MAKING ARRANGEMENTS OPENING OF MILL SNOWSLIDES, FOLLOWING THAW, TAKE TOLL OF LIFE IN SLOCAN COUNTRY

Railway is Closed as Result of Mud Slides in Kootenay District

NELSON, Feb. 5.—Two lives were snuffed out and a ranch house destroyed and the railway line closed for the season as result of snowslides during the past 24 hours following a day's thaw. The rain on Wednesday morning caused a snow slide which demolished the ranch house of John Hoyle at Queen's Bay, overwhelming the portion containing Hoyle and his wife, and carrying away the upper section where the son and servant occupied rooms. The latter two escaped serious injuries but the two former were buried, and a gang of 22 men were working yesterday to remove the tons of mud but without finding the bodies. Work was resumed today.

Boy.

MONTREAL, Feb. 5.—Following the finding of the coroner's jury, charging him with responsibility for the death of Henri Usmar, a lad eight years of age, in the Brothers' school, brother Usmar was charged with manslaughter.

The boy died on January 24 as a result of a scalding he suffered when the brother gave him a bath at the school.

Dr. Drome, morgue physician, said it was likely the lad had been held under water, "as not only was the skin scalded but the flesh underneath had begun to cook."

SEATTLE, Feb. 5.—The suggestion was made in court yesterday that charges against Ross Watson, as one of the defendants in the $22,000 Bon Marche departmental store robbery trial for February 9, might be dismissed for lack of evidence.

Watson's exoneration in this case will have no direct effect on the charge of participation in the Nanaimo bank robbery, for which he is now being held for extradition.

Watson was formerly a member of the Seattle police force.

RAILWAY TRACK IS NOW CLEARED

Train From the East Hill Arrive
About 8 Tonight And One
For the East Will Leave Shortly After

The four day tie-up on the railway between Kwinitsa and Ainsbury on account of snow slides and drifts was ended this morning when the rotary plow that had been working from this end got through and the west-bound passenger train, which has been waiting at Pacific, was despatched to Prince Rupert. It was stated at the office of the general superintendent at noon that the train from the East would be in between 8 and 9 o'clock tonight, probably nearer eight o'clock. The train for the East will leave soon after that from the East arrives.

It is over five days now since there has been a train in from the East and it was last Saturday that the last one left here for the East. The company intends to keep its snow plowing equipment near Kwinitsa until all danger of further tie-ups from snow is removed.

Fred Weaver, American vice-consul here, is leaving tomorrow for Vancouver en route to Corinto where he is to assume the position of vice-consul.

Sir Henry Thornton's Message to People of Great Britain is Broadcasted to Them by Radio

MONCTON, N.B., Feb. 5.—"Canada wants no other flag than the Union Jack and wants no other form of government than that which subsists under the throne of Great Britain," declared Sir Henry W. Thornton, chairman and president of the Canadian National Railways, in a message sent out from radio station CNRA in a broadcast which forged a new link in the bond of Empire which joins Canada to the Motherland. It was the first real attempt of any station in Canada to broadcast a concert designed entirely for the entertainment of listeners in the other side of the Atlantic.

It was made possible by the messages which have been received in large numbers telling of successful trans-Atlantic transmission by the Moncton station of the Canadian National Railways on numerous occasions.

So the voice which went quivering out over the Atlantic was the voice of Canada speaking to the Motherland, a voice that was caught up in London by the powerful stations of the British broadcasting company and re-broadcasted from that station throughout the British Isles.

Value of Wireless

Sir Henry in the message which was delivered for him as one of the features of the program, says in part, "The experiment we are conducting tonight shows the value of the wireless in bringing large enterprises such as the Canadian National Railways into close contact with the staff and the public. Here in Canada with our vast and widely flung railway mileage, we find wireless of great value in maintaining a human contact between the administration and our men. For after all the success of any large transportation undertaking depends upon the goodwill of the public and the loyal, enthusiastic support of the staff."

Land Of Opportunity

"Attempts have been made in certain quarters in Great Britain to discredit the name of Canada and to discourage immigration from the United Kingdom to Canada," said Sir Henry. "As one who has lived among you over there, as one who has come to know you and to love you well, I give you my assurance based upon thorough knowledge of conditions in Great Britain and in Canada, that Canada is still the land of great opportunities. For the man and the woman not afraid to work, there are in Canada opportunities to be found nowhere else in the world."

Representative of Mill Owners Discussed With City Council Water, Power and Assessment

J. A. Ward Bell, representing the new owners of the Prince Rupert mill, met the members of the city council last night informally and laid before them the situation in connection with the operation of the mill here. He discussed with them the question of water supply, power and a fixed assessment on the plant.

Mr. Bell said he was given a fair hearing and his proposals were promised careful consideration. Members of the council showed themselves desirous of co-operating to secure an agreement which would prove satisfactory. This agreement may have been submitted to the people.

Mr. Bell will be in the city for ten days and during that time will probably discuss the matter further with the council.

Arriving with Mr. Bell yesterday from the south was D. D. McMaster, superintendent of the plant, and two or three men who will be employed there. Other men required will be secured locally. Work is commencing at once on the reconstruction of the mill in order that it may be ready for operation as early a date as possible.

The conference last night between Mr. Bell and the members of the city council was in progress for three hours and a half. At its conclusion, Mr. Bell was told that the city's answer would be made in a few days.

Outline Plans

In outlining his plans to the council, Mr. Bell said that, while it was the intention at present to cut lumber and to put in a box factory and shingle mill, the ultimate plan was to install a pulp and possibly a paper mill. This would take a lot of money and the treatment given them here would influence them largely in connection with it.

At present, the company would purchase its logs rather than cutting from its own limits. John Smith and himself were the only ones interested in the concern and it was an operating proposition and not a promoting plan.

In connection with the possibility of erecting a pulp and paper mill here, Mr. Bell said it would take six, seven or eight million dollars and it was difficult to induce people to put that much money into it just now. He was satisfied, however, that this could be done and that it would be the economical method of handling the timber, 75 per cent of which in this district was suited only for pulp purposes.
