DAILY EDITION  Wednesday, Dec. 10, 1924.

O Canada, our heritage, our love,
Thy worth we praise all other lands above.
From sea to sea, throughout thy length,
From pole to borderland,
At Britain's side, whatever betide,
Unflinchingly we'll stand.
With heart we sing, "God Save the King,"
Guide thou the Empire wide, do we implore,
And prosper Canada from shore to shore.

Make Unit Of British Empire.

The tenor of the King's speech in London yesterday and the address by the Colonial Secretary both indicate that the present British Government is alive to the idea of unification of the British Empire. Doubtless the policy of buying abroad in preference to dealing with other nations of the Empire will all be changed and this will be of great material benefit to British Columbia. It will need a close watch kept on British purchases in order to draw attention to any lapses from the new policy. The Minister of Lands, who is also the member for this district, has done a great deal in drawing attention to the desirability of buying fish and lumber in Canada and he will doubtless still be on the job. There will be plenty to do and we must all take an interest in the matter and draw attention to any discrepancies. Nothing tends to cement the Empire as well as inter-imperial trade.

Perfect Equality Of Individual Nations.

If the British commonwealth is to be a real unit there must be equality in everything. The foreign policy is not any longer settled by Great Britain alone but by the British Government in consultation with the Dominion Governments. This being the case it will be necessary for the Dominions to support their own navies. They cannot expect free naval protection and yet have a say as to the policy which might bring the navy into action. If there is to be an imperial navy, then Canada must do more than she is doing today toward providing it.

We do not like the glorification of militarism or doing anything which will lead to increased expenditures either on the army or navy, but the recent Egyptian case shows clearly that a navy is necessary and if it is necessary, we should do our part.

Mob Rule Not Good For Any Community.

In connection with the growth of the democratic spirit and the development of a people in self-government, there is always a danger of the crowd now and then developing into a mob and carrying things contrary to justice and right according to the whim of the moment. The mass of people in a community can go wrong almost as often as an individual. Often they have little real discernment and are led away by demagogues.

This is no argument against rule by the majority for we believe in this thoroughly as the government of the future. We believe in the sovereign people and their ultimate ability to rule. Some day the voice of the people will be the voice of God but today the voice of the people is sometimes the voice of the devil.

In Hull, the dispatches state, a man was convicted of killing a girl, yet the populace wanted him reprieved. Happily the British Government refused to intervene and the hanging went on. The man paid the penalty for his crime.

Making Appeal Direct To King.

In connection with the Hull case, an appeal was made direct to King George. Yet if the King had intervened, he would have been exceeding his right as a constitutional monarch and the very people who called on him to save a murderer would have been the ones to cry him down if he made a practice of usurping the duties of the cabinet.

The Home Secretary is primarily responsible for the carrying out of the death sentence, but cases of reprieve are passed on by the whole cabinet. The King simply signs the warrant. In this as in all other matters of state the King acts on the advice of his ministers and they are the ones responsible to the people for the act and not the King himself. That is why the King can do no wrong. If there is a wrong it is the advisers of the King who are wrong. So the King is personally kept free from the political whirl.

The Man in the Moon SAYS-

IT'S a wise bootlegger that avoids his own liquor.

IF winning an election meant a chance to skip work, I'd be out to win every time.

THIS would be a good time to quarrel with the best girl. It might save a Christmas present.

TWO bobbed heads are better than one. Also they are safer.

PROFESSOR Davidson has been telling the people of Vancouver about the value of forests in conserving the rainfall. It seems to me that Vancouver is something like ourselves in that it could do with a little less forest.

WE are governed by the sovereign people but they do not look like a governing body.

PERHAPS it is wise to have a closed halibut season at this time of year so that civic politicians may have an opportunity to draw a few of the herrings across the trail that would otherwise be used for bait.

THE way to save the city is to elect me to office. I think I should like to run as pound keeper.

IF you wish to interview the rising generation just call at about nine a.m. week days or noon Sundays.

With the thingumajig seized the phoney money.

With the proceeds of a musical held last month, the Ladies' Musical Club this week purchased 74 cases of salmon which they are sending by the G.T.P. boat tomorrow to the Belgian consul at Vancouver for the aid of the war despoiled Belgians. The fish was purchased from the Canadian Fish & Cold Storage Co. and will be carried south by the G.T.P. free of charge.

TELKWA
W. Lang representing Turner Beeton & Co. of Victoria was doing business in town on Saturday.
A number of Telkwaites drove to Smithers to attend the dance given by the Oddfellows on Friday.

The rink has been flooded and re-flooded and a very good sheet of ice is now the result. If the cold weather remains, skating will be in order shortly.

A. O. Fors of the Royal Bank staff is enjoying his holidays and is being relieved by E. W. Mack of the Prince Rupert Branch and formerly of Telkwa.

J. B. Hunsperger who has been working in Ketchikan for the last several months, arrived in Telkwa on Sunday to spend a holiday with his family.

Although the weather has turned colder there is very little snow on the ground, and in most places the roads are quite rough.

J. J. McNeil is a business visitor in Prince Rupert.

In and around Telkwa there are a great many turkeys this year. The farmers find them easy to raise and there is usually a ready market for them.

Mr. and Mrs. Collins have moved to Hubert for the winter.
