ALREADY FURNACES FOR SMALL SMELTER ARRIVE IN THE CITY

Larger Smelting Outfit Ordered and May be Installed on Graham Island

Incorporation of the P. B. C. (Pennsylvania-British Columbia) Mines Co. Ltd., with capitalization of $100,000 and operating headquarters in Prince Rupert, is being effected this week at Victoria according to announcement made today by G. E. Cabrera, M.E., manager of the company and engineer in charge. The company will proceed with the development and operation of mining properties which it owns on Graham Island and in the interior. It is a private company and has no stock for sale. The principals are the wealthy and well-known Block estate of Baltimore, Maryland, and Fifelester estate of Philadelphia. Mr. Cabrera is also a stockholder.

The British Columbia Company is practically a branch of an American corporation which owns and operates mining properties in the Wind River canyon, Wyoming. Mr. Cabrera came here from Wyoming last year to look after the B.C. operations and has taken up his residence in Prince Rupert.

The company has silver lead and placer lands in the Omineca district and a camp is to be established this spring on Kitwanga Creek to work a property there. The most important operations of the company at the present time, however, are to be carried out on Graham Island. To produce gold bullion from a gold mine there, a small smelter is now being put in and two furnaces for it have already arrived here. A larger Allis-Chalmers smelting outfit has been ordered by the company and, if the operation of the small plant at Graham Island proves a success, it will be installed there. Otherwise it will be established at Prince Rupert to take care of ore from the interior.

By next week 16 men will be employed by the company at Graham Island. Mr. Cabrera is leaving for there on Saturday evening.

British Government Prepares for Emergency Service if Strike Continues in London Unsettled

LONDON, March 27.—An emergency committee of the government is preparing immediately to present proposals for an emergency service during the transportation strike. Premier Ramsay MacDonald stated yesterday in the House of Commons. The premier said he hoped it would not be necessary to take action since it was understood the points in dispute had been considerably reduced.

There was no sign of a settlement last night and with the threatened lockout in the shipbuilding trade and a dispute with the coal miners unsettled, the ministry seems destined to have its hands full.

The exact date of the shipbuilding lockout will be decided next Tuesday.

BANK PRESIDENT DIED SUDDENLY

Sir Edmund Walker, Head of Bank of Commerce, was Outstanding Figure in Canadian Finance

TORONTO, March 27.—Sir (Byron) Edmund Walker, president of the Canadian Bank of Commerce and one of the most outstanding figures in Canadian banking and financial circles, died this morning after a few days illness from pneumonia. He was in his seventy-sixth year and his last illness was the only serious one in his life. The funeral will take place next Wednesday.

Few bankers in this country have been so many-sided as was Sir Edmund Walker. He was eminent not only in his profession of finance, but as an art connoisseur and a public spirited citizen. He was a lover of the aesthetic, and he possessed literary tastes of an exceptionally high order. His was a busy life to the end. While he possessed the qualities, with his fine sensibilities and culture, which might have made retirement from the worries and responsibilities of the financial world a real delight in his latter years, he remained in the arena of business. More than that, he apparently had the faculty of extracting sunbeams from the shadows which flitted across the financial horizon in his chosen sphere of usefulness, and to take time to indulge in the finer things of life.

The ladies have in hand the sum of $1,000 toward the organ fund in addition to the building fund.

Vancouver and Victoria People buy much Timber in Bella Coola Valley

Assembling nearly 100 private owners of timber limits on a river near Bella Coola, Cosgrove Brothers of this city have engineered a deal whereby a syndicate of British Columbia legal and businessmen have acquired nearly a billion feet of the best standing timber in the province.

The new company is made up of prominent men in law and business. E. C. Mayers, the prominent counsel of Vancouver, is president and J. C. Clausen is managing director. Directors consist of Alderman A. E. Todd of Victoria; H. A. Ross, formerly a grocer in the same city; H. J. Davis, Hugh Ferguson, and A. E. Cosgrove.

A. E. Todd and R. P. Butchart, the latter being the Victoria cement magnate and owner of the famous Butchart Gardens, both interested in the company, have also taken over the Bella Coola Logging Company and will spend $250,000 this spring in perfecting the plant.
