DAILY EDITION

Monday, September 8, 1924.

This Week Is Exhibition Week.

This is Exhibition week and Prince Rupert people are asked to unite to make it a great success. Already there are many visitors in the city and many more are coming. It is the annual event which indicates what sort of people there are in the city.

Many citizens have been giving a great deal of time to making arrangements for the fair and all they ask is that people here make it the first thing for this week only. Let everything else be subordinate to the fair.

King Will Never Come Say Perennial Grousers.

The perennial grousers said when they heard Premier Mackenzie King was coming west that he would never come here. They also said the work on the road would stop as soon as the election was over. The same people are saying there is going to be a terribly dull time here this winter because of the close season in halibut.

The perennial grouser is a person to be ignored. Don't believe him. He is seldom right. Once now and then of course he is bound to be lucky and have a chance to gloat over some prophecy which has come true, but as a rule he is wrong.

The perennial grouser is saying we shall never have an elevator, that the town will never amount to anything, that the railway is killing business, that ships will not be built here. He is never enjoying himself unless he is seeing dull times ahead.

Give the grouser the gate. Let him have the merry ha, ha. He is no good to the city or to himself. No need to tell him he is useless. He knows that himself. Just let him know that you do not want to listen to his gibberish.

Complaints About Liquor Are Gambling.

The Daily News has received complaints that there is liquor selling and gambling going on at various places on Third Avenue. Chinese lotteries are said to be conducted and tickets sold openly. We know nothing about the truth or untruth of this matter but as this is fair week we should like to see the city kept as clean as possible, especially while the visitors are here. Those who are here for the fair will get a poor opinion of Prince Rupert if they see the law broken on our main thoroughfare. It is difficult for the police to attend to everything. The force is small and there is always extra work to do at a time like this. Possibly the commissioners will arrange for extra constables for the few days when the city is crowded.

Loss Is Theirs If Publicity Not Received.

If through failure to notify this paper, reports of events are not forthcoming, the loss is to the organization failing to report. This paper tries to keep in touch with all civic activities but once now and then, through no fault of ours, something is overlooked. The loss is not ours but theirs. Publicity is a valuable thing and the only possible way of getting it in Prince Rupert and district is through the columns of the Daily News.

THE BREAKING POINT OPENS HERE TONIGHT

Nita Naldi Seen in a Play Which Smacks of Melodrama

"The Breaking Point," Herbert Brenon's latest production here tonight is a mystery drama packed with action. Nita Naldi, Patsy Duth Miller, George Fawcett and Matt Moore are featured.

Moore plays the role of a reckless millionaire, Judson Clark, who is desperately in love with a popular actress, Beverly Carlyle. At Clark's Wyoming ranch, he and Beverly's husband quarrel; the lamp is overturned; a flash is seen in the dark, and the husband is found dead on the floor. Clark escapes into a snow-storm. He is found in a delirious condition by Dr. Livingstone who takes him to his home at Haverly. Just outside of New York and introduces him as his nephew.

Years go by, and the man becomes a successful physician. He becomes engaged to a young girl, Elizabeth Wheeler. One night at the theatre he is recognized, by Beverly Carlyle who faints upon the stage. From this point in the story, the old influences which he has forgotten begin once more to wind themselves around him. Schemes, of which he is the unconscious center, are formed by characters who see in his sudden reappearance a grave menace to their own safety and popularity.

The final clearing of the mystery forms a series of scenes which build to a dramatic climax.

GALSWORTHY STORY IS MID-WEEK FEATURE

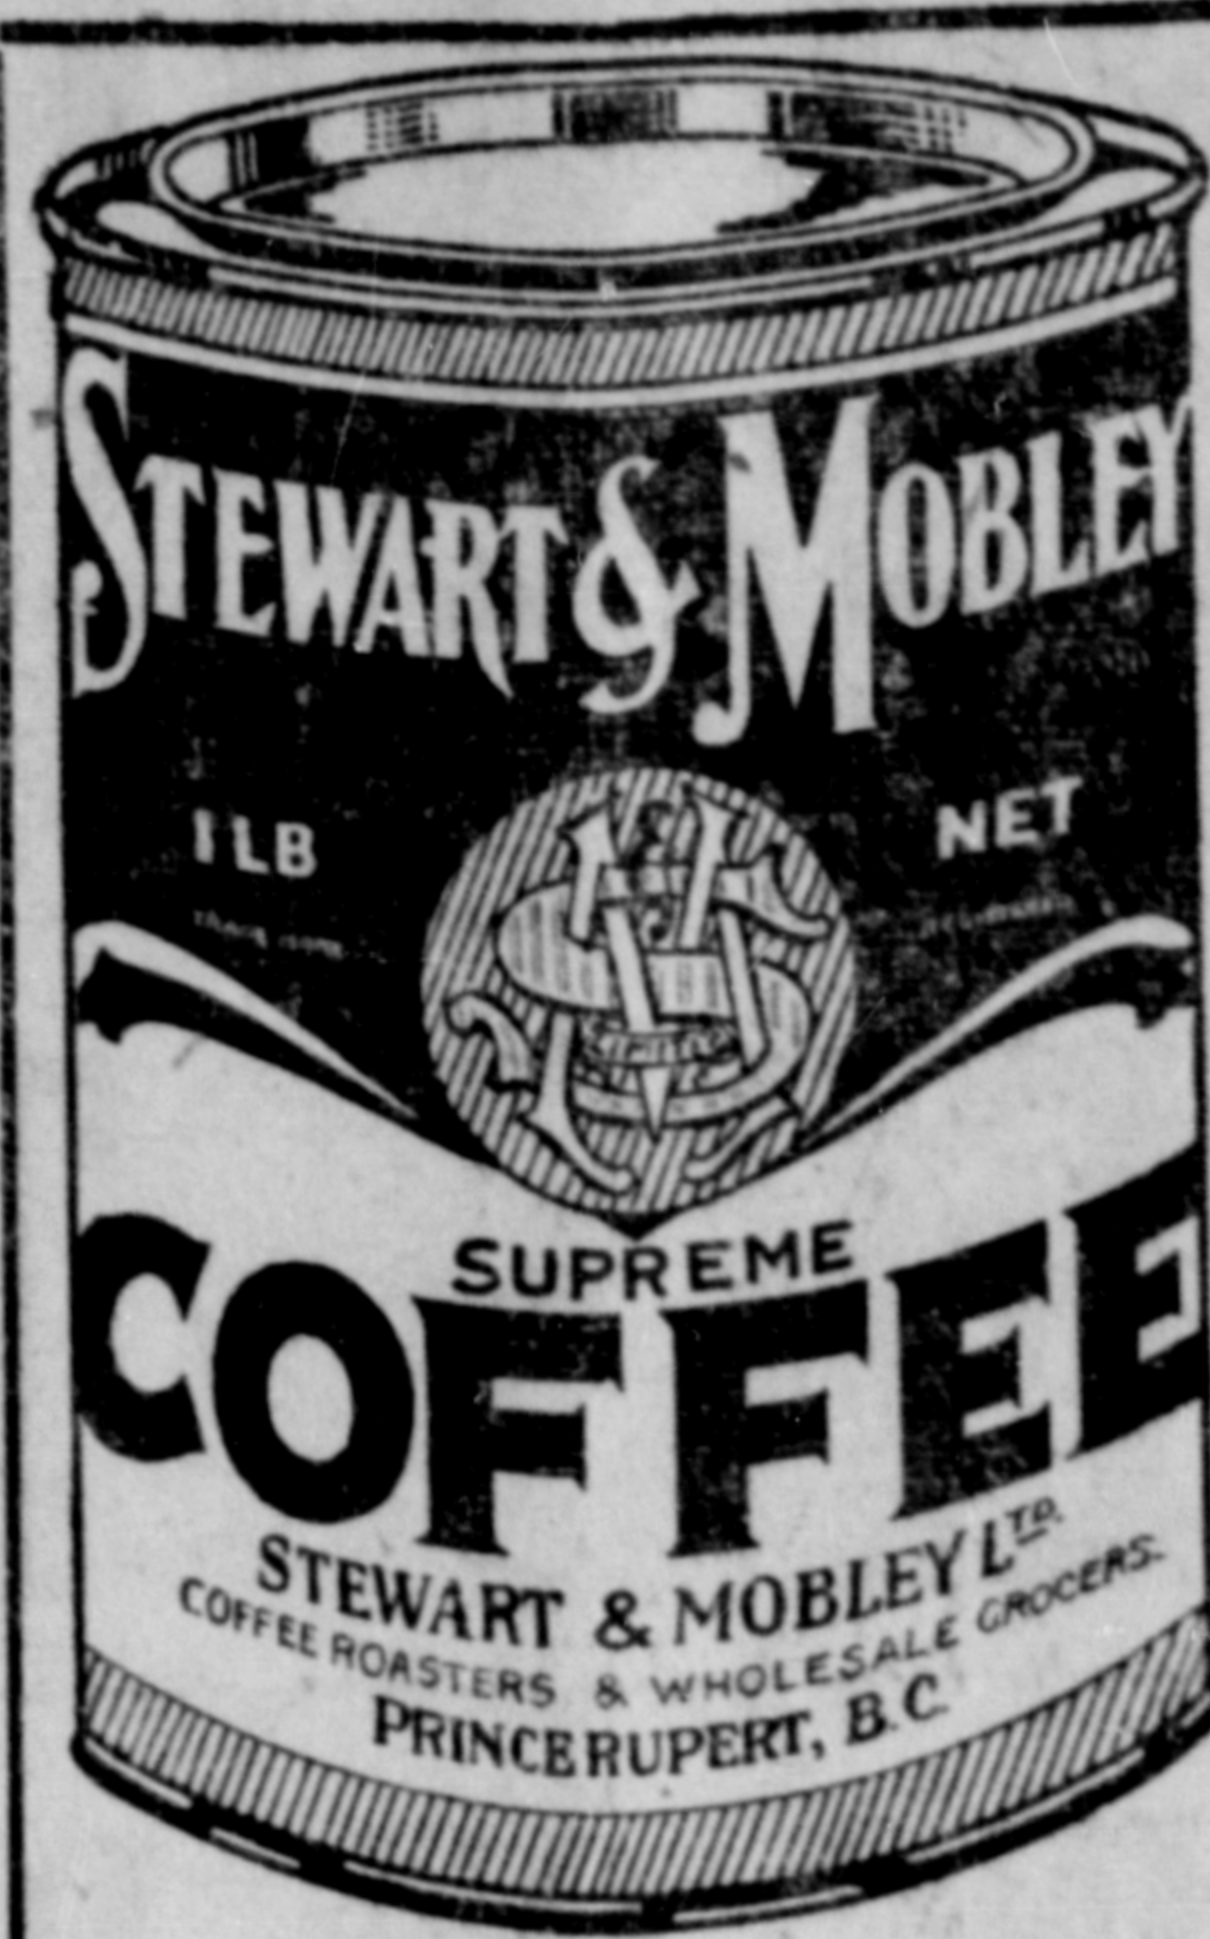

The Stranger to be Shown Here Featuring Betty Compson in Leading Role

John Galsworthy is one of the most famous living English novelists. Every book he writes is a best seller. "The Stranger" is the first production he has ever permitted to go directly to the screen.

Once in a great while, somebody takes all the old elements, love, romance, pathos, laughs, thrills—and makes a different kind of story out of them—John Galsworthy has done all of this and more.

There is no living author who can unfold a tale with more amazing insight into the human heart than John Galsworthy. For development of plot combined with heart-interest he has no peer.

"The Stranger," adapted from his story, "The First and the Last," for sheer dramatic strength will not be equalled by any picture this season. There is drama in every foot, pathos, and thence to Skidegate Inlet.

ORIGINAL RANCH OF STORY TO BE SHOWN

Week End Showing at Local Theatre is "When a Man's a Man" by Harold Bell Wright

This week end at the local theatre, many of the readers of Harold Bell Wright's popular novel, "When a Man's a Man," will have the opportunity of seeing the real Cross Triangle Ranch of the story, the real Williamson Valley, the real Thumb Butte Mountain, and the real Bunk House. For "When a Man's a Man" was filmed in the exact locale about which Wright wrote the story of "Patches."

It was while on a camping trip in the Arizona mountains that Harold Bell Wright conceived this story of the regeneration of a man's soul. The author drew his characters from some of the inhabitants of the mining town of Prescott, Arizona, and many of these were still living in the same spots described in the story when the motion picture company landed in Prescott.

It was an easy matter for the players to fall into the mood of the story, for they did not have to imagine that mountain over there was Thumb Butte—it was Thumb Butte. And they were in the real bunk house, the real corral, riding the identical drift fence and ranges of the story.

Director Edward Cline invited the co-operation and assistance of the inhabitants of the town and Williamson Valley, in the filming of the picture, and much technical perfection and realism was added to the picture through the interest of the ranch people.

Ernie Unwin returned to the city from Skidegate on the Prince John Saturday afternoon. He went to Port Clements at the first of the week and went over the Mexican Tom trail to Tlil River and thence to Skidegate Inlet.

The barge Donald D. of the Canadian Fish & Cold Storage Co. was towed into port, last night by the trawler G. E. Foster after having been held up for a month at Union Bay on order of the navy department. It brought 2,000 tons of coal which Capt. Grady, the master, agrees, might have proved tempting to any German cruisers that may be lurking around the coast.
