"Eczema on My Face Completely Relieved"

Miss Winifred Ernest, Box 46, Blockhouse, N. S., writes:

"Ever since I was a little child, I suffered with eczema on my face. At times my face was completely covered with large sores, and I tried nearly every kind of medicine that I heard of with no results. This lasted for over twenty years, until one day I asked the advice of my druggist, who bade me give Dr. Chase's Ointment a trial. After using the Ointment for a few days, the sores began to heal, and soon I was completely relieved of the disease."

FASHIONS & FOIBLES

A charming frock of the new cherry brandy red silk crêpe has a catch in its side of flowers above a cascade at the hip.

THE young girl of to-day keeps to the same excessively simple day-time wardrobe as the older woman. But for tea, luncheons, weddings, etc., she must have a frock of rather formal character—something with drapery probably, and a new sleeve which, by the way, can be sewed into an entirely separate lining and left out when one wants to use the frock as a dinner or theater dress. For such double duty you must choose a color that looks well by daylight and evening light. Red is smart for both and so is Lanvin green, French gray or string color or a soft blue.

The name of Jack Barnsley, local radio expert, is given prominent mention in an account recently published in the New York Times of an address by Donald McMillan, the Arctic explorer. It was through Mr. Barnsley's set in Prince Rupert that for some time the McMillan expedition was able to maintain its only radio connection with the outside world. The frequent mention made of Prince Rupert by Capt. McMillan in this regard is valuable publicity for the city.
