Close-set frills of narrow lace, or of plain or point d'Esprit footing are one of the new trimmings of the Summer for lingerie or thin silk

NARROW frills of lace set close together to give the effect of a collar, and quite covering the shallow yoke and its kimono sleeves, make a type of lingerie frock that one sees frequently in the smart shops of Fifth Avenue. The trimming of the neck to take away the hard, plain edge of the bateau outline is one of the important notes of the new styles. Of course one still sees the collarless neck; in fact, this same frock is sometimes made of printed cotton voile or crêpe de Chine with the yoke of a plain material quite untrimmed except for a piping.

Prosperous advertising means regular continuous advertising.

How about those pictures you made Sunday?

Better bring the films here for developing and printing.

You want them developed correctly, printed properly, and returned promptly. That is the kind of Kodak finishing service we render.
