

ASKS FOR MORE POLICEMEN IN PRINCE RUPERT

Commissioner Coombs Urged Appointment of Six Permanent Men Here

A resolution proposed by Commissioner Coombs that the city police force be increased from its present strength of four regular officers and one special officer to six permanent men including the chief failed to find support at the hands of Commissioner Montgomery and Mayor Newton at the monthly meeting of the commission yesterday afternoon and was deferred for a month.

In submitting his resolution, Commissioner Coombs stated he was still of the opinion, as he was last month, that there should be a force of six men. There should be a man constantly at the station at night as a matter of safety and the waterfront was entitled to some protection in the way of patrol. There could not be an efficient policing of the city without six men he felt.

Commissioner Montgomery took the view that the city was getting along nicely with the present force and he did not think an increase was necessary. The mayor and chief should at all times, however, have the right to engage special officers when it seemed necessary so to do. The city could not afford sufficient officers to maintain a patrol of the entire community.

Mayor Newton desired to keep the force down to its present strength if possible. January and February reports showed that conditions were quiet in the city. He did not consider that there was great danger in not always having an officer in the station for the building itself was never empty. He was desirous of curtailing expenses as far as reasonable. If conditions made it necessary, the force could readily be augmented at any time. The mayor suggested that one of the firemen might take up his quarters in the police station during the night but this idea did not find favor with the remainder of the board.

In answer to the mayor, Chief Vickers stated that, even with the force of five, it might be possible to send an officer along the waterfront occasionally. A man had already been engaged for the waterfront at night. He was being paid by the fishermen. Commissioner Coombs insisted on submitting his motion which was finally laid over by the mayor until such time as the proposal now on foot to have an amalgamation with the provincial police force was settled upon.

BANQUET BY MEN'S CLUB

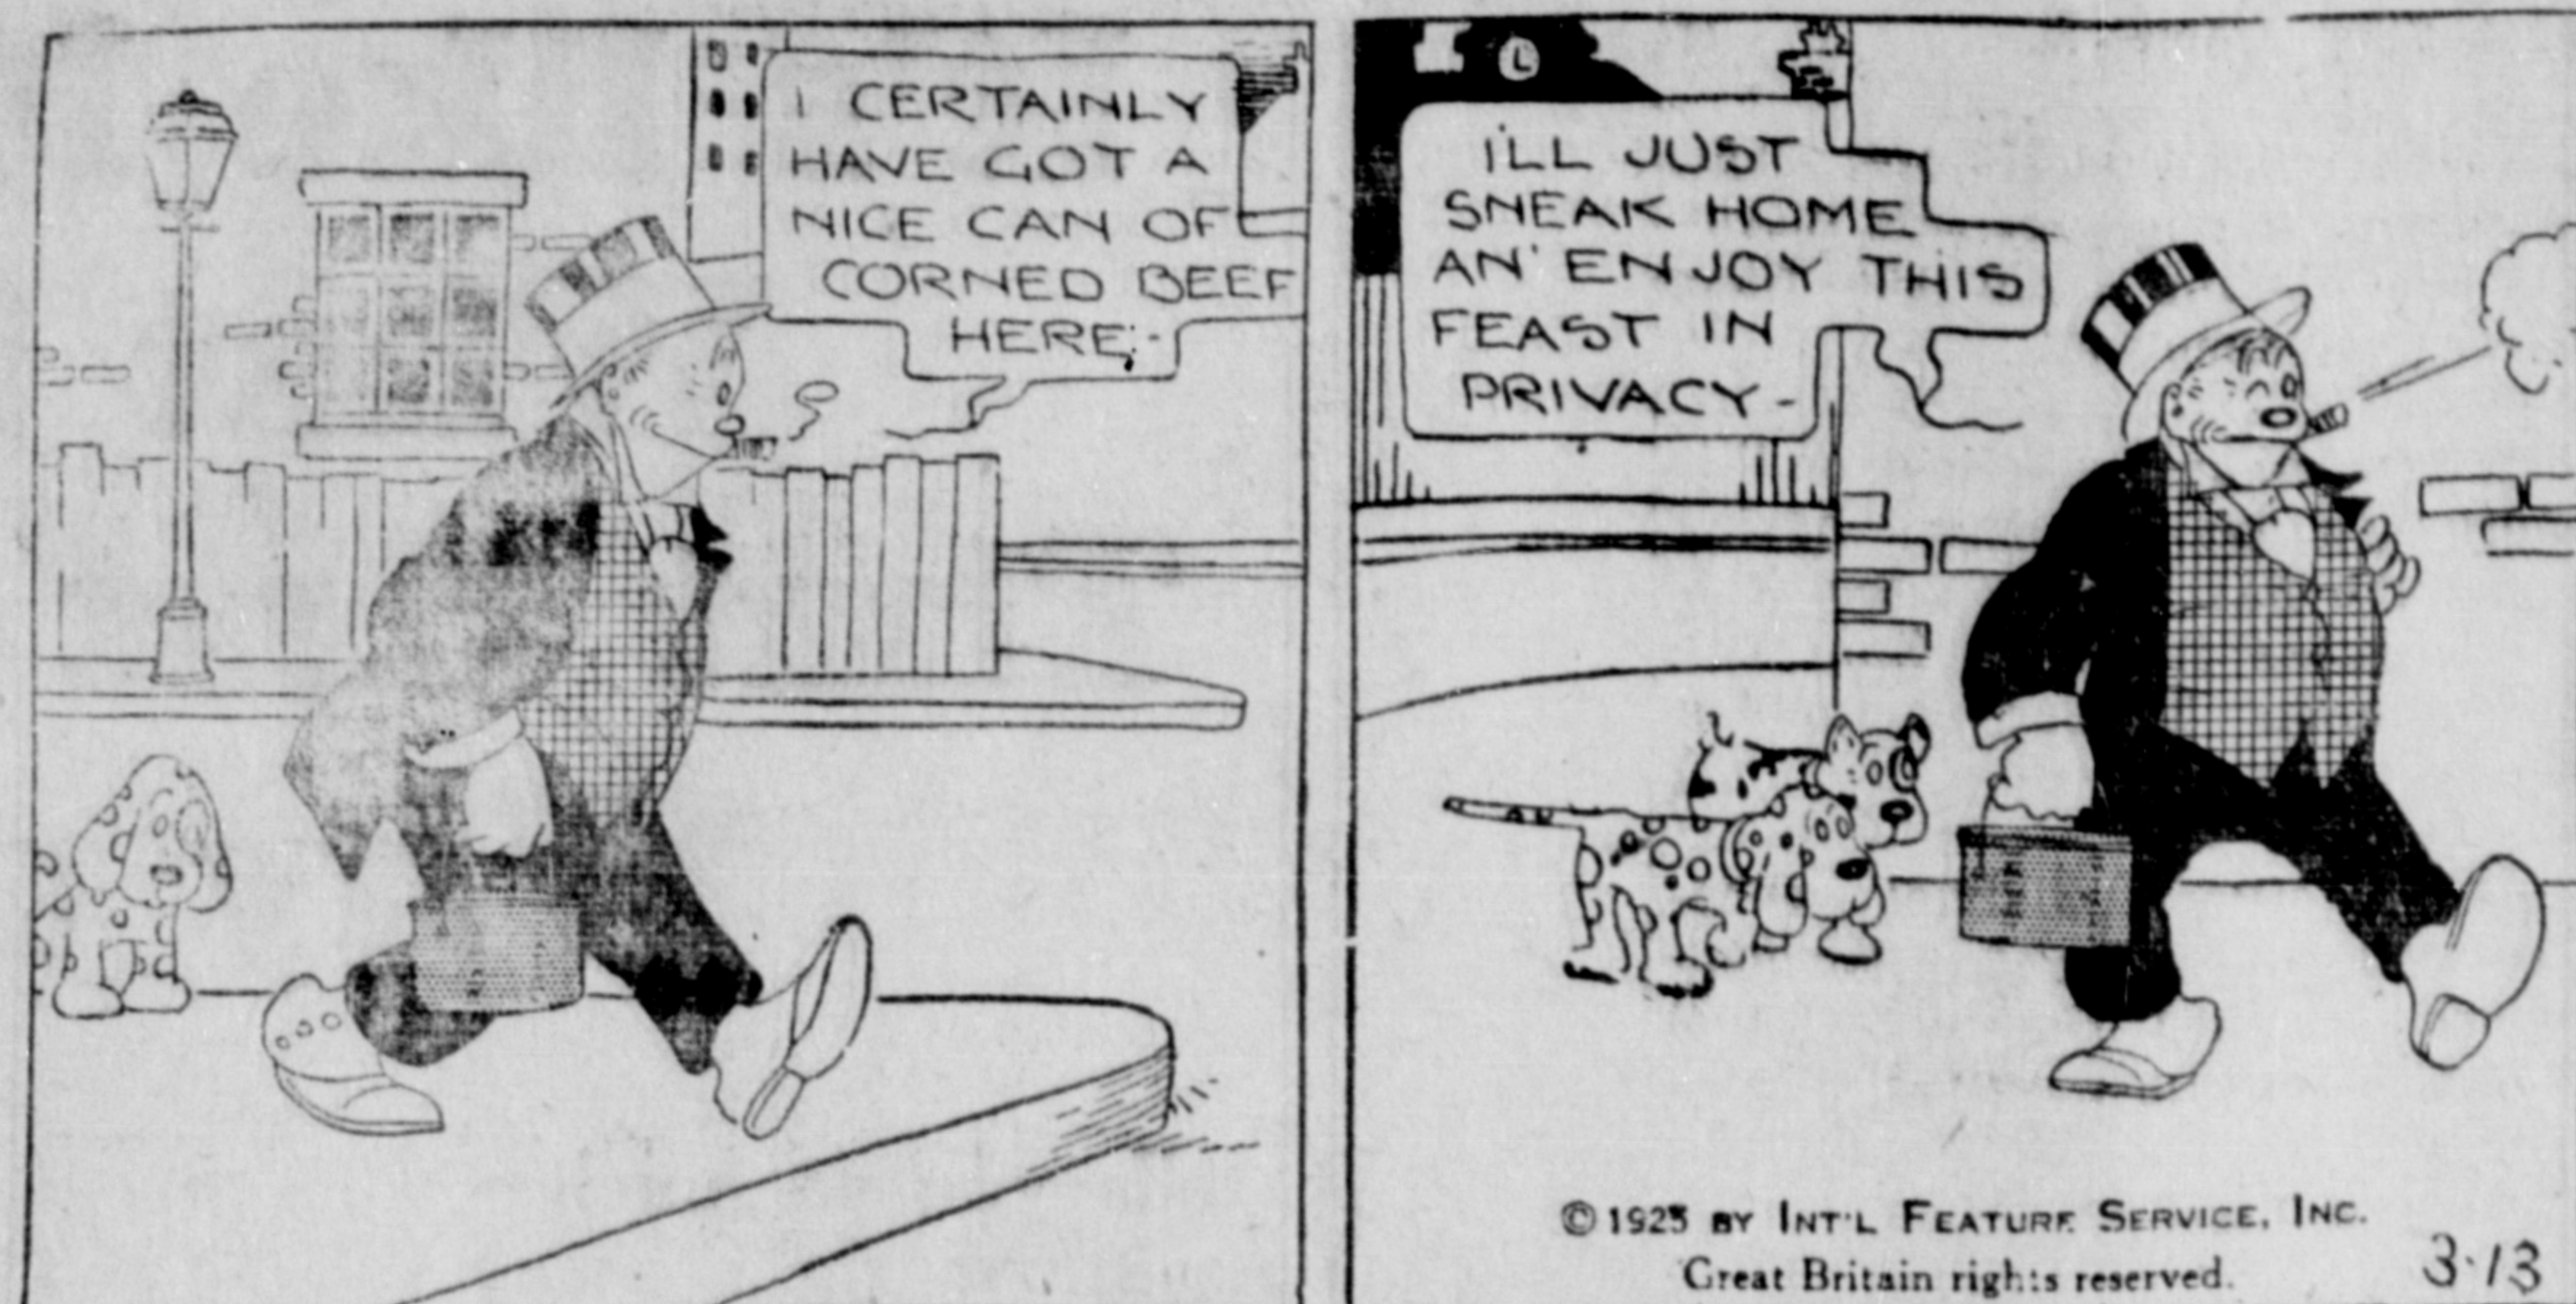

One Hundred and Sixty Persons at Unique Affair in Methodist Church Last Night

A successful banquet under the auspices of the Methodist Men's Club took place last night in the social hall of the church. The slogan was "Men Provide and Men Serve, Women Specially Invited." The food was wonderful in quantity, quality and variety while chefs and waiters, attired in white coats and white aprons, presented a very smart appearance. It required three rooms to seat the 160 guests. Decorations were daffodils. The program consisted of a violin solo by William Murray, jr., vocal solos by Melvyn Davies, Miss K. Jones, C. G. Minns and John E. Davey. A humorous address on the topic of "Humor" was given by Principal J. C. Brady in which he treated the humor of the Irish, Scotch and American.

Must be Fresh

A very unique address was delivered by W. Robinson, foreman of the Canadian Fish & Cold Storage Co. He took for his topic "The Fishing Industry" particularly that part of it relating to the handling of fish. Mr. Robinson stressed that co-operation was the keynote in the fish business with speed and cleanliness as essential factors. He said the dog ripened its meat by burying it and the Englishman made his game high by hanging it. Neither of these methods were applied in handling fish which must be placed on the market while fresh. He then traced how Prince Rupert fish found its way to the most distant parts of the world and said that the reputation of Prince Rupert depended on the quality of the fish marketed.

A humorous debate "Resolved that Men's Troubles are Greater than Women's" followed. The affirmative was taken by Alfred D. Plant and Frank Vickers, the negative by Miss Isabel Haddock and Mrs. Plant. The debate was decided by popular vote, the ladies winning, it is said, because all the ladies voted for themselves and all the hen-pecked husbands also voted for the women. The closing item was a sketch entitled "The Tango," Earl Barrie as "Mary Ann" made a great hit as did Jack Stevens who took the part of a Dutchman. The other parts were well sustained by William Murray, jr., Jack Dean, Henry Heilbroner and Jim Parker. Dr. W. T. Kerzin acted as chairman and the accompanists were Miss Marjorie Lancaster, Mrs. C. G. Minns, W. Vaughan Davies and Clifford Cameron.

The program committee consisted of Frank Dobb, Alfred Plant and Cliff Cameron. The refreshment committee was made up of Frank Vickers, W. G. Walford, John Wostenholme and Rev. G. G. Haeker. Waiters were George Hunt, Lance Portterton, W. B. Cornish, J. Wostenholme, E. Dobb, Jack Cobb, F. Vickers, Henry Heilbroner, Cliff Cameron, Alfred Plant, Jack Dean, Jack Stevens, Frank Derry and A. J. Lancaster.

DEASE LAKE COUNTRY FOR YOUNG MEN SAYS VANCOUVER SPEAKER

VANCOUVER, March 13.—"Prospectors are naturally nomadic; a passing race of men," said George E. Winkler, speaking to the B.C. Chamber of Mines.

"One is also attracted by the prospectors, the minerals they seek, and they move in search of fresh fields to conquer.

"And yet I would advise any and all young men possessing courage and backbone to purchase a ticket for the next boat leaving for the northern mineral fields.

"The general supposition is that the old soundboughs must develop the Dease Lake; and right there the mistake is made.

"This is a young men's country; let them 'dig in' if Canada is ever going to see the prosperous times one hears so much about."
