SNEEZE SOUNDS LIKE EXPLOSION IN SHINGLE YARD SAY OPERATORS

People Who Broadcast Over Radio Must Conform to Rules

OAKLAND, Cal., Mar. 30.—Men who listen day after day at the control board to everything broadcast from KGO, are sensitive about unusual sounds before the microphones.

One sure way of offending Jim Martin, Joe Baker, or Norman Woodford, KGO control room operators, is to sneeze before a micriphone. A sneeze, according to these experts, is inhuman and is comparable to an explosion in a shingle yard. Even clearing the throat, which sounds like the rattling of broken pottery, is bad enough. Coughing into a microphone comes out at the other end of broadcasting machinery a series of irritating clicks. Not long ago a green radio artist, just about to make his bow before the invisible audience of the night, blew a clarion note on his nose. In the control room, the result was the lightning removal of headsets, with muttered accompaniment of words not found in radio technical books.

Oerators are first of all always on the listen for sounds in the equipment, hisses, clicks, and scratches which tell their respective stories to the trained ear. Ocasionally an operator in the KGO control room will admit hearing what is being said or played. Unusual sounds always attract attention. The man who jingles money in his pockets while talking before a microphone, the woman who rattles her beads while she sings, the fellow who holds his watch too close to the microphone; all these people must reform their habits if they aspire to travel the electrical highways of the air and keep the goodwill of the keen young fellows who make travelling possible.

JAS. GROAT PRESIDENT OF SMITHERS FAIR

SMITHERS, Mar. 30. — The Buckley Valley Agricultural and Industrial Association elected officers for the ensuing year at a meeting held in the Town Hall on Thursday night.

Jas. Groat was chosen as president, with several vice-presidents who are to act as heads of the different departments at Fair time, each to select his assistants. A strong band of directors was also selected, these being chosen from the different sections between Terrace and Francois Lake each of whom will act as a representative for his district.

Rev. M. W. Lees, secretary for last year consented to carry on until a new officer had been chosen by the executive.

Several plans for the betterment of the fair were discussed and the members were most optimistic regarding the Association's future.

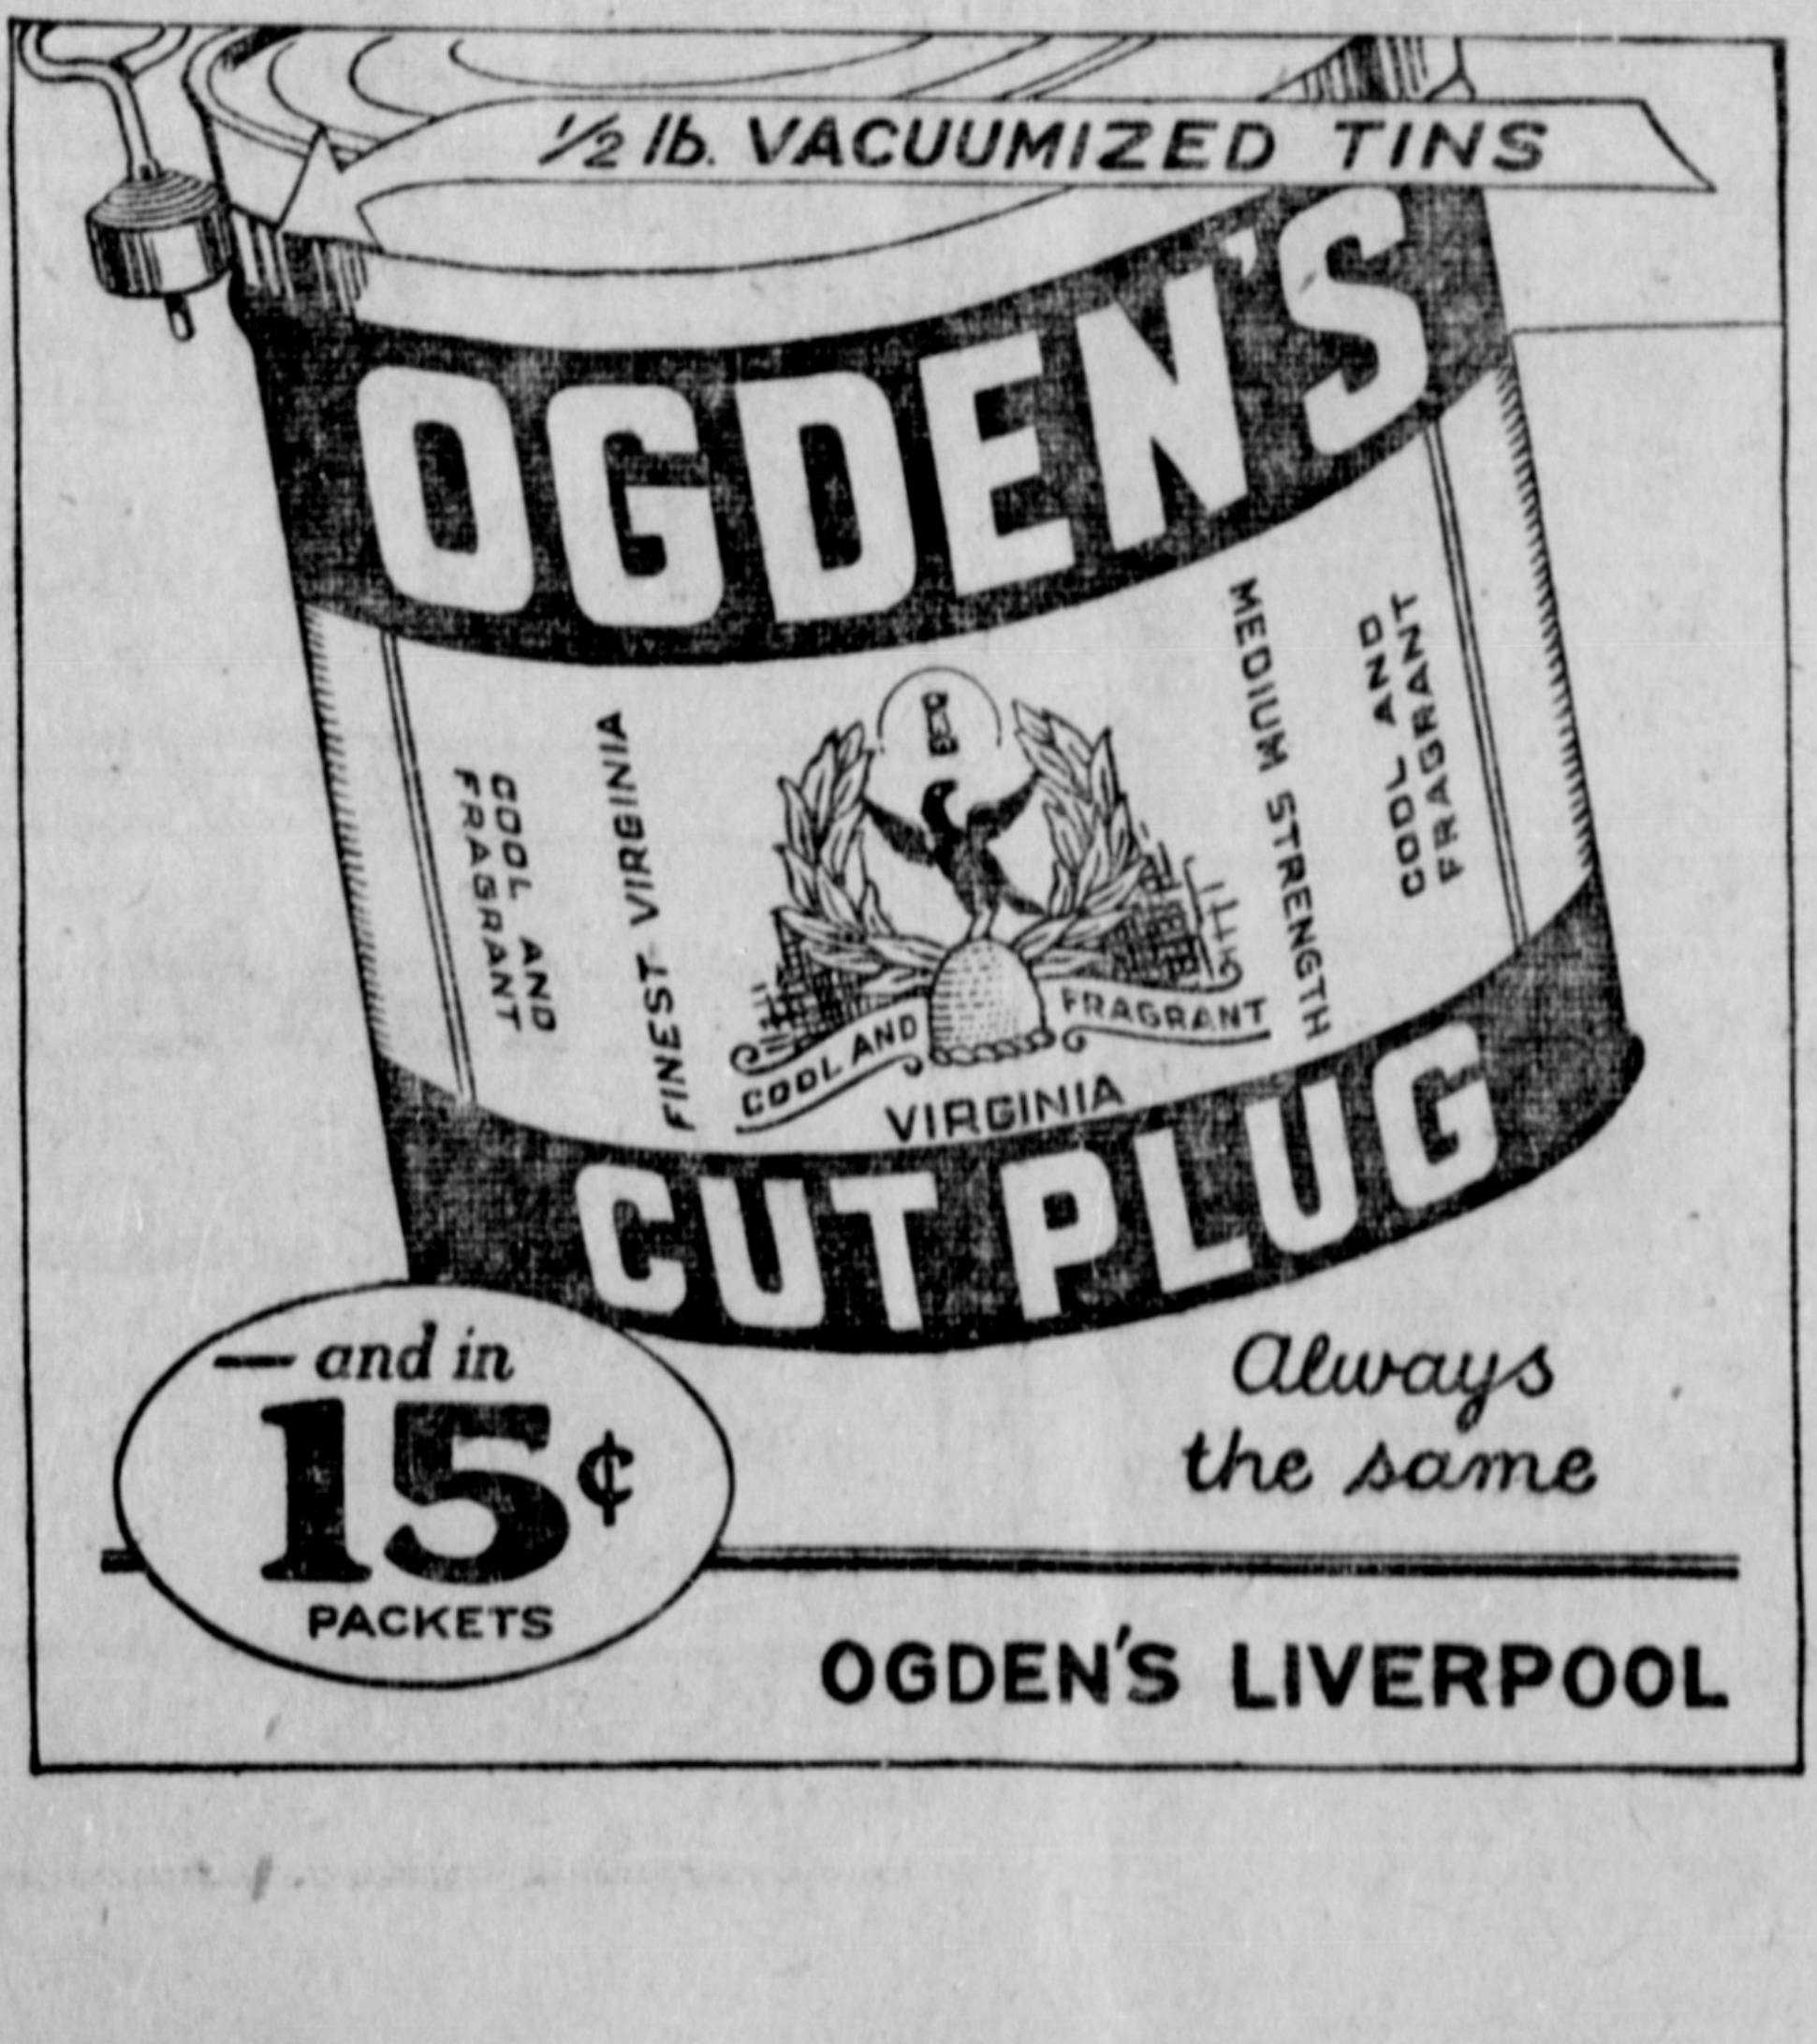
This Lassie Has Her Colds "Rubbed Away"

The mother of this attractive little girl, Mrs. E. E. Emmans, of 215 Seventh Ave., N. E., Portage La Prairie, Man., is one of the many Canadian mothers who are enthusiastic about the vaporizing salve, Vicks VapoRub, for treating children's colds. Mrs. Emmans writes: "My little girl had croup at night pretty badly and Vicks did her a lot of good. I have also used it with very satisfactory results for head and chest colds."

Vicks is just "rubbed on" for sore throat, tonsilitis, bronchitis, croup or deep chest colds. When so applied, Vicks has a double direct action: internally medicated vapors are inhaled while, at the same time, externally, it is absorbed through and stimulates the skin.



Sport Chat

Some suggest that it was not the most sportsmanlike thing in the world for Cambridge last Saturday to leisurely row in the winners of the big college boat race after the Oxford boat had become waterlogged in the rough water at Putney. The suggestion is not a reasonable one. Because the weather prevented Oxford winning is no reason why Cambridge should so liberally run the chance of losing herself in another race, even if such action were possible. Conditions were the same for both sides and if, through lack of preparation of their boat or lack of skill in handling it, Oxford was unable to carry on it would seem that she was quite fairly entitled to lose. In one previous race, both the boats became waterlogged and the race was run over again. Saturday's was Cambridge's 36th victory in the annual rowing race; Oxford has won forty times.

There are going to be a great many disappointed Western hockey fans if the Victoria Cougars do not win the Stanley Cup by defeating the Montreal Canadiens in tonight's world's championship hockey game. Indeed, the victory last Friday night of the Canadiens came as a surprise and even as a shock to many who were confidently hoping that the Cougars would make three straight and have the thing over with. The Cougars are solid favorites in the West and probably have the edge of the sentiment in the hockey world at large. Like Washington Senators in the baseball world series last year, they have won their first pennant and many would like to see them get the world's championship as well. The players do not share in tonight's gate nor in the fifth, if it is necessary to play it.

The proceeds of the collection at the billiard championship game at the Great War Veterans rooms was donated by the War Veterans to the Ridley Home.

Local trapshooters will be interested to learn that a gun club is now in process of organization at Smithers. Later in the year it may be possible for Prince Rupert and Smithers trapshooters to meet. For the past two seasons, the locals have been hankering for outside competition but it was found impossible to make the necessary arrangements. When the daily train service is inaugurated, it ought to be easy for Smithers shooters to come here or ours go there. W. H. Doodson, F. Hatt and G. H. Gazeley have been appointed a committee to make arrangements for the formation of the Smithers club and a strong membership is anticipated. The fees will be set at a figure sufficient to enable the purchase of traps and other necessary equipment. Dr. E. S. Tait was recently re-elected president of the Prince Rupert Gun Club and Jack Keefe, secretary treasurer.

Canada was drawn to play New Zealand in the Davis Cup draw which took place recently in Washington, Vice-President Charles G. Dawes officiating. The games will probably be played in Canada and Montreal is making a strong bid as the prospective venue. Other draws were as follows: Australia vs. Hawaii; Japan vs. China; Spain vs. Cuba; and the winner vs. Mexico; Holland vs. Czecko-Slovakia; Switzerland vs. Sweden; Belgium vs. India; Austria vs. Ireland; Hungary vs. France; Portugal vs India; Rumania vs. Denmark, Poland vs. Great Britain. The Eastern (European) one will play the Western in a final and the winner will challenge the United States which now holds the Davis Cup.
