Weekly Allowance to be Reduced for Men but for Children
Increased

Legislation to amend the Workmen's Compensation act, based on terms of an agreement reached by the special committee appointed by the provincial government to review the situation, will be introduced in the legislature at an early date, Hon. R. W. Craig, attorney-general, indicated.

Declaring the solution a most satisfactory one, Mr. Craig stated that it would ensure a period of quietness in connection with the various matters brought up both by employers and employees for several years to come.

No Additional Burden

The agreement, he said, was based on the principle that no additional burden be laid on industry by any change in the act, but a certain readjustment in benefits under the act will be recommended.

The principal adjustment pro-

These are the kind that are dangerous; the kind that weaken the lungs, the kind that allow the germs of consumption to get a foothold in the system.

Mr. John E. Endoff, Golden Lake, Ont., writes: "Last year I had a cold, and a cough which seemed to stick on my chest. I tried different preparations, but they did not seem to help me any. I was advised by a friend, to try posed is a reduction in the minimum weekly allowance made under the act from $15 to $12.50. The saving effected by this means will be applied toward an additional allowance for children under the act on a scale similar to that prevailing in Alberta. There will be no change in widows' allowances, however. As regards dependent children, instead of the $7.50 rate as at present, a monthly allowance of $12 a month will be made for the first child, $10 for the second, $9 for the third and $8 for the fourth, and others.

Demands Ignored

The employees' demand that the amount of compensation for total disability be increased from 36 2-3 per cent. of the average earnings to 75 per cent.; and the employers' demand that it be decreased to 55 per cent., were not acted upon at the meeting. The 36 2-3 rate being permitted to stand by agreement. The one cent a day contribution from workmen, to cover cost of medical aid, also was excluded in the final arrangement. The committee decided against fixing a maximum to be paid under the act.

The agreement came unexpectedly, but proved satisfactory to all parties represented.

Glasgow Scientist Solves Difficult Problem After Years of Experiment

GLASGOW, Feb. 4.—A Glasgow scientist has achieved a simple and effective solution of the problem which is very much to the fore at the moment—the smoke nuisance.

At a demonstration held in his home in Bridgeton, Charles M. Macnamara, M.A., B.Sc., C.E., satisfied a committee of experts from H.M. Office of Works of the efficiency of his device for the elimination of smoke in domestic and industrial consumption. His invention has been adopted by the Commissioner of Works.

It seems peculiarly appropriate that this achievement should fall to the credit of a Glasgow man. It is on record that fully fourteen thousand tons of soot fall in the municipal area, and is responsible for the incalculable harm to health, to buildings, and to plant life.

Following the failure of Professor Enke, the German engineer to have his idea patented by the British Patent Office in 1921, Mr. Macnamara concentrated upon the problem. The genesis of his theory was suggested by the simple paraffin lamp. When a paraffin lamp is lighted, and before the globe is adjusted, there are dense fumes, but immediately the globe is adjusted the fumes disappear.

A Simple Expedient

Mr. Macnamara realised the possibility of adapting this principle to coalfires. But the application of the theory proved a difficult proposition, and it was only after exhaustive and expensive experiments that Mr. Macnamara evolved his device, which is now being taken up by government officials and large firms.

Elaborating the principle of the paraffin lamp, the inventor introduced into the back of the fireplace a series of funicular bricks of special design. The tubes give access to a combustion chamber, and, by a system of air draughts from underneath the grate, and the employment of the hot gases, the smoke is consumed, and only the harmless gases, which it is not possible to eliminate, escaped into the atmosphere.

The fire, except through the combustion chamber, is detached from the flue, and thus accounts for a feature in the device which will appeal to housewives. There is a complete absence of the common nuisance, "blow down."

Big Edinburgh Bakery

In addition to being endorsed by the order from the Office of Works, the invention is to be introduced into the furnaces and ovens of M'Vittie and Price's biscuit factory, on the recommendation of Sir Alexander Grant, who was very much impressed with the idea.

HELPED THEMSELVES

Cockney motorists, riding near a farm orchard, stopped the car, got out, climbed the wall and gathered half a peck of apples.

To complete the "joke" they slowed down as they went by the farmhouse and called out to the owner "We helped ourselves to your apples. Thought we'd tell you."

"Oh, that's all right," the farmer called back. "I helped myself to your tools while you were in the orchard."

CO-OPERATION IN RELIGION TRIED

KEYSTONE, Neb., Feb. 4.—Co-operation and religious toleration are receiving a thorough test in a little church here where both Roman Catholics and Protestants worship. In one end of the edifice is the Catholic altar. Opposite is the pulpit for Protestant services. Seats are arranged like those of a railroad coach so that the backs face either end of the building. Removal of the benches thus changes the church from one denomination to the other as desired. The church seats about 75 persons.
