BRITAIN LIKES WESTERN FRUIT

Shipment Looked Forward to in London and Purchased Readily

WASHINGTON, May 1. — (By Canadian Press). — Fruit shipments from the west coast of Canada and the United States by way of the Panama Canal find favor in Europe. This is the statement made by the Department of Agriculture today in a resume of the situation by Edwin Smith, foreign representative of the department, who is making a survey of European fruit markets. He says European consumption of American apples has been stimulated the past year through development of direct shipments from Pacific coast ports through the Panama Canal.

What Mr. Smith says as to shipments from the Pacific coast is looked on as indicating that various agricultural products of this country could be exported to Europe to good advantage with adequate shipping facilities.

The consensus in Rotterdam and Hamburg, as well as in all of the large port markets of Great Britain, he says, is that Panama ships land their cargoes of American apples in good condition, and that all of the larger markets look forward to these shipments. Buyers at the port auctions in Great Britain, Holland, Germany and Denmark are reported to prize this fruit because it reships well to interior points and can be held in stock. This attitude is evidenced by brokers as well as by wholesale buyers. In fact it is said that some of the cargoes from the refrigerator ships are left safely on the quays for a period of several weeks.

No Price Depression

There has been considerable controversy as to whether heavy Panama cargoes discharged and sold on top of the regular arrivals from New York have tended to depress prices in foreign markets, but Mr. Smith has found that coincident with the arrival of these cargoes the market has usually shown increased strength rather than weakness, due to the good condition of such arrivals.

It is said that with the advent of the Panama route with large refrigerator ships carrying cargoes of well over 100,000 boxes direct from Vancouver, Seattle, Portland, and San Francisco under schedules that are variable and subject to change, it has been difficult for exporters to guage supplies.

LAST NIGHT'S MEETING.

Editor, Daily News.

Regarding the resolution passed at the meeting held at the City hall dealing with the tarrif on Canadian fish. Undoubtedly it would appeal to the sentiments of everyone at the present time and under the circumstances, however I am afraid that our learned enthusiasts have not made a very deep study of the economic features involved which would act as a boomerang at some future time.

Fortunately, the body was not the final legislative group and some of our citizens still have the opportunity of expressing their viewpoints.

Let us remember that our American friends are very practical in their methods of carrying on under a highly Industrialized State and if the resolution were passed as a final law it would simply play into the hands of the businessmen to an extent which we will not realize until the experience has been ours.

Regarding the other resolutions, using a materialistic conception of good and welfare, I cannot understand why the people of the city display such apathy on matters that affect them all. As a slight hint or insinuation, I think something is rotten in Denmark when one certain matter has been neglected for so long a time, viz., the stumps and other unpleasant appearances on the land adjoining the path from the railway station to the Prince Rupert Hotel was called to the attention of the public four years ago to a month through your daily columns.

The impression that eyesore makes on the visitor remains and undoubtedly leads them to wonder why the citizens of Prince Rupert have not got a little more get-up in them.

Yours for prosperity,
LEONARD WAIDE.

FOOTBALL SCHEDULE

Fourth Team in League is Still Expected—Definite Decision Next Week.

The following schedule is issued by the Prince Rupert Football Association for the Stuart Shield fixtures starting next Monday:

May 4.—G.W.V.A. vs. Sons of England (G. S. Russell, referee).
May 7.—Callies vs. G.W.V.A. (T. Jones, referee).
May 12.—S.O.E. vs. Callices.
May 15.—S.O.E. vs. G.W.V.A.
May 18.—G.W.V.A. vs. Callies.
May 21.—Callies vs. S.O.E.

The above is a provisional schedule subject to change if a fourth team, which is still expected, becomes actually entered. A definite decision on this is expected at the beginning of next week. Games will be called at 6:30.

There will be a working bee on Sunday and the Association expects all players and enthusiasts to be on hand to get the grounds in shape for Monday's opening.

Sport Chat

Owing to weather conditions al games in the American major baseball leagues yesterday were postponed.

Preliminary plans will be formulated and officers will be elected at the annual meeting of the Prince Rupert Baseball Association which is being called for this evening in the city hall. All those who are interested in any way in the game are being asked to be present to make any suggestions or offer any advice they may have. While there has been little stir as far as baseball is concerned, it is expected that the forthcoming season will be as successful as any in the past. The most of the old players are still in the city and it is understood that there is some considerable new blood here to be injected into the league that will be formed.

Next Monday evening the opening game of the football season, the Stuart Shield contest between the Great War Veterans' Association and Sons of England, is scheduled to take place. Both teams are said to have mustered strong aggregations and, while a few early season rough spots may be expected, the match will undoubtedly be an interesting one. The withdrawal of the Sons of Canada will tend to make several changes in the line-ups and all three teams in the league are pretty confident of themselves. The old Callies will be the third team. Each of the three teams will have former players back with them—some of whom have not been seen in the local soccer field for the past year or so.
