis nothing to worry about.

Possibly Prince Rupert people will think we are unduly op-wrong at all times. He believed timistic over the future, but it seems desirable to state just now that the mayor like himself and that the future looks just as rosy as ever. The good things mentioned before will yet come and we shall find ourselves more prosperous this fall than we have been for a long time.

Strong People Are Those Who Can Wait.

Strong people are those who can wait. It must be admitted propriation. Ald. Casey said that that sometimes the wait is so long that it does not pay to linger, he had wriften to Mr. Stork on However in this case the wait will not be very long. Ald. Casey

In addressing the meeting Ald. Casey said he was sorry to seet this matter brought up again real harm was going to be done in trying to force this resolution hrough the council. The action was uncalled for and drastic. The mayor had been sending wires to first one and then the other approving or disapproving of certain action and up to to-day the gram had been sent. If a principle was wrong at one time it was many other people in the community was sadly disappointed when he saw the small appropriation that was passed for the proposed undertaking.
