"The Enchanted Cottage"

An adaptation of Sir Arthur Wing Pinero's famous play of that name. A picture of rare beauty and artistry, a picture enchanting, fascinating, one that will charm you with it's magic spell—one you will never forget. The story of a boy and girl the world thought homely; they thought so themselves; then through the power of love they became beautiful, for beauty comes from the soul. It shines through the eyes; it illuminates the face.

Alfred Hickman, Holmes E. Herbert, Florence Short, Marion Coakley and excellent cast.

NOTICE.

WHEREAS under the provisions of the Royalty Act, Chapter 76, Statutes 1914, the royalty on timber to be collected beginning January 1st, 1925, will, from information now available, be more than three times the royalty now being collected;

AND WHEREAS urgent representations have been made that this increase in royalty is much heavier than the industry can bear;

AND WHEREAS the representations made have gone so far as to say that any attempt to collect this royalty beginning January 1st next as upon the basis of the present Royalty Act would immediately result in a shutdown of the entire industry in the Province;

NOTICE is hereby given that a public hearing upon this question will be held in the Executive Chamber, Parliament Buildings, Victoria, before the Executive Council or such Members thereof as may be then present, beginning at 10 o'clock Wednesday, September 3rd next.

Anyone who has any evidence to submit or representations to make on the question of timber Royalties will be given opportunity to be heard and the public is requested to take notice accordingly.

ELEVATOR ARCHITECT WITHDRAWS ACTION IN CASE AGAINST MAYOR

EDMONTON, Aug. 13.—Action entered in the local courts on May 5 last by C. D. Howe and company, elevator engineers of Port Arthur, Ont., against Mayor K. A. Blatchford for a stated sum of $45,000 for non-return of a set of plans and specifications of the government elevator now being erected in Edmonton, has been formally dropped.

Subsequent to the writ being issued the plans and specifications, the property of C. D. Howe and company, were restored by the mayor to the former's representative in Edmonton.

RIVAL PILOTS LAUNCH BOATS

Former Prince Rupert Skippers Interested in Fight For Supremacy in South

VICTORIA, Aug. 13.— Several former Prince Rupert skippers are involved in the struggle for supremacy now going on between rival pilotage companies. Both the B.C. Pilots and the Vancouver Pilots are having new fast cutters built at Victoria to be used in going out to meet incoming vessels. The boat being built for the former, which is already launched, is a V bottom type with a six cylinder aeroplane engine and capable of making between twenty and 25 knots an hour. Her rival is being launched this week and is a lighter boat with a marine engine. She is forty feet in length or five feet less than the B.C. Pilots' boat.

Touch of Humor

A touch of humor marked the building of these two launches. The rival organizations have been competing with each other for supremacy in the speed of their launches for years. When one commenced operation it did so with a faster launch than the other. Unused to competition, and not regarding it seriously, the other organization installed a new 40-horsepower engine in its launch and regained the blue ribbon. This advantage, however, was temporary, as the other, purchasing the hull of a confiscated rum runner, together with a new 60-horsepower engine, again acquired the advantage.

To settle the thing definitely one of the organizations decided to build as secretly as possible a pilot cutter capable of standing any weather, having speedy lines and a 300-horsepower engine. Getting wind of this the other organization ordered a similar launch, but went one better in the way of design.

However, the best of plans go amiss sometimes with the result that both organizations gave their jobs to the same builder in Victoria and up to yesterday both boats might have been seen lying alongside one another in the same yard on adjoining ways.

Cost is High

It is estimated that both these boats together have cost over $20,000, but both have the satisfaction that they have a launch that will run an even race. Both are expected to have a maximum speed of twenty-five knots an hour.

MAURETANIA AGAIN BREAKING RECORDS

Expects to Make Run in Less Than Five Days to New York

NEW YORK, Aug. 13. — The Cunard liner Mauretania, famed for her speed on the Atlantic Ocean service, is again breaking all records of speed for the voyage between Cherbourg and New York. The vessel left Cherbourg at 6 p.m. on Saturday and steamed 1771 miles up till noon Tuesday for an average of 25.58 knots per hour. In the last 24 hours of this run, the steamer covered 638 miles or an average of 25.62 knots exceeding by 30 miles the best day's run of the Majestic and beating any day's run of the Leviathan. The captain of the Mauretania now sets 4 p.m. Thursday as the time for his arrival at quarantine here. The time for the voyage will thus be slightly under five days, beating the present record of the Leviathan by some 7½ hours.

ARMING AGAINST WOLVES IN ONTARIO

Weird Story Prepared For Credulous People of Old Country

In the "Children's Newspaper," published in London, England, under the heading "Fighting Wolves, A Hunter's Strange Equipment," appears the following:

Coyotes, the prairie wolves of northern Canada, are becoming such a pest that strenuous efforts are being made to thin out the animals and drive them back from the haunts of men.

A hunter from St. Paul, Minnesota, is going into the wilds of northern Ontario to fight the wolves, and he has equipped himself with a strange suit of armor, consisting of a cowhide garment fastened with metal clasps and studded all over with nails, their points directed outward. More than a thousand sharp nails have been used, and the idea is that no animal will be able to bite him.

THOUGHT HALIBUT BUOY WAS SEA LION

Official of Fisheries Department Peppered it with Bullets; Claim to Department

VICTORIA, Aug. 13.—W. E. Maiden, sea-lion hunter-in-chief for the Dominion Department of Fisheries, has just received an unsolicited and perhaps not entirely welcome testimonial as to the efficacy of the machine gun fire which he directed in Northern waters this summer against the salmon destroying hordes.

The testimonial bears witness to his deadly aim but is rather a left-handed compliment so far as his eyesight is concerned. It appears that some time during his offensive he laid down a barrage on an object that appeared to be the head of a sea lion but now proves to have been the troll buoy of a halibut fisherman. So well directed was the hail o flead that the troll buoy which was filled with bullets, which somewhat affected its buoyancy.

A buoy no longer buoyant is practically useless. At least this one sank without trace, carrying with it some hundreds of feet of line, hooks and various other equipment incidental to the business of halibut fishing. In consequence the owner has presented a claim to the department for recompense.

CHRISTIAN RESUMED WORK THIS MORNING

Work was resumed this morning by Tony Christian on the building of the electric sub-station at Cow Bay for the city. E. C. La Trace and J. Laurensen notified the city that they were not prepared to take the contract now for they were otherwise engaged. The job was stopped yesterday by the city engineer on instructions from the council which was endeavoring to break Mr. Christian's contract with a view to accepting the lower bid of La Trace & Laurensen.

APE WAS A MAN NOT MAN AN APE SAYS PROF. HILL-TOUT

TORONTO, Aug. 13—"The conclusion is forced upon us, contrary to what has generally been held, that the anthropoids and not man have departed most from the ancestral type in respect of skull characters." This summing up of the new trends in anthropology was made by Dr. C. Hill-Trout, F.R.S.C., of British Columbia, to the Anthropology section of the British Association, this morning.

The earlier conceptions which considered man to have evolved from the apes were based upon erroneous comparisons of the skull characters of primitive man with skulls of mature anthropoids, when the comparison should properly have been made with the skulls of immature apes.

Man himself, recent investigations have shown, retains very closely the skull-form of the ancestor common to both man and the apes; while the anthropoids, the apes which most closely resemble man, have departed farthest from this type.

WHITE INDIANS OF ISTHMUS OF PANAMA

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 13. — The recent discovery of so-called "white Indians" on the isthmus of Panama by the Marsh expedition has unleashed its legend in New Orleans, versed in the romantic lore of Central and South America.

An expedition of Scotsmen, some say, settled in Darien in the autumn of 1698, by authorization of the Scotch parliament. This expedition, numbering some 1,200 persons, included four ministers of the Church of Scotland, who went along to establish a presbyterian organization, and it is told that because of their ascetic tendencies, some of the sturdy Scotch families rebelled against them, and were banished from the settlement.

Later, it is said, others of the settlers were driven away by the Spaniards, and it is thought likely many of them fled into the jungles and remained. This, if the supposition is correct, might account for the white Indians.

Another Story.

But the San Blas tribe of Indians have a different story. Many years ago, they say, so long ago that no one can recall the date, a band of white men came to Darien and set about to rob the red men of their wealth. In their exploitations, however, the pale face visitors incurred the displeasure of an evil spirit and soon they died. Their spirits, so the story goes, being accursed, were driven into the fever-laden jungles, where they stayed forevermore. That is the legend of the San Blas tribe.

According to their oldest chieftains, no San Blas could inter-marry with another race. That law still holds, and so strictly is it observed that even now a white man visiting their villages is carefully watched. But there are tales of Pocahontases even among the San Blas, and they say that some of the women of the tribe ran away with pale face men, whom they married, only to be slain later or their babies killed a few days after birth.

Spanish Not White.

It is thought improbable by these unofficial historians that the white Indian is of Spanish origin, for the men of Spain were never referred to by the Indians as white men, but as "jinetas," after the Spanish "horseman." This failure of the Indians to refer to the Spaniard as white men while that term was applied to other strangers of the jungles, is considered solid ground for the theory of those that believe the new-found tribe descended from the Scots.
