STORY OF OUTLAWS SHOWN HERE TONIGHT

Love Affair of Beautiful Girl and Cowboy Give Rise to Thrilling Situations

The Zane Grey Paramount picture, "The Border Legion," featuring Antonio Moreno and Helene Chadwick in the principal roles, will be shown here tonight.

The story deals with the love affair of a beautiful daughter of the West, played by Miss Chadwick, and Moreno, a young cowboy, and with the activities of a band of ruthless outlaws called "The Border Legion," headed by Rockliffe Fellowes and Gibson Gowland.

Taunted by the girl, Jim Cleve decides to join the Legion. The girl, forgiving, rides to bring him back, but is intercepted by Kells who takes the girl a prisoner to his lonely cabin in the mountains. He tries to make love to her but she resists, shooting and wounding him.

Cleve goes to the cabin to enlist in the Legion. He catches sight of the girl and manages to get a word alone with her. They plan to escape. When this proves impossible, Jim finds an itinerant preacher, and he and the girl are married.

The outlaws ride to raid a gold camp but are betrayed and only four escape alive. During the raid Cleve and the girl escape on the coach carrying the gold from the camp, but the remnants of the band hold up the coach, wound Cleve and again carry off the girl.

The bandits have gathered in a cabin and are playing cards to see who shall have the girl when Cleve, bloody and barely able to stand, staggers in. He reaches for his guns. The lights are knocked out, pistols flash and then

LOTS OF GINGER IN "NEVER SAY DIE" AT WESTHOLME THEATRE

Mid-Week Play Features Douglas MacLean Who is Supposed to be Sick

Jack Woodbury, otherwise Douglas MacLean, was supposed to have heart trouble!

A corps of noted physicians diagnosed his case as leaky valves and palpitation. It really was only a bee which buzzed around in the doctor's stethoscope and afterwards stung Jack on the chest.

The only heart trouble Jack ever had was on account of Violet and her ravishing dimple. But she was engaged to Hector. It was a case of love at first sight for Jack. After the doctor's mistake Hector saw his chance to pick up an easy inheritance. He forced Violet to agree to marry Jack, become his heir and save his fortune from going to charity. Later she could marry Hector who happened to be Jack's best friend. It didn't sound like a nice thing to do, but—ah, boys and girls! what a bear of a comedy situation!

Everything was thus set, when Jack double-crossed the gang by remaining in the best of health. To make a funny situation worse, Violet, in the person of the adorable Lillian Rich, fell madly in love with Jack. She just couldn't help doing it. It upset Hector's efforts—to drag in a Parisian vamp to compromise the unwilling bridegroom.

No one but Douglas MacLean would be clever enough to extricate himself from so many complications.

But the gold-grabber wasn't beaten yet! He hired an expert gunman to catapult Jack into eternity and Jack had the wildest, most hilariously furious ride of his life eluding the gunman in a dilapidated hackney-cab, which lost horse and cabbie and barely missed crashing into no less than seventy-nine obstacles.

WEEK END PICTURE LOOKS LIKE WINNER

"A Thief in Paradise" Features a Polo Game Played by Beautiful Girls in Bathing Suits

Doris Kenyon is the leading lady in the original story, "A Thief in Paradise," filmed for Prince Rupert audiences and to be shown here at the week end. Here's what it is:

The glamour of the China Seas. Beachcombers diving in the waters for rare pearls. A fight underneath the water—two men battling for a pearl and then their bigger fight under water with a shark.

San Francisco society where a man masquerades in another's place and steals a girl's heart. And contrasted with this is San Francisco's bohemia where this thief has a rendezvous with an Eurasian belle.

A polo match—blondes vs. brunettes on horseback. Something entirely new—never before shown on the screen.

A runaway chase that runs the whole gamut.

A big society revel where a beauty does an under water dance dressed in a costume of pearls. It's original, too—and, boys, it certainly is beautiful—and the girl is captivating.

And an airplane honeymoon. Some thrill—full of new delights.

And the ending—a climax that grips—a fitting end for a marvellous picture.

NO MORE FOOLING

NOWHERE did Abraham Lincoln show his shrewdness of judgment to better effect than in that famous utterance which ended, "You can't fool all the people all the time."

In the past, there were a few misguided advertisers who thought they could sell their wares better by misrepresentation. But those advertisers have long since gone out of business or mended their ways. Hard experience taught that Lincoln was right, Untruthful advertising doesn't pay.

Other advertisers proved that the only way to advertise successfully, make regular customers and build up public good-will was to tell the absolute truth about their goods.

So, you can be sure that every consistently advertised product is good. The advertising test has proved it. The very fact that it is advertised is your best warranty of satisfaction and true quality.

The concern that tells you frankly what it is doing is a good concern with which to do business. That is why it pays to read the advertisements, to patronize advertisers, and to buy advertised merchandise.

It's mighty good business
