To most of today's players, a two heart response to an opening no trump bid indicates weakness. Usually, the opening not Mr. Fusty. If he can sup- Commodore Cafe! port your suit, he raises. If your suit is his weakness, he will go on in no trump. His theory is that if you're weak, the best way to show it is to pass.

Mr. Dale had an acceptable opening bid himself in today's deal. But, knowing his partner, he responded with only two hearts to the opening no trump bid. As expected, Mr. Fusty raised and Mr. Dale went on to

It was far from a laydown. Mrs. Keen cashed the king and ace of spades and led a third round of the suit which Mr. Dale trumped. First, he had to play the heart suit right. He led the ace first, then the nine to dummy's king. On the second trump lead Mrs. Keen showed out, discarding a diamond and proving the finesses against Mr. Champion's Mr. Dale led a third heart, finessing the ten, and cashed the queen of hearts, sluffing a small diamond from the board. Next he cashed three rounds of clubs and was happy to see Mr.

Champion drop the jack on the last round. Now he led the seven of diamonds and played the five from dummy. Mr. Champion won with the ten but had nothing left by diamonds. His lead into dummy's ace-queen gave Mr. Dale his ten tricks and game.
