Rates to Visit New York and Canada

dle-class, stay-at-home Britons are to be encouraged to go get a fleeting glimpse of the new world this coming summer during their regular annual holidays. Vacations for the majority; of white-collared workers who inhabit this island consist of 21 days. Heretofore the middle class have counted on no further holiday excursions than jaunts to the countries just across the channel; relatively few get so ar away as Italy.

And now the steamship companies for a mere £50, less than $250, offer to take them to New! York, whizz them rapidly for few days around the American metropolis, show them a few spots in Canada, and deliver them back home, all within those precious 21 days of summer holiday.
