Sir Henry Thornton

As Publicity Man.

Sir Henry Thornton, it is announced, will go to Europe the moved the adoption of annual last week in June and while there plans to deliver 67 lectures reports. on Canada in 24 days in various parts of the country. He will During the afternoon Miss be the best publicity agent Canada has had. He has travelled Lennox, assisted by Japanese in all over the country and knows it like a book. Also he is a con-costume, gave an interesting advincing public speaker, and at the same time a picturesque dress entitled "A Tea Party in ligure.

Dress Indicates Character Of People.

In driving through some parts of Canada or the United Prayer partners States communities are found where everyone is poorly dressed treasurer, Miss Davies. and where the people are poor and dirty and give every indication of hard times. They have a hard fight against nature to get a living and it shows itself in every phase of their life.

The writer has in mind such a place, passed through on vernet mission fond in honor the northern borders of California. A number of people were of the faithful and efficient work met all of whom were dressed in slacks. When the little town was reached, investigation was made in hope of discovering suitable place for lunch. None such could be found. All looked purpose of this fund will be to too dirty and uninviting. It was decided to drive on rather than raise $100 annually from risk eating at such a place with such people. It was unkempt, various diocese, the money to be unpleasant and run down.

There is nothing of that about Prince Rupert except in a need to be designated by Mrs. few of the buildings and some of the vacant lots. The people Du Vernet. here, out of working hours give every indication of prosperity. They look well fed, are well clothed and all have that cheerful air that come of good living and hopefulness. It is a phase of life that we should always try to present to visitors. Let us put! our best goods in the shop windows and make our town as pleasing as possible, especially during this coming season when barometer, 30.08; temperature, we are expecting so many visitors.
