SHORTAGE OF STRAWBERRIES

Crop in South is Failure on Account of Rain—Fresh Fruit and Vegetables

The strawberry crop in the south this year is more than half a failure on account of wet weather conditions and what berries are arriving are coming in poor shape. It is expected there will be practically no B.C. strawberry jam pack this year and the market is going to be high. Local housewives will have to wait for Terrace berries for canning purposes. A good crop in the central interior is expected this year. The lowest prices will range from $2.50 to $3.00 per crate.

New vegetables are beginning to make their appearance on the local market. The tail end of last year's potatoes are now being cleaned up and new potatoes from Texas are on the market. Local rhubarb is also being sold.

Cherries, grapes and cantaloupes are also being offered now.

The flour market has advanced and it looks as though the upward movement will continue. Feed is also up $1 per ton.

Raw sugar has advanced and local retail prices are due for a rise.

"THE THUNDERING HERD"

Zane Grey's thrilling romance of the buffalo hunt days of '76, filmed on a vast, panoramic scale. A spectacular photo-play of the same tremendous proportions as the "Covered Wagon." A stirring narrative of the adventures of pioneers in the Great West. A dramatic tale of the early days when enormous herds of bison ran wild across the plains and their wanton slaughter by hide-hunters incited the Indians to new and savage uprisings. A story of daring deeds in which a sweet romance is interwoven. Many exciting scenes. Two thousand fear-maddened buffalo stampeding across the prairie. One thousand blood-thirsty Indians attacking a caravan. Huge cast.
