Yext of Speech of B.C. Minister as Given in Hansard Report

GENERAL DISCUSSION

Cost Much Larger Here Than at Halifax it is Shown

The Hansard accounts of the debate on the Prince Rupert elevator are rather long, too long for full publication in paper but some of the speeches are interesting.

The Conservative and a few of the Progressive members were critical in regard to the cost of the work and the Conservatives opposed the work as unnecessary. In defending the position of the' government Hon. J. H. King, minister of public works, and representative of British Columbia in the Liberal cabinet, said: Kootenay Member

Mr. King (Kootenay): I have no hesitation in justifying this expenditure. Prince Rupert is one day nearer the Orient than any other port on the Pacific.
