Nature Does Much

For This Country. Nature does much for this north country even if at times she is a little stern and forbidding. Take as an instance the forests from which so much of the wealth of Canada is taken. in public speaking is seen in They are provided without any sowing or preparing of land, and whether he knows enough to stop. once the timber is taken off Nature sets to work again and re- before the audience becomes plants the land with almost a carpet of young trees. In an address given before the Rotary Club last week, P. Z. ment on foot to abolish the laws Caverhill, chief forester for British Columbia, drew attention to against blasphemy. Apparently the way in which the townsite of Prince Rupert is being re-some of the English people find claimed by the forest. On most of the vacant land, young trees the orthodox language insumhave sprung up and are growing fast.

Now and then some person who does not know the country is heard to remark how no steps are taken to replant the forests suppose the English people following the cutting down of the trees. People who say any-were to add swearing to the prething like that show their ignorance. Nature provides for the sent habits of hard drinking and replanting, but the menace to the country is the frequency of smoking, Jake says they would forest fires. One fire will not destroy the seeds. Community Hike Is Latest Thing.

In Victoria recently a community hike was organized. Some IT seems as it missionaries Recent arrivals from Victoria hundred and fifty people took part in it. Dishwashing—with dainty hands

OT possible, you say? Perhaps it wasn't, before Lux was discovered for dishwashing. But now, Lux, with its instant soapy suds, not only cleans your dishes thoroughly, but is as easy on the hands as the finest toilet soap.

Ordinary soaps or washing powders are too hard on the skin, making it rough and red. The ingredients in Lux are helpfulto the hands and skin-the Lux suds if constantly used will keep the skin smooth as Nature intended. You can do your own dishes. and not be ashamed of your hands, because they will never show that they have been in the dishpan.

Just a single teaspoonful is sufficient for your breakfast or lunch dishes-you may possibly have to use two teaspoonfuls for your dinner dishes. Try it just once. You will be so delighted that you will want to use it always.

Lux is economical for all dish-washing. One packet contains sufficient for 54 dish-washings-nearly all the dishes for three weeks.

Your hands will show improvement at once. Keep a package of Lux handy on your kitchen shelf. Use it for all your dishes.

Lux is sold only in sealed packets-dust proof!
