ANOTHER MAN FOR PRESIDENT

Washington Resident Sets Forth an Interesting Program on Which he asks to be Elected

SEATTLE, July 17.—At Prosser in this state is a man who wishes to be president of the United States. His name is J. J. Kennedy and he has put himself forward as a candidate with the following program which is unique and interesting:

1. Limiting inheritance to $25,000.
2. Grading and limitation of land holding.
3. The government doing all the banking business.
4. The elimination of the idler and the parasite.
5. The abolition of capital punishment.
6. The abolition of the board of trade and stock exchange.
7. A uniform divorce law.
8. Government and employes to own all public utilities on 50-50 basis.
9. The principle of self-confession for offense against the law.
10. The application of the Golden Rule as the law of all adjustments.
11. Every person assessing his own property with right of government or individual to take same at 10 per cent or 20 per cent above given in value in 30 or 60 days; the property not given in becoming the state's.
12. The abolition of life insurance.
13. The abolition of tobacco with the death of this generation.
14. The limitation of the power of money to earn wealth or fortune; giving it its proper function—the exchange of things of actual value. Its earning power to be made democratic through government banks only, that will loan at 5 per cent and pay 3 per cent on deposits.

RETAILERS MEET AT DINNER IN BOSTON

McMeekin Presides and About Thirty Local Businessmen Are Present

Tre regular monthly meeting of the Retail Merchants' Association took the form of a dinner in the Boston dining hall last night. The meeting was a very successful one about 30 members being in attendance. T. McMeekin, president of the association, was in the chair and several business matters affecting the welfare of the retail merchants were discussed. At the conclusion of the business discussion a short musical program was indulged in. C. F. Joslin contributed banjo solos and community singing was joined in heartily to the piano accompaniment of Sid Thompson.

FASHIONS & FOIBLES

by Shirley Sharon

Cricket flannel trimmed gaily with blazer stripes of braid is an English sports cousin that has met with a great welcome in fashionable American circles.

For Summer sports dresses quite the smartest material is the so-called "cricket" flannel used in plain colors or in white trimmed with bright bands, or in the characteristic wide blazer stripes trimmed with a plain color, or with the blouse of the stripe and the straight skirt of the plain flannel. Gray and bran-colored flannels are trimmed with yellow; tomato, henna, Lanvin and powder blue with white; white with red and yellow, with yellow and royal blue or with apple green and brick-dust. The skirt is narrow for tennis but very nice for golf.

BRIGHT FUTURE FOR BUILDING TRADE HERE

Carpenters' Union Hears Address from International Representative at Meeting Last Night

The regular semi-monthly meeting of the Carpenter's Union was held last night in the Carpenter's Hall, Chas. Taylor, president, in the chair. During the evening an address was given by Thomas Davis, International representative from the Carpenter's Union of British Columbia, of Victoria. In his address Mr. Davis incidentally illustrated the importance of grain elevators to a port. In reviewing the employment situation for carpenters in Vancouver he stated that at times there were as many as 600 carpenters employed in connection with the wheat carrying fleet for weeks at a stretch. Mr. Davis predicted a bright future for the building trades in this province.

SURPRISE PARTY FOR MR. AND MRS. D. ROSS

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Ross, 861 Summit Avenue, was stormed last night by fifteen people and successfully held, the occasion being a surprise party. The evening was delightfully spent in dancing, music, and community singing. Delicious refreshments were served at midnight after which dancing continued until the early hours. A happy evening was brought to a close with the singing of "They are jolly good fellows." Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Dave Ross, Mr. and Mrs. Andy McDonald, H. C. Gill, E. A. Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. Sid Reith, W. McCallum, Sid Webb, H. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Sturgeon, Miss Elizabeth Sturgeon and K. S. McQuaid.

Sport Chat

The second game in the Stuart Shield series is scheduled to take place this evening, on the Acropolis Hill grounds, between the Sons of England and the G.W.A.V. With the exception of Campbell in the half back line, who is replaced by Macpherson, the Vets have the same team in the field as annexed the coveted Dominion Day cup and if the team plays up to form it will doubtless give its worthy opponents a good run. However, that assumption is problematical as the Sons of England have rearranged their team and it is on the cards they may turn the tables on the soldiers. The game will doubtless be one well worth watching and a good crowd of soccer enthusiasts should be on hand to witness the struggle. T. Jones will referee the game.

The following teams will be fieldede:

Sons of England: Shenton, goal; Lambe and Dick Howe, full backs; Hodgkinson, Cameron and Bales, half backs; Geo. Hill, jr.; Mathieson, P. Tinker, Dickens and Geo. Howe, forwards.

G.W.V.A. — Knox, goal; Lord and Barton, full backs; Macpherson, Murray and Hunter, half backs; Robertson, Russell, Norwood, W. Mitchell, Johnson, forwards. Reserves: Findlay, Campbell and Gurvich.

A word of advice to beginners in the art of swimming will not be out of place at this season of the year. While the weather has not been particularly inviting of late for swimming from the outlook today it would seem that we are in for a spell of sunshine when undoubtedly many people will be at the lake.

When a person is just able to swim enough to keep the head out of the water he is apt to disregard all caution and get too far out of his depth, thereby causing unnecessary effort in getting back to the float and swallowing a lot of water. This sort of thing is apt to shake confidence in himself. It is always a good plan to take a leader into the water and then swim directly back to the float.

A beginner should never swim away from land but always toward it. The same thing applies to those who are not far enough advanced to plunge into deep water. In this case they should walk out until they begin to feel their feet rising and then make their swimming efforts to the shore. In this way their feet will always be able to reach bottom and they will be safe. When the hands and feet begin to numb it is always wise to leave the water and take a brisk rub down with the towel.

The following courteous letter was received last night:

Editor Daily News.

re "Sport Chat"

I am entirely in agreement with the spirit which prompted the article in tonight's paper, and as I was the player who committed the foul against Alex. Mitchell, I desire to convey through your paper my deep regret for my action. I lost control of myself and apologize for my unsportsmanlike conduct. I have learned my lesson and hope to play the game in future.

ANDREW MURRAY,
Callies Goalkeeper.
