MASSETT GOLD PROJECT TO BE CONTINUED

ROSS WATSON OF SEATTLE IS ON TRIAL FOR NANAIMO BANK ROBBERY

Massett Gold Project Has Been Financed; Work to be Continued

Charles T. Cabrera arrived from Philadelphia with New Assistant Engineer for P. B. C. Mines

Returning from a four months' trip to Philadelphia and other Eastern centres, C. T. Cabrera, Massett mining engineer, announces that he was successful in obtaining further substantial backing for the project on which he is working of extracting gold from the black sands of Graham Island on a commercial basis.

Mr. Cabrera returned to the city on last night's train with Mrs. Cabrera who went East to meet him. They are registered at the Prince Rupert Hotel and will proceed to Massett on the next boat.

Mr. Cabrera, who was engineer-manager and one of the three owners of the P.B.C. Mines Co., operating on Graham Island, went to Philadelphia in March in the interests of the P.B.C. Mines Co., which company, he states, will soon be in operation but detailed information relative to their plans he is not at liberty to give out for publication at this date, except to state that they are of the best.

POOR WEATHER CAUSES SMALL HALIBUT CATCH

Total for May was Less Than Same Month Last Year

During the month of May a total of 2,634,400 pounds of halibut has been marketed through the local Fish Exchange as compared with 3,368,800 pounds in April this year and 2,653,200 pounds in May last year. The fact that weather conditions on the banks, during the greater part of the month, have not been favorable probably accounts for the decreased catch during this past month. Prices prevailing during the month have been regarded as satisfactory, 17c having been the highest and 8c the lower for first class fish. High and low prices in May last year were practically the same.

Of the total of 2,634,400 pounds handled here during the month of May, 1,972,200 pounds was from American bottoms and 682,200 pounds from Canadian.

American	Canadian
Lumen, 13,000 pounds, at 13.2c and 5c, and Grayling, 12,500 pounds at 12.3c and 5c, to the Pacific Fisheries.	Point May 6,000 pounds, at 11.5c and 5c, to the Canadian Fish & Gold Storage Co.
Brothers, 15,000 pounds at 13.2c and 5c, to the Booth Fisheries.
Ivanhoe, 15,000 pounds at 13c and 5c, to the Canadian Fish & Gold Storage Co.

AIRMEN ONLY WAITING FOR BETTER WEATHER

Vickers Viking Machine Will Take Off as Soon as it Clears up—Present Conditions General

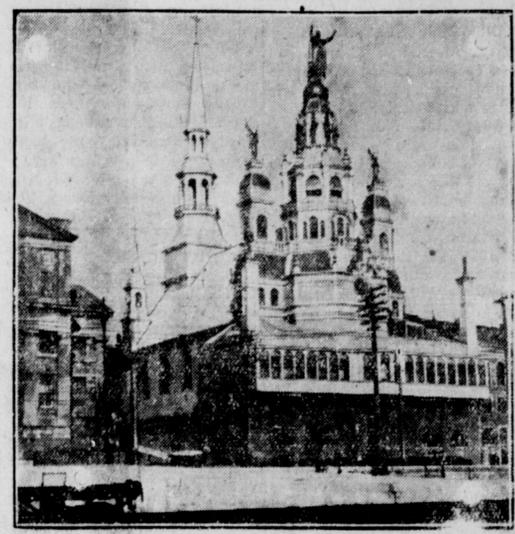

The party which will fly north from here to the Cassiar gold fields on the Vickers Viking flying boat now moored at the dry dock are patiently waiting for a clearing up of weather conditions. Just as soon as this occurs they will hop off for the north. It is necessary that the weather be fairly clear for the machine is flown at considerable height—generally around 8,000 feet. The conditions now prevailing are general along the coast and may be worse in the north than they are here.

Conflicting Evidence in Trial of Ross Watson on Charge of Complicity in Nanaimo Robbery

NANAIMO, May 30.—With part of the evidence before them, the jury having the fate of Ross Watson in their charge were relieved from duty last night until Monday morning to ponder over the evidence submitted to them yesterday in connection with the robbery of the Royal Bank here of $42,000. One story adduced by the crown yesterday purported to identify Watson as the man who hired the car and as the man who carried the sack of money out of the bank.

Defense evidence told various activities of the accused man in Seattle on the day before and the day of the robbery. It will take another day to complete the defense alibi evidence, counsel for the prisoner intimated. Crown witnesses who were in the bank at the time of the hold-up are positive that Watson was the man who helped himself to the money, put it in a white sack and left the bank with the rest of the gang.

Meetings Preparatory to Union of Churches Commence Next Week

Presbyterian General Assembly Begins Wednesday, others a week later; Union on June 10

TORONTO, May 30.—(By Canadian Press).—Preparatory to the consummation of church union and the first meeting on June 10 of the General Council of the United Church of Canada, governing bodies of the three denominations entering the new church are to hold their final meetings in Toronto in the early days of next month. Unionists and anti-Unionist Presbyterians meet together for the last time as an official body next week from June 2 to June 9, and then the continuing Presbyterian Church will proceed to organize itself in General Assembly along traditional lines.

In June there meet also representatives of the Methodist Church who are delegates to the United Council, augmented by 150 others prominent in the denomination; and on June 8 and 9, the Congregational Union of Canada. On Wednesday, June 10, all of the participants in these historic meetings with the exception of the anti-Unionist Presbyterians gather together to march to Massey Hall, where the new Church will be born and consecrated and, for probably the two ensuing weeks, the united body of 350 delegates will labor with multitudinous and formidable problems of organization. Leaders of the churches will witness in this June the realization hopes of years and the fruition of mighty effort; but the stalwart company of anti-Unionist Presbyterians will go on broken in numbers but full of confidence and determination.

The General Assembly The Presbyterian General Assembly meets in College Street Church on the morning of June 3, and it is expected there will be present about 600 commissioners, of whom not more than 50 or 65 will be anti-Unionists. Special significance attaches to this assembly as it marks the completion of fifty years since the union of four Presbyterian Churches in 1875, and is the last assembly before the Presbyterian Church in Canada becomes part of the United Church of Canada. It is expected that several ministers will be present who have served for practically the entire fifty years, and that special reference will be made to the achievements of the church in that period.

At the opening session a sermon will be preached by Principal Clarence Mackinnon, retiring moderator. From reports in different parts of the church it would seem that the new moderator will be Rev. Dr. George C. Pidgeon, minister of Bloor Street Church, Toronto, who has been for the past four years convener of the church union committee.

Church Union Reports An outstanding feature of the assembly's program will be the report of the committee on church union. This committee has been in existence since 1904 and will now present its final report. This will contain an account of the last steps taken in the completion of union, the securing of appropriate legislation in the parliament of Canada and in all the provincial legislatures, and a statement of the results of the voting which has taken place.

At Tsingtau three Chinese strikers at the cotton mills were killed and a score injured when the police attempted to clear the strikers from the mill.

The tourist season is commencing and already a few holiday travellers are passing through the city.
