Two Captains in One Boat

Being an account of a trip to the Ecstall River as recounted by Newton Pullen of Victoria under the nom de plume of Marcus Drexell in the Victoria Colonist. The next article of the series appears soon.

VISIT TO MUDDY CREEK.

We were heading down the Ecstall in fine style when the engine gave up and sutked. While the Other Captain tried to restore it to life, I took my place at the sweep which still served as a rudder, and guided the Gwen as she drifted with the current.

The outstanding fact about this performance was that we had We reached the spot where it purposely started early in order ought to be, but there was not a to reach Muddy Creek before the canoe in sight.
