FOUND BODY IN UNCANNY MANNER

Natives Have First Contact With Civilization and are Filled With Wonder and Suspicion

Under guard of a detachment of Royal Canadian Mounted Police in the steerage of the steamer Princess Alice there is entering the realmy of civilization for the first time four Indian men and a squaw from the upper reaches of the Liard River who day and, besides, made a home, will go to trial for the murder of an Indian lad. Having traversed run in the fifth inning with from Liard to Telegraph Greek, over the great divide between the Mackenzie and Stikine River systems, a distance of something like 265 miles by canoe and on foot and thence 160 miles down the Stikine River by gasboat, the party of Indians and police passed through here yesterday afternoon bound for Okalla Prison. The prisoners are box three brothers, Dan, Jimmy and Clem, and another Indian, Big Aleck, Their escort consists of Inspector T. V. Sandys-Wunsch and Constables H. W. Neville and C. R. Mar tin of Vancouver.

Strange Case

The murder case, in which these five Indians are involved. and which may be heard in Prince Rupert at the next Assizes, will be one of the strangest that has ever come up in the British Columbia courts. Be-

William Grady, who with Henry Ford made the discovery of placer gold on Gold Pan Creek which led to a stampede into the Dease Lake district, was a passenger going through on the Princess Alice yesterday afternoon bound for his home in Peterborough, Ontario, where he will spend the winter.

"I would not advise anybody to try to get into that district now," said Mr. Grady in speaking to a Daily News representative. "There are already many prospectors there from Wrangell and Telegraph Creek and there is apt to be a food as well as water
