RUSSIA PLACES FLOUR ORDER IN CANADA

MANAGER OF BUCKLEY BAY LUMBER MILL WAS DROWNED FROM LAUNCH

Huge Flour Order for Canadian Firm Given by Russian Government

Will Take Six Million Bushels of Wheat and Cost About Twelve Million Dollars

TORONTO, Feb. 13.—It is officially confirmed that Canada has booked the largest flour order in the history of the country. Russia has purchased 1,300,000 barrels to feed her people during the shortage caused by the failure of the crops in that country.

The huge purchase represents 6,000,000 bushels of Canadian wheat and is to be supplied by the Maple Leaf Milling Company and Western Canada Flour Mills through their New York agents.

The companies interested have received cash amounting to approximately $12,000,000.

The shipments will be made from New York, commencing as soon as ships are available and continuing until April.

Housemaid Falls in Suit for Damages for Alleged Assault

VANCOUVER, Feb. 13.—W. F. Rooney, lumberman, charged with assault by a former housemaid, Mrs. Lily Ralph, whom he ejected from his home after summary dismissal rather than accede to her demand for two weeks pay in lieu of notice before she left the premises, was found not guilty by a jury.

Mrs. Ralph had sued for $10,000 damages for alleged injuries.

The court observed that a man's home was his castle. Evidence for the defendant indicated that no undue force had been used in the ejection.

GETS LIQUOR FROM RUPERT

Duty Claimed When She Reached Herschel Island; Mountie Disappears

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—That Alaska is consuming quantities of liquor and that most of it is coming from Prince Rupert is the opinion of officials of the Attorney General's department. It is proposed to take more vigorous steps to see that law enforcement in the southeastern part of the territory is better enforced and particularly the Prohibition Act.

It is reported here that in some places in Alaska liquor is being sold openly and that all supplies come from the nearby Canadian territory, where liquor is sold by the Government and also by export houses.

CHILD KILLED BY AUTOMOBILE

Young Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Munro Victim of Accident

DIED LAST NIGHT

Struck yesterday afternoon about 4:30 almost directly in front of her parents' home, 319 Fifth Avenue East, by a taxi car driven by G. V. Symes, little Norma Munro, three-and-a-half year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Munro, sustained a fracture of the skull which resulted in her death at the Prince Rupert General Hospital at 11:25 last night.

According to the statement given to the police by Symes, who resides at Seal Cove and who recently entered the taxi business here, he was travelling west along Fifth Avenue when he saw a group of children in the roadway ahead. He slackened speed but the unfortunate little girl darted across the street to join children on the other side of the road when the car was but a distance of three yards or so off. It was impossible for him to avoid striking the child, the driver declared. She was struck at the base of the skull by the left lamp of the automobile.

Symes immediately notified the police of the accident and Sergeant McGlinchey attended. By this time, however, the little girl had been taken to the hospital by her father who, at the time of the accident, was working in his garage only a short distance away. She was in an unconscious condition and was bleeding profusely from nose and mouth. Everything possible was done by attending physicians and at 11 o'clock it was believed that the child might recover but she could not withstand the injuries and shock and expired at 11:25.

Little Norma was the third child of Mr. and Mrs. Munro. She was born in Prince Rupert. The deepest sympathy of the community will be extended to the parents in their bereavement. The remains are in the hands of the B.C. Undertakers.

An inquest will open this afternoon before Coroner Norman Watt. The jurymen empanelled are J. R. Mitchell, John Dybbayn, Leo Waugh, Percy Tinker, Sam Woods and W. D. Vance. Pending investigation, the driver is being held by the city police.

Captain Klenenburg, skipper of the vessel, reported pushing overland to Fairbanks, en route to Ottawa to secure release of the vessel. He refused to pay the duty payments, contending that under the old Arctic law a trader was exempt from such payments.

The Maid of Orleans was purchased and outfitted in Seattle last summer. On reaching Point Barrow, Canadian officers demanded the payment of duty. Following persuasive arguments the vessel was allowed to sail for Victoria Land with permission to land supplies for the Captain's family and settlers on the island. The schooner sailed under the convoy of a young mounted policeman, who disappeared from the vessel, having been last seen walking on the deck.

Investigation into the disappearance has been ordered.

John Dore, district superintendent of government telegraphs, sailed this morning on the Prince Rupert for Vancouver on business.

Hon. T. D. Pattullo Addresses the Rotary Club on Functions of the Provincial Legislature

Showing the functions of the legislature and its powers under the British North America Act, Hon. T. D. Pattullo yesterday afternoon explained the workings of the government and the value of things often criticized by those not conversant with all the intricacies of the Canadian system of government, in an address before the Rotary Club yesterday at their weekly luncheon. There were twenty visitors present in addition to the members, including the various heads of the elevator construction and the mill and other visitors to the city and local citizens.

Mr. Pattullo first outlined the powers of the province under the B.N.A. Act. He explained that the main difference between the Canadian constitution and that of the U.S.A. was that in Canada all powers not specifically mentioned were vested in the federal government whereas in the U.S. the states were sovereign and only such powers as were relegated to the central government were exercised by it.

Powers of Each

Under the B.N.A. Act the Dominion dealt with the public debt and property; trade and commerce; postal service, customs, defence, navigation, currency, patents, copyrights, Indian control, naturalization, marriage and divorce, and criminal law.

The provinces had powers over their own constitution, direct taxation, public lands, hospitals, companies, marriage, administration of justice, education, and other matters of purely provincial import.

British Columbia was the only province that made a land grant to the Dominion in regard to railway matters at the time of Confederation and if the other provinces should succeed in bargaining with the Dominion for a return of their natural resources British Columbia would at once ask for the return of the lands of the Peace River block and the railway belt.

In regard to the much debated question of the number of members in the Legislature, Mr. Pattullo defended the present system because of the large size of the province and the difficulty of members being able to cover the whole district and look after its needs. If the number of members were reduced they would have to be reduced in the cities and that would not be agreeable to them. In the scattered country districts they
