PROFIT MADE BY GRANBY CO.

January Operations Netted $100,000 After Paying all Charges Except Depreciation

NEW YORK, Mar. 16.—January production for Granby Consolidated amounted to 3,200,000 pounds of copper, made at an average cost of 11c. a pound, sold and delivered. There was a profit, as a result of January operations, of $100,000 after all charges except depreciation and depletion, or at the annual rate of $1,200,000, equal to almost $4 a share for the present outstanding stock.

Granby is planning to bring the Allenby property into production within a few months, which will add about 1,700,000 pounds of copper monthly to the present output. The Allenby property is practically virgin, but there is in sight between five and six millions tons of ore, averaging around 1.85 per cent copper, with indications that the property possesses two or three times this amount of ore amenable to concentration. Although ie will require three or four months to thoroughly tune up the mill at the Allenby property, it is expected, provided present plans are carried out, the end of 1925 will see Granby close to a 60,000,000 pound producer of copper, with average costs between 10c and 11c a pound before depreciation and depletion.

With such prospects there should be no great difficulty in arranging for the $2,500,000 bond maturity in May next. With this out of the way, and a favorable metal market obtaining, speculative interest in Granby stock should improve considerably.

WHITES OF EYES TINGED WITH YELLOW? MUDDY COMPLEXION? YOUR LIVER IS OUT OF ORDER!

Mrs. Wm. Bourque, Fox Creek, N.B., writes:—"I have been troubled with my liver for a long time, and was so bad I could not do any work. I had severe pains in my stomach that were so bad, at times, I could hardly stand them. My tongue became coated; I had a bad taste in my mouth, especially in the morning; the whites of my eyes were tinged with yellow, and I had a muddy and yellow complexion.

I had read a great deal about

so decided I would try a vial, and after taking three of them I was greatly improved and felt more like living, and I can now do my own work without any trouble."

Sport Chat

English racing under National Hunt Rules — cross country, chasing and hurdling, which flourishes particularly during the winter months when flat-racing is suspended,—reaches its zenith with the running of the Liverpool Grand National Steeplechase at Aintree on Friday, March 27. Famed throughout the world wherever horse racing is conducted, as the most spectacular and severest test of the thoroughbred's strength, stamina and speed, the "National" is to cross-country racing what the Derby is to flat racing—the blue riband of the turf. There is this year a field of 55 from which to choose a winner in the most difficult race in the world. Two previous winners—Sergeant Murphy, in 1923 and Music Hall in 1922 are included in this years nomination, while Fly Mask and Silvo, second and third respectively last year, are also entered.

Few races arouse greater controversy, both before and after its decision, than does the "National." During the weeks separating the appearance of the entries and the running of the event the prospects of the "candidates" are discussed and their trial performance or records keenly scrutinized. After the race is run and won there are usual arguments as to what would have happened if such and such a horse had not bumped, knocked over or fallen. Then on those occasions when the casualties are unusually plentiful, well meaning critics assert that the race should be abolished or at least made less "inhuman" it was a subject of a question in parliament some years ago. But the "National" remains throughout it all, as has been the case for years, the greatest and most popular event of cross-country racing.

Inaugurated in 1839 by a syndicate of sportsmen who desired to improve the status of steeplechasing the "National" has steadily grown in importance and popularity. Originally run on weight-for-age lines it was later converted into a handicap, and the maximum impost is 175 pounds. Since its inception it has, with the exception of three years during the Great War when substitute races were run at Gatwick, been run without interruption over the Aintree course. During this time the monetary value of the prize has increased until now, with 5,000 sovereigns added to the sweepstakes of 100 sovereigns each, the value of the winner is well over 8,000 sovereigns.
