Two Big Steamships to Load Lumber at Swanson Bay but Have to Pay Heavy Insurance;

Two big ships are to load lumber at Swanson Bay. The S.S. Sugura will load 2,500,000 feet of spruce and hemlock for New York going into berth on April 10 and she will be followed by the S.S. Capto which will take a million feet of hemlock squares to Japan. H. R. McMillan & Co. are the shippers.

One difficulty in shipping lumber from Swanson Bay is the heavy insurance which has to be paid and which prevents most vessels going there. Everything north of latitude 51 is affected. Norwegian ships built north of 51 are exempt from this ruling.

Tragic Death Takes Captain Freeman: Body Found Lying Beside Engine in Own Boat

Death towards the end of last week closed the picturesque career of Capt. Hoomes K. Freeman, owner and master of the launch Narbethoug and one of the best known mariners in British Columbia waters. After the many adventures and unique incidents which marked the fast eighteen years of his life, which he spent in Prince Rupert and the vicinity of the port, following age, a car inspector, and his wife the small boat business, his demise came in a manner both tragic of the same age were found on and unexpected.
