The Man in the Moon SAYS—

YOU have heard of the man who advertised for a job, explaining that he was "intelligent but married." He wasn't.

A BUSINESSMAN said his town was so quiet you could hear the night falling and the day breaking. Later his firm went to smash with such a crash you could hear the echo.

A MAN who pays the bills his wife contracted before the wedding pays for the bait with which he was caught.

THERE are two kinds of bores, the one who tells you he can go the eighteen in eighty-four and the wretch who is always lying about the distant stations he gets on his radio.

NOW that the artificial excitement of New Year's Day is all gone let us take a solemn oath that we will not lie about what we intend to do until another bottle is opened on January 1, 1925.

IT was the man who advertised for a wife who said afterwards he was not sure advertising always paid but it certainly brought results.

WHEN you are offered an interest in the business be sure it does not mean that if you do not take more interest in it pretty soon you will be fired.

POSSIBLY it was not in one of the local telegraph offices where the man burst in excitedly and wired his wife's relatives "Twins today; more tomorrow."

BASKETBALL LAST NIGHT

Games Were Not Close and Competition Not Very Keen

As far as competition was concerned, last night's league basketball games were rather mediocre affairs. The winners in each case had things pretty well all their own way and the losers did not offer much to contend with. The Sons of Canada won the Senior League game from the Teachers 67 to 22; Grotto beat Elks 31 to 19 in the Intermediate League; the Adanaes were victorious 22 to 8 over the Kaiens in the Ladies' League, and the Golls took the Junior League fixture from the Blue Birds by 23 to 16.

Line-ups and scoring of the evening were as follows:

Senior League
Sons of Canada—R. B. Skinner (2), V. Menzies, 7; H. Menzies (2), 22; D. Balfour (1), 30; H. Astori, 8.—Total 67.
Teachers—D. H. Hartness, C. Woodworth (2), A. Lane (1), 8; J. Mitchell (1), 8; W. Lambie, 6; S. Hurn (1)—Total, 22.
E. A. Mann was referee.

Intermediate League
Grotto—W. Gray (1), T. Fraser (3), 3; W. Wrathall (1), 19; G. Anderson (1), 1; A.

SPORT CHAT

The Canadian Olympic hockey team is well balanced in every department. The members have been playing together for a month or more and, as regulars, performed together last season. Team play, it is thus expected, will predominate. In this respect, the Canadian squad will have it all over the all-star selects from the United States. Cameron and Collett, who are available for goal duty, are both high class performers. Ramsay and Munro on the defence are ranked as the two best in the game in Canada. Smith, who plays centre, can also move to the defence if necessary. The forward line of Smith at centre, McCaffery at right wing and Harry Watson at left is experienced, fast and clever. McMunn, the Winnipeg boy, secured to help out the forward line, is the best in Western Canada in his position. Slater, the Montreal lad, who will work at centre and left wing, is the best in the Montreal area.

The Intercollegiate Basketball League of the United States, which opens its fourteenth season in New York tonight when Columbia and Pennsylvania five
