A World-wide System Of Financial Service

BY telephone you can talk with your neighbour or with an individual thousands of miles away. By telegraph you can span the continent; by cable your message can girdle the earth.

In like manner you can use the service of the Bank of Montreal in little or large measure as the occasion demands.

You can transact business of a purely local nature or enter into financial dealings with people in any part of the world.

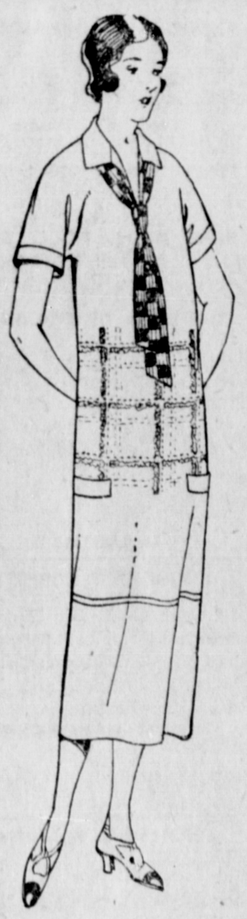

Like the telephone, telegraph or cable, our system of financial service is as extensive as are the needs of our customers.

With further reference to the suggestion made at the meeting of the police commission last month that city prisoners committed to terms in jail be kept in the local lock-up instead of being shipped to Okalla at great expense, City Solicitor Jones reported to the commission yesterday afternoon that the lieutenant governor in council might designate any local jail as a place for the consignment of prisoners. Enquiries were being made if such an order-in-council with regard to the local lock-up had ever been passed and, in the meantime, prisoners were being held here.
