ARTIFICIAL LARYNX

People Dumb Since Youth Are Now Able to Speak by Use of Instrument

NEW YORK, Jan. 22.—Use of an artificial larynx, to restore speech to mute persons has been found practicable, it was learned today. Three persons who had lost the power of speech, and who had undergone special operations in order that the artificial larynx might be applied to them, were able to speak at a recent clinic held here. One of them had not spoken since October, 1923, and another has been mute for three months. They both spoke distinctly. The third lost his power of speech seventeen years ago. In his case the use of the instrument was not so successful because he was awaiting an operation but he was able to form a few words. All three were over 50 years old.

The device is applied externally in the patient's neck, at a spot where the windpipe terminates. From the pad, a rubber tube leads to a small mechanism placed in the mouth. Air forced from the lungs is set in vibration and the vibrations are carried through the tube into the speaker's mouth. There they are modulated in much the same manner as if they were produced in the throat.

MRS. C. L. YOUNGMAN LAID TO REST TODAY

Interment in Fairview Cemetery Follows Impressive Service in Presbyterian Church

Many friends gathered this afternoon at the Presbyterian Church Hall to pay their last respects to the memory of the late Mr. Charles L. Youngman. The solemn and impressive service took place at 2:30 followed by interment in Fairview Cemetery. Tribute to deceased was paid by Rev. Dr. H. R. Grant, the officiating clergyman, who referred to the loss that had been sustained by the community and the deep sorrow that had come over the mourning family in the death of Mrs. Youngman.

Mrs. Jarvis McLeod, accompanied by Mrs. R. A. Harlow, sang, "Somewhere the Sun is Shining." Hymns were sung by the congregation.

The obsequies were attended in a body by members of the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire of which organization Mrs. Youngman was for so many years an active worker. They assembled at the corner of Fourth Avenue and McBride Street and proceeded to the church under Mrs. A. T. Parkin, municipal regent.

A large cortege followed the remains to Fairview Cemetery. The pallbearers were F. G. Dawson, George D. Tite, J. G. Steen, R. W. Cameron, William Millar and P. W. Anderson.

Among the many floral tributes were pieces from Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Doiron, Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Clapp, Mr. and Mrs. J. Sigmund.
