NEW CUSTOMS SURVEYOR AT VICTORIA IS KNOWN WELL IN NORTH COUNTRY

C. A. Tervo Went to Atlin Via Hazelton in 1898 — Later Was Official

VICTORIA, May 14. — C. A. Tervo has been chosen by the Civil Service Commission at Ottawa as surveyor of customs and excise for the port of Victoria.

Mr. Tervo has served in the local customs department as assistant appraiser since the retirement of Mr. McLean in 1921. His selection from amongst eleven applicants for the post of surveyor, after a career with the customs dating back to 1904, will be hailed with satisfaction in customs and shipping circles alike.

In 1898 Mr. Tervo was one of a party of sixteen, representing the Alaskan Mining and Mercantile Company, which made the long trek from Ashcroft to Atlin through the interior of the province, following news of the discovery of gold near the northern city. With forty-five pack horses the party first journeyed to Quesnel over the old Cariboo Road. Thence it wound its way to Hazelton over an Indian trail. After crossing the Ground Hog Mountains the inland voyagers reached Telegraph Creek in March. From this point to Atlin they travelled with hundreds of gold seekers over long leagues of snow and ice, reaching their objective without casualties though scores of fellow trekers perished on the way from scurvy and exposure.

Ran Several Stores

After assisting in the establishment of three stores at Atlin, Mr. Tervo came south again in 1900 and opened a store at Stickeen. Four years later he was appointed sub-collector of customs for the outport of Stickeen. By arrangement between the customs department and the provincial authorities he assumed the duties, in addition, of deputy game warden and deputy mining recorder for the lower Stickeen division.

In 1912 he was transferred to the Victoria division of the customs. Through the posts of landingwaiter, warehouse keeper, and customs postal computing clerk he worked up to the position of assistant appraiser in 1921.

SAILORS MUST SWIM

LONDON, May 14. — An admirality fleet order states that the laxity in swimming proficiency, which obtained during the war, "will no longer be tolerated." The order adds that "a person in the navy who neglects to learn to swim is potentially selfish because, should he be involved in an accident, he usually causes some courageous person to risk his life in trying to save him."

DOCKING AT ESQUIMALT

C.G.M.M. steamer Canadian British arrived at Esquimalt from the Orient at the end of last week and is being dry docked there for repairs.

CAN NO LONGER EVADE TAX BY RESIDING OUT OF UNITED KINGDOM

LONDON, May 14. — Britons who have for many years been living abroad for six months of the year in order to evade the income tax collector, received a shock on reading in their papers that the Inland Revenue department officials are after them.

This method of tax evasion has become so widespread that action had become necessary. Every bank in Great Britain and Northern Ireland has been circularized announcing that whether a man lives abroad six months in the year or not, his income must be taxed.

The residential qualification applies only to persons coming here from the Dominions or a foreign country who do not have to pay income tax if they stay less than six months. The authorities expect to gather in hundreds of thousands of pounds in taxes from Britons who are dodging payment by temporary residence in Europe.

Los Angeles Timber Products steamer El Abeto arrived at Buckley Bay last night to load lumber for San Pedro.
