SCHOOL SPIRIT RUPERT-ANYOX

Editorial Article in Granby News Comments on Recent Visit of Basketball Teams

The success achieved through the Prince Rupert—Granby Bay series of basketball games, and which culminated at the local gymnasium on Saturday night last, should be sufficient warrant for the making of some arrangement whereby such contests would become a yearly fixture. It is true that there are certain drawbacks which will constitute an argument against the ready arrangement for yearly visits between the town of Prince Rupert and Anyox, especially during school periods, when the long travelling distances, meaning loss of time, undoubtedly interferes, to some extent at least, with the studies of the boys and girls playing on the travelling teams. On the other hand there is always the possibility that the loss of time in study is far outweighed by the gain of that broadening spirit which must naturally accrue through the getting away, if only for a short space of time, from the restricted contact we are accustomed to in this north country.

Looking at the question of inter-town high school competition with an open mind, it would seem that occasional visits on the part of bright young girls and boys, under the supervision of their teachers, could have only one result and that for good. In big centres, it is part of the high school life to measure ability in brain and muscle as between schools. This tends to keep the student alert at all times, not alone those who are taking an active part in representing the school; but on the part of everyone connected with it. These contests, whether of an athletic nature for supremacy in skill and staying power, or in the field of debate, which is the greatest trainer of the mind, must necessarily tend to develop an ever finer race of men and women as time goes on.

The contests can only survive because a school spirit exists; and games like the high school boys and girls of Rupert and Granby were instrumental in arranging and consummating will eventually create in this section that school spirit which is exemplified so strongly in many thickly settled parts of the country. The natural ambition to be just a trifle better than the other high school or institution of learning is what the spirit feeds and grows strong upon.

It was once said, and undoubtedly could be said just as truly today, that the greatness of the British Empire was the outcome of the spirit displayed on the playing fields of preparatory schools like Eton and Harrow. As competition is the life of trade, so inter-town school competition is the life of the school spirit. Even with the handicaps we labor under (they are given to us to overcome anyway, no matter in what game of life we engage, and make success all the sweeter when achieved) the time necessary to make the trip between our two towns, the cost in hard cash which some one has to pay, the result is worth while.

Until it is proved otherwise, we should all endeavor to assist in the cultivation of this school spirit, and support inter-town school competition whenever opportunity offers.

Sport Chat

The two founders of lacrosse in Prince Rupert and the captains of the first two teams that played under the Prince Rupert Lacrosse Association three years ago have shot at their last nets. Harry Lipsett died in Vancouver some months ago and now comes word of the death of Bennie Crossett in Washington whence he had gone following a stroke last year. The death of Mr. Crossett will be mourned by a wide circle of friends in the city for he had resided here since the early days. Besides other organizations, he was a member of the local Elks' and Oddfellows' lodges. Interment will take place in Auburn, Washington. He is survived by a sister living here.

The staid soccer fans of the Old Country will be shocked to learn of innovations that are being made in the United States in the good old game of association football. On the other side of the line, they say they are going to "Americanize" the British game. To "speed it up" they propose among other things to divide the playing time into four quarters of 22½ minutes each. Other changes are being clamored for, so many indeed that it looks as if the game might soon be legislated out of all semblance to soccer as it has been played for many years in the British Isles.

Bert Morgan announces that the Prince Rupert Billiard League has been able to obtain through the efforts of Ben Self and the kindness of Jack McMillan, amateur billiard champion of Canada, the set of balls used by McMillan when he won the Dominion championship recently. These balls, which will be used in the forthcoming city billiard tournaments, were selected at the time of the McMillan tournament from a set of ten as being the most perfect obtainable.

FAIR BOARD HOLDS MONTHLY MEETING

Sports Ground Matters to be Taken up With Council — Mineral Cabinet at Station is Ready

The regular monthly meeting of the Fair Board was held last night. Ben Self, president, was in the chair and the directors present were Frank Dibb, Fred Scadden, S. D. Macdonald, W. Sherman Jr., A. D. Plant, W. D. Vance, D. Jabour and D. McD. Hunter. Business was principally of a routine nature.

Directors Vance and Macdonald, a committee appointed to go into the matter of having the rock removed from the Acropolis grounds and also the question of having a grandstand erected, reported that there had been a meeting with sports bodies of the city and it had been decided to take up the matter with the city council.

There was a letter from the Canadian National Railways stating that an ore cabinet had been erected in the station and asking that the board make arrangements to place the exhibits. A committee consisting of D. McD. Hunter, Frank Dibb, George W. Kerr and Phil Macdonald was named to arrange for the proper display of the ore.

NO GARTERS WORN AT WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY

SEATTLE, March 11. — University of Washington male students almost universally adopted a "no-garter" style here this winter, but co-eds expressed such strong disapproval of the fashion that a compromise of wearing silk socks with garters at formal dances was effected.

Campus sheiks advocating the non-garter style declared that garters were bad for the circulation of the blood, that ten hours a year were saved by not having them fastened to socks, that elimination of their purchase reduced the high cost of a college education, and that it was always a bother to hunt for them in the morning.
