Sport Chat

The Greenock Herald recently published a series of articles entitled "Football Tips" by Andy Duca, captain of the Aston Villa team which won the English Cup in 1919-20 and now manager of the Fulham Football Club. The articles deal with all phases of the game and were written by Duca, who is one of the best known players of long experience in the Old Country and one of the greatest living exponents of the game, with a view to giving all the opportunity of becoming better players. In view of the excellence of these articles and their simple character, the Daily News has decided also to publish them. Starting at an early date, they will appear once a week so look out for them. The local season is not many months off now and, before the game starts again, will be the time for the players to read up.

As far as number of victories are concerned, the Sons of Canada are now but one game behind the Elks in the Senior League basketball standing sheet. In view of this, the match tonight between the two teams should be particularly interesting. If the Canucks should win this game, they will bid fair once again to capture championship honors in spite of the fact that the Elks have been holding them down pretty well so far this season. In the Intermediate League, the Grotto will meet the Regiment. The soldiers scored a victory for the first time over the Gots last week and are hopeful now of doing the same thing to the tobaccoists who, provided they win this game, will be well away to league leadership. The third game of the evening will be a Ladies' League affair.

The Shooting of Dan McGrew

A picturization of Robert W. Service's immortal work which has been read by millions. A hurricane of emotion that sweeps from the South Seas to Alaska. The true story of the shooting of dangerous Dan McGrew by the orchestra leader, husband of the lady known as Lou, with many incidents both prior to and after the affair supplied by Dr. Sugden, physician and explorer, who was actually present when the tragedy took place. A picture no one should miss. "Then I ducked my head and the lights went out—and two guns blazed in the dark. And a woman screamed and the lights went up, and two men lay stiff and stark."

Lew Cody, Percy Marmon, George Siegmann, Fred Warren, Barbara La Marr, Mae Busch, Millie Davenport, Ina Anson and many others.
