GOOD WORD FOR C.N.R. BOATS

Conservative Member Speaks Appreciatively of Canadian Government Merchant Marine

L. J. Ladner, Conservative member for South Vancouver, in a speech in the House of Commons recently criticized the Government but he saw one bright spot. That was the Canadian Government Merchant Marine. Of it he says:

On this point I want to say a few words in connection with the Canadian Government Merchant Marine. An hon. member opposite levelled a good deal of criticism against our merchant marine. There is a deficit, but I am glad to say that the deficit does not arise in the west. I have taken the trouble to collect some data in this regard, and I find that the twenty-one boats operating out of Vancouver produce a profit. There were fifteen vessels of 8,000 tons; two of 4,400 tons, and four of 3,900 tons. For the past six years every ship, with one exception, has sailed from Vancouver to a foreign port fully loaded, that is loaded beneath decks and on deck. In the single exception the boat had a full load under deck, but did not have anything on deck. The lumber trade in British Columbia has greatly benefited by the presence of these boats; they have been a most important factor in opening up new markets for western Canada, markets which we did not have before, such as New Zealand, Australia and around through the Panama canal to eastern Canada and the eastern states. They have also been an important factor in forcing other shipping companies to provide boat services at places in British Columbia where formerly we did not have any service and the business was sent to the states of Washington and Oregon.

New Business

It was the Canadian Government Merchant Marine that opened up the business in the Bristol Channel in England and at Belfast, Ireland. These vessels go to Japan and China carrying large quantities of lumber, wheat and other products. The management is very active. I know of one instance where they stepped in and took from our friends to the south in the states of Washington an Oregon an order for 35,000,000 feet of ties, an order which is renewed every year. They took that away from the states and provided it for the mills of British Columbia when those mills were very badly in need of business.

HINDENBURG ON GERMAN GOAL

Imperial House the Rock on Which She Must Build

TORONTO, May 6.—In September, 1919, Field Marsh Paul Von Hindenburg, new president of the German Republic, wrote the story of his life. In the last chapter, "My Farewell," he says:

Comrades of the German Army, once the proud and mighty German Army! How can you talk of despondency? Think of the men who gave us a new Fatherland more than a hundred years ago. Their religion was their faith in themselves and the sacredness of their cause. They built up a new Fatherland, not on the foundation of doctrines strange to them, but on those of the free development of the individual within the framework of the whole body politic, and on his sense of responsibility to the state. Germany will tread that path once more as soon as she is permitted to do so.

Faith Unshakable

"Germany, the goal and starting point of so much that is inexhaustible in human civilization and culture, will count as nought only so long as she ceases to believe in her great historical mission. My faith is unshakable that the best among us, with their deep, strong thoughts, will succeed in fusing the ideas of today with the precious relics of ancient times and on them set the stamp of eternal qualities which will bring salvation to our Fatherland.

"Such is the firm conviction with which I have left the bloody battlefields of this war of nations. I have witnessed the heroic struggle of my Fatherland and I shall never believe that it was its death struggle.

"I have often been asked the question on what I based my hopes of our ultimate victory even in the darkest hours of the war. I could only point to my faith in the justice of our cause and my confidence in our Fatherland and the Army.

Hopes of Fathers

"For the time being a flood of wild political passion and sounding speeches has overwhelmed the ancient structure of our state and apparently destroyed all our sacred traditions. Yet this flood will subside again. Then from the tempestuous seas of our national life will once more emerge that rock—The German Imperial House—to which the hopes of our Fathers clung in days of yore and of which the future of our Fatherland was confidently set, nearly half a century ago, by our own efforts.

"When our national ideals and our national conscience have resumed their sway among us, we shall see how moral values have been struggling to birth in our present grevious trials and the Great War on which no nation is entitled to look back with more pride than the German people, so long as it remained true to itself. Then, and then only, will the blood of all those who fell believing in the greatness of Germany have been poured out not in vain.

"In that hope I lay down my pen and firmly build on you—Young Germany.

PILGRIM'S PROGRESS IS FOUND IN PSALMS

SEATTLE, May 6. — An Old Testament Pilgrim's Progress has been found in four of the psalms by Dr. Herbert H. Gowen, professor of Oriental languages and literature at the University of Washington.

Dr. Gowen's translation differs from the standard one. He says he has preserved as nearly as possible the original meter of the Old Testament songs and has diligently connected the four chants into a continuous story of the pilgrims' return to the Promised Land.

"The conception behind the four psalms, which begin with the 120th, was the return of the Jewish exiles from Babylonian captivity," Dr. Gowen said. "The joy of the returning captives as they noticed the hills of their native land and the towers of Jerusalem is reflected in the songs."

"You are wrong, my friend," said the motorist. "I say I wasn't 'and here's a ten dollar bill that says I wasn't."

"All right," returned the constable, as he folded up the money, "with eleven against me I ain't a-going to subject the county to th' expense of a trial."

AN INACTIVE LIVER IS THE CAUSE OF CONSTIPATION

When your liver gets sluggish and inactive your whole health suffers.

Your bowels become constipated; you have sick and bilious headaches; your tongue coated and furry; your breath bad; specks float before your eyes, and often you feel as if you were going to faint, especially if in a crowded place where there is little or no ventilation.

When in this condition there is only one thing to do, and that is to take

MILBURN'S LAXA-LIVER PILLS

They will stimulate the sluggish liver so that it will regulate the flow of bile to act properly on the bowels, and thus clear away all the poisonous matter that is responsible for all your liver troubles.

FREE BEER IS A THING OF THE PAST

If takes a real old-timer to remember the olden days when upon some fete-day, free beer would be given to all who thirsted. Nowadays things worth while must be bought and paid for. But the best things of life are not always expensive. Bread, for instance. It is cheaper to buy it than to make it at home.
