GLORIA SWANSON

In

"Her Love Story"

Gloria as a dainty Balkan Princess in Mary Rinehart's stirring story of a secret romance behind a throne. The thrilling love-chapters of a girl who dared to rebel against a royal marriage mandate, who wanted to love where her heart and not duty called. The tale of a Princess whose forbidden love affair with an officer of the King's Guards shocked and rocked a kingdom. A peep into the palace of a King and the heart of a Princess in love. A revelation of Gloria's amazing versality. Her finest fashions, her greatest acting, her most elaborate production, her career-crowning achievement. Brilliant supporting cast: Ian Keith, George Fawcett, Echlin Gayer, Sidney Herbert, Jane Auburn, Baroness de Hedemann and a host of others.

Queen Charlotte Islands Have Fine Stands of Timber Waiting Pulp and Lumber Manufacturing

(By C. Harrison)

It is now universally admitted that British Columbia produces the best qualities of timber to be found in the world and, without any doubt, Queen Charlotte Islands head the list in respect to spruce. These islands generally speaking may be classified as one grand timber limit. The Government reports, and the reports made on behalf of the timber licence holders agree that the limits now held under licence contain an excellent body of timber. As most of the limits are within one mile of the water's edge, the logging can be cheaply and economically done. It is also easy to get the logs to the mills, and this will ultimate-mean a saving of at least $2.00 per thousand from the usual rates as paid on the Pacific Coast.

During the war there were six mills in operation cutting silver spruce for the manufactuhe of aeroplanes needed by our selves and the Allies, and many millions of spruce logs also were towed to the coast mills. When the armistice was signed all logging was suspended and the sawmills closed down but, in the near future, it is hoped that all the mills will again be in full operation.

At the present time the only mill operating is that owned by the Massett Timber Company. This company own 186 limits in and around Massett Inlet, estimated at five billion feet, a quantity large enough to astound the comprehension of the general public. The logging and cutting of this immense timber crop owned by this one company alone will give employment to a large number of workmen for many years to come. What is true concerning the holdings of the Massett Timber Company is equally true of the limits held by the other lumber companies who control the limits on these islands. With the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway and the Panama Canal completed, these tracts of timber which are practically as yet untouched must become very valuable, and sawmills will, I hope soon be established wherever the location are most suitable for such enterprises.

Pulp Proposition

In addition to sawmills to cut our timber into lumaber, we also have immense pulp areas, as many thousand acres of these islands are covered with spruce and alder growths suitable for converting into pulp. The erection of a pulp mill would indeed be a great boon to the settlers, as it would afford them an excellent mode of making a good living by clearing their land of all the spruce and alder, and these trees they could dispose of to the pulp company at an advantage to themselves. For instance as showing the value of pulp, the Forestry branch of the Department of the Interior compiled statistics showing that over a million and a half cords of pulpwood were cut in Canada in 1910, worth nine million eight hundred thousand dollars, and over sixty per cent of this amount was shipped to the United States and there manufactured into pulp and paper. This should have been manufactured at home and the pulp and paper sold. Had this been done Canada would have benefited to the extent of seven million dollars. The Canadians received six millions for the pulpwood, whereas the Americans received thirteen million for the manufactured pulp. Thus we see that if a pulp mill were erected on these islands a good and reliable market would at all times be found across the border for all that we could possibly produce. The construction of a pulp mill and the possibility of the owners of timber lands opening up sawmills to cut the large quantities of spruce on these islands will bring in a large number of settlers as well as be of great assistance to all who are now located.

(Editor's Note.—This is the second of a series of articles on the Queen Charlotte Islands by Mr. Harrison. The next will appear in an early issue.)

Do You Know?

THAT nine-tenths of the grouchy sour-faced people in the world are stomach sufferers? If these people would go to their Drug Store and get a package of Jo-To the world would be a brighter, happier place. Jo-To stops all stomach misery in two minutes. All Drug Stores.

This is a thoughtful age and most of us approach the New Year in a serious manner. We are going to do the best we can to improve the comfort of our home folks and will add to personal efficiency that the world may be a better place for our having lived in it. We sell hardware that will make this a better place for you and yours.

RUBY WEDDING IS CELEBRATED

mont said that, although he had attended many functions in his lifetime, this was the first time that he had ever attended the 40th anniversary of a wedding. While he had known Mr. and Mrs. Keith since the early days of Prince Rupert he could not realise they had lived together so long. While Mr. Keith had been "under the weather" recently the fact that he was with them to participate in the celebration spoke well for his complete recovery. The speaker promised the guests of honor that when they celebrated their jubilee wedding, and should he and Mrs. McClymont be fortunate enough to receive an invitation, they would see it through to a finish.

Mayor Newton

In addressing the gathering, Mayor Newton said he thought he was quite within the bounds of propriety to saying that in Prince Rupert's history they had never seen a wedding anniversary attended by such a splendid gathering. This was saying a great deal. It meant that both Mr. and Mrs. Keith had won their way into the kindly sentiments of the people of the community. This had been brought about through the residence of a most unassuming couple and a couple who had never sought notoriety.

The mayor then proposed a toast to the guests of honor which was drunk to by the company and to which Mrs. Keith suitably responded.

Fred Stork, in a fitting address, paid tribute to the high integrity of Mr. and Mrs. Keith and expressed the opinion that no better people could be found to carry out the traditions of the pioneers of the north. Mr. Stork then presented the guests with a purse of gold, subscribed to by the company present and wished them God's speed on their further journey. The purse of gold and bouquet of roses were handed to Mrs. Keith by P. Black, jr. Mrs. Keith replied suitably.

Dr. Grant

Dr. H. R. Grant spoke upon the importance of displaying the gift of common sense in all things and especially in married life and paid tribute to the evident amount of common sense displayed by Mr. and Mrs. Keith in their long and happy marriage.

The speeches were interspersed by violin selections, songs, and community singing. Those taking part in the program included Mrs. J. A. Tenz, Miss Hester Black, Peter Black, Jr., Mr. Beale, Mrs. L. O. Larsen, Mrs. Wm. Millar, and Mrs. Jarvis McLeod. The reception committee comprised Miss E. M. Earl, Mrs. Galland and Mrs. Joe Jack; serving committee, Miss Ruth Lemon, Mrs. Lawrence, Mrs. T. Boulter, Mr. McKenzie, J. A. Tenz, and Mr. Moore, and musical program, F. Stevens, Peter Black, jr., and Miss Hester Black.
