notice her clothes too much. A little guilted skirt and weskit, like the one pictured here. is a sturdy, hard-wearing outfit. The material, which sewing centres advise should be chosen from preishrunk, washable fabric, can be quilted with very little time and effect with the quilter attachment. Instruction on the use of the quilter is available in sewing centres, too. The machine rows add reinforcement and prolong wear. The little blouse can also be changed often.
