Police Constable Alex Macdonald submitted a bid of $25 to the police commission yesterday afternoon for the motorcycle, use of which has been discontinued by the department. Deciding that no less than $50 would be entertained, action on the matter was left in the hands of the chief. The motor-cycle three years ago cost the city $250 in addition to $15 freight getting it here from Vancouver and some $50 repairs after that. Commissioner Montgomery suggested that the motorcycye be given as a Christmas present to the parties who had been responsible for bringing it here.

SAILOR GIRL TAKES COURSE

Is One of Cadets on Soviet Training Ship Calling at English Port

LONDON, Eng., Dec. 12. — A weather-beaten ship a Bolshevik sailing vessel, having arrived in harbor here a "Daily News" reporter, investigating certain rumors of propaganda, found nothing abnormal, but something rather interesting.

The ship rarried 64 people, 35 of them cadets, who were learning navigation on the instructions of the Soviet government. Classes are held in the chart room every day.

One of the most interesting persons is a pretty Russian girl of about 23. She is fourth officer and wears workaday clothes to suit her nautical position. She is a pratical navigator and is to travel all around the world in this small sailing vessel. Eventually she will command a Soviet merchantman.
