

ROTARIANS ARE HONOR GUESTS AT KETCHIKAN

Flag Brought From Overseas Was Presented to Club by Visitors From This City

BANQUET ON MONDAY

Arriving home yesterday afternoon on the Princess Mary were a number of members of the Prince Rupert Rotary Club who went to Ketchikan last Friday for the purpose of taking part in the ceremony of presenting the charter to the Ketchikan Club at which Governor Frank Riggs of Portland, Oregon, officiated. Those making the trip were F. G. Dawson, Mr. and Mrs. George Bryant, Mr. and Mrs. Sydney Johnston, Mr. and Mrs. James Lee, John Dore, H. F. Pullen, C. H. Orme and Thos. Trotter. Several local men went across on the Cagan which called here Monday but they arrived too late for the big event. They were Consul Wakefield, Jarvis McLeod and T. H. Johnson.

The visitors were taken in charge on their arrival by Harry Nunan, president of the Ketchikan Rotary Club, and a number of others and from that time on they were given the freedom of the city. Autos were at their disposal and they were dinner guests at a number of Ketchikan homes. The Elks Club and other organizations made them welcome and the whole visit was a round of sight-seeing and entertainment.

Climax Monday

The climax of the whole affair occurred Monday night when a big banquet was given at which members of the club and their wives were present. There the Union Jack intermingled with the Stars and Stripes and everything possible was done to make the visitors feel that they were welcome and that their visit was appreciated.

The local speakers at this event were F. G. Dawson and C. H. Orme, the former responding to an address of welcome and the latter presenting the club with a standard and bell for the use of the president at meetings and a fine Union Jack donated by Sydney Johnston, a flag which he had brought from overseas and which he prized much. Mrs. Johnston sang most acceptably, surprising a number of her friends who were not aware of her ability in that line.

The full program follows:

- 1—Anglo - American Anthem, All.
- 2—Dinner.
- 3—Roll Call and Introductions.
- 4—Community Singing, All, led by N. R. Walker.
- 5—Address of Welcome, Rev. C. M. Van Marter.

MEETING OF FAIR BOARD

Tender for Printing Prize List Accepted — May Obtain Services of Local Band

The Fair Board held its regular monthly meeting last night, directors present being President Ben Self, Frank Dibb, S. D. Macdonald, D. Jabour, Ald. Brown, John Bulger, Fred Scadden, W. D. Vance, A. D. Plant and D. McD. Hunter. Business was principally of a routine nature.

Tenders for the printing of the 1925 prize list were opened. The only tender submitted, that of Rose, Cowan & Latta, was accepted.

The sports committee reported on behalf of the joint committee of the Fair Board and Elks that arrangements for the forthcoming May Queen carnival were well under way and that rehearsals were already being held under the direction of Mrs. David Thomson in the Elks Home.

The matter of obtaining the services of a band for the Fair was discussed and it was decided to approach the instructor of the North B.C. Regiment band with a view to possibly having that band perform.

MAYOR OF EDMONTON MAY BE CANDIDATE

Kenneth Blatchford Will Have Name Before Liberal Convention of Edmonton East

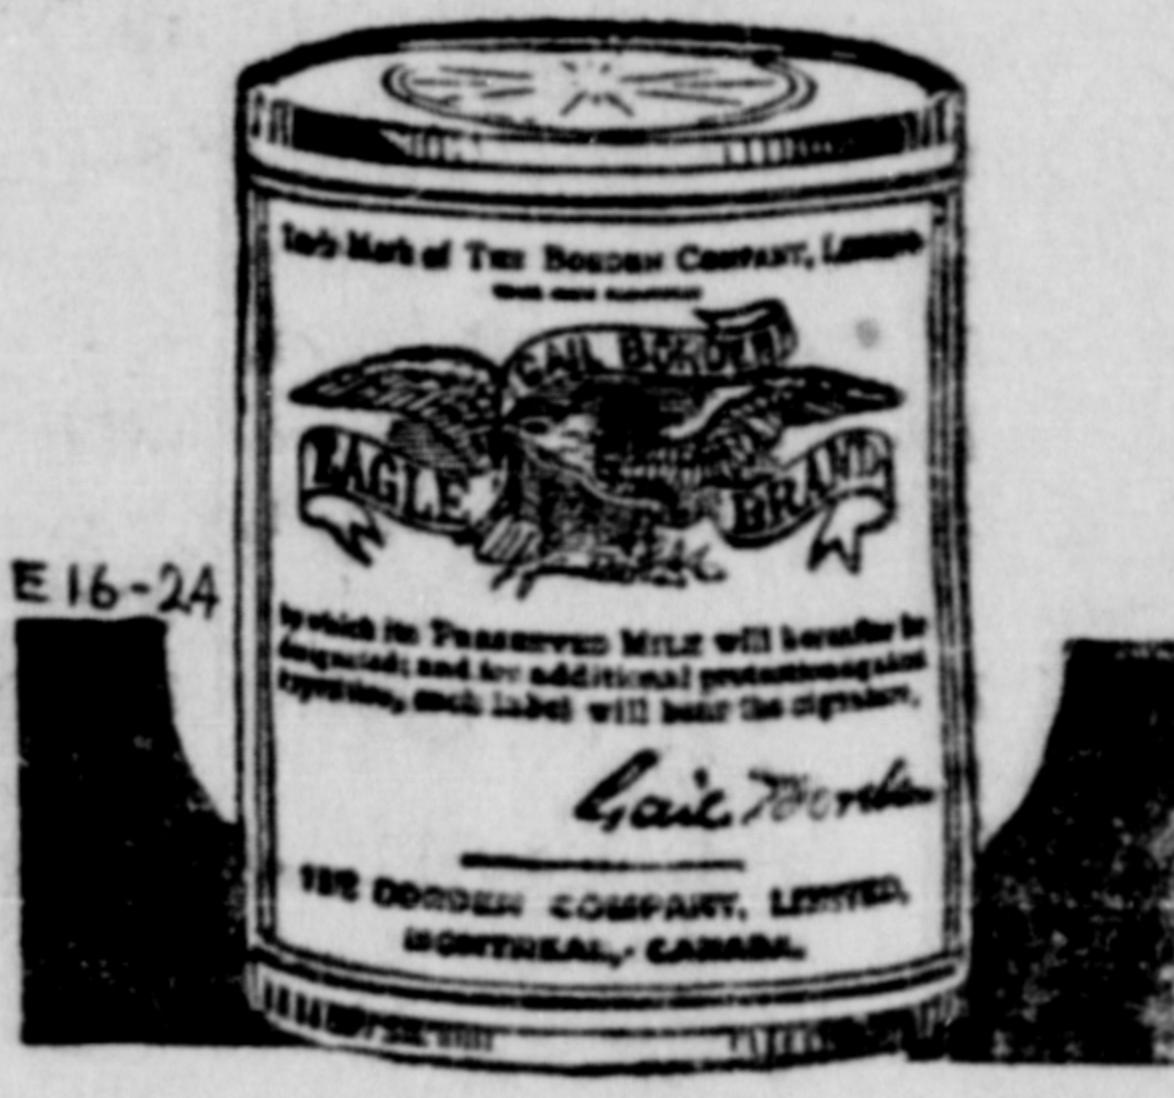

EDMONTON, May 13.—There is no prospective Conservative candidate in the field for the East Edmonton Federal riding up to date, as far as can be learned. It is understood, however, that it is planned to put a candidate into the field and the organizers will get busy within the next few weeks to get the constituency lined up.

There are three prospective Liberal candidates, Mayor Kenneth Blatchford, A. R. McLennan, M.L.A., and Joseph A. Clarke. These three have all announced their intention of allowing their names to go before the nominating convention which is to be held on May 27.

It is understood that the Conservative convention will not be held until some time later.

There is also likely to be a Labor candidate in the field. No definite announcement has been made by this organization as yet, but it is understood that they are laying plans and hope to secure the support of the rural sections of this community. It is not likely that the U.F.A. organization will put a candidate into the field, because of the small rural vote in comparison to the city. It has not been decided however, that this organization will link up with labor.

Motorship Fairbanks, Capt. McKay, arrived in port this morning with 30 tons of palladium concentrates for transhipment east over the Canadian National Railways to Irvington smelter, New Jersey, from the Salt Chuck mine, Alaska.

While Mr. Miller was there, word came from Telegraph Creek that the water had risen four feet and therefore the boats would be able to reach their destination. While the stream was fairly clear there was a still a certain amount of ice coming down which had to be avoided in navigating the Stikine.

While the visitors were at Wrangell the Commercial Club gave a luncheon to the men who were planning the flight to the interior to prospect the mineral deposit which had been found years before and which was to be reached by airplane. The plane had not yet reached Wrangell.

The plane is a large one and will carry in three tons of supplies and bring out ore samples for assay. The ore shown at the luncheon was said to go $300 to the ton in gold alone.

Among the local men on the first party going into the Dease country was J. F. Ritchie Jr.

Mr. Miller took in Jack Wynne who is to act as customs officer at the boundary on the Stikine River. He had Mrs. Wynne and child with him.

GOOD TYPE OF MEN FOR DEASE LAKE DIGGINGS

While Number Going In Was Few, They Were Mostly Old Prospectors

J. E. Miller, inspector of customs, and T. Mason his assistant, who arrived from Wrangell on the Princess Mary yesterday say that the rush into the Dease Lake gold diggings did not amount to very much. Only 103 went up on the three boats that left on their first trip while he was there and 25 went in over the ice previous to that. A few others were preparing to leave. The redeeming feature of the move was the quality of the men who were going in. They were mostly old prospectors who know the game well and who will do some real work in the country and will probably find the gold if it is there.

The vessels leaving were the Hazel B. 2, Hazel B. 3, and Hazel B. 4. One of these towed a barge which carried tractors, automobiles, a team of oxen and a team of horses and a lot of other things needed in the country, including many tons of general supplies.

MACKINTOSHES ARE DOING WELL IN SOUTH

Eric is Star in Olympic Football Club Which Cleaned up City Honors

F. W. Mackintosh, who formerly resided here for some six or seven years and who was a former manager for the Fair board, writing to E. H. Mortimer from San Francisco, intimates that both he and his son, Eric, are doing well in the southern metropolis. Mr. Mackintosh is now chief accountant for the Fleischacker Playfields under the San Francisco Parks Commission. Eric Mackintosh, a former star in local football circles, is now playing for the famous Olympic Club of that city. His team has not only won the local league but also two cup series. The writer states that the soccer game is played much faster down south and that there is a surfeit of old country talent.
