GULCH EXPLORED BY A STUDENT

Wins Prize for Swimming Through Underground Cavern and Exploring it

WONDERFUL GALLERY

Petrified Animals Seen in Grotto and Many Statues of Clay

PARIS, Feb. 14.— Some interesting and thrilling stories are told in connection with the feats of some of the unsuccessful candidates for the Grand Prix of the Academy des Sports, but they are overshadowed by the publicity given to the feat of the winner. The prize for 1923 recently awarded to Alain Gerbault, a noted tennis player, went to him only after a spirited debate of the jury, some of whose members favored Norbert Casteret, a student at the University of Toulouse.

The prize is awarded annually to the man or men accomplishing a sporting exploit in France by a Frenchman or foreigner, or abroad by a Frenchman alone, likely to result in a material, scientific or moral progress for humanity. Gerbault won the prize by making a trip across the Atlantic in a 30-foot sloop.

Enters Mountain

In the region of St. Martory, Department of the Haute Garonne, a brook enters the north side of a mountain 1,500 feet in altitude, runs through a gulch regarded as impenetrable, and emerges on the southern slope of the mountain. On August 23, 1923, Casteret, a strong swimmer and expert diver, decided to explore the brook. Before taking the leap into the unknown, Casteret made his will. Then armed only with candles, adequately protected from the water, to dispel the darkness of the subterranean cavern, the young student dived in.

The distance between the spot where the water disappears into the mountain to its outlet on the other side measures three-quarters of a mile. For three hours friends awaited in anxiety at the mouth of the grotto.

Smile of Victory

Suddenly, dripping with muddy water, dishevelled and haggard, but with the grim smile of victory on his features, the student was shot out of the mountain into the arms of his exuberant friends.

He told a remarkable story of courage and energy. Fighting against the current, swimming to the vacillating light of the candle, Casteret, in many places of the grotto where the water met with the roof of stone, had to halt. Ignorant as to whether the brook, which in these spots assumed exactly the appearance of a huge pipe completely filled with rushing water, would again after a few feet widen and the swimmer find open air above his head, he had to decide whether to turn back or to chance the long swim under water. He chose the latter.

His courage was rewarded for after a swim under water, which he reckoned at about 70 feet, he emerged into a dry gallery about six hundred feet long and quite high above his head.

Wonderful Grotto

In this grotto Casteret declared he discovered a wonderful prehistoric museum. Upon the walls of the cavern, engraved as if with sharp instruments or painted were mysterious characters, in a language which Casteret had never before seen or heard of. Statues of clay, some of them well preserved, depicted animals which have long since disappeared from the surface of Europe. Two of these, that of a bear and a tiger, which Casteret said must have dated at least as far back as 20,000 years, were so lifelike and well preserved, that he was of the opinion that the live animals had become petrified with the clay of the earth in the course of some cataclysm.

Some of the members of the jury argued that while the exploit of Casteret from a spectacular point of view did not compare with that of Gerbault, it had far more value from a scientific side. They were overruled.

The Elks are at present leading the Fraternal Whist League but only by virtue of the fact that they have played one more game than the Moose. The former team has ten victories and three losses to its credit while the latter has nine wins and the same number of defeats. The Sons of England and Great War Veterans are occupying third and fourth places respectively and each still have good chances to end up at the top before the season's competition is over. The Knights of Pythias and St. Andrew's are also still in the running but with a rather long handicap of losses against them while the chances of Oddfellows, Sons of Canada and Knights of Columbus might already be said to have gone. Tonight the Sons of England meet the Knights of Columbus, the Knights of Pythias the Elks and the Moose the Oddfellows. The game between the Great War Veterans and St. Andrew's Society was played last night.

Several alterations have been made in the starting line at the track of the Indianapolis Motor Speedway where the annual 500 mile international sweepstakes automobile race is to be held on May 30. Although only one automobile race a year is held at the speedway, a corps of workmen are given year-round employment to keep the place in condition. While the next contest is still four months away, much of the routine in connection with it is already being handled. Entry blanks have already been issued for the May race.

Mrs. Louis Viau, Canadian sportswoman whose racing stables played so prominent part in American racing circles a year or so ago, is planning a comeback according to the New York Morning Telegraph. Mrs. Viau is said to be planning a big year on the tracks in the vicinity of New York. There will be fifteen two-year olds in her stable in addition to Audacious and Ten Lec. Mrs. Viau has also acquired the services of Jack Baker, one of the leading western trainers and has secured Jockey Earl Pool to do the riding for the stable.

Brick Skinner of Prince Rupert and Red Campbell of Ketchikan, principals in the main bout at the boxing tournament to be held in the Empress Theatre on Tuesday evening next, are in hard training. The bout will be a six three minute round affair and the men will box at 158 pounds. Both boxers have an enviable record in the roped arena and are out to add further laurels to their crowns. Red Campbell has established training quarters in the Elks' gymnasium and George Hill of Victoria, a well known bantamweight, is responsible for his condition. Tommy Fraser is assisting him as sparring partner. Brick Skinner, the local boy, is working hard at the gymnasium of the 1st Bn. North B.C. Regiment being assisted by Johnny Gurvich, Tommy Sherman, Jack Sherman, Joe Beasley and Joe Williams. Both participants in the main bout are confident of victory and the fight fans should witness one of the finest exhibitions of boxing ever staged in the north. J. Morrison will be referee according to present plans.
