ANNUAL BAZAAR IS PROCEEDING

Anglican Women Holding Annual Event This Afternoon in Church Hall

The annual bazaar of the Women's Auxiliary of St. Andrew's Anglican Church was opened at 3 o'clock this afternoon in the church hall by Archdeacon G. A. Rix. The hall has been tastefully decorated and presents a pretty scene for the occasion. A large number of fancy and useful articles are being offered for sale and, besides, there are a number of novelties. Tea is being served and a musical program will be rendered.

Mrs. T. Andrew, president of the Auxiliary, is in general charge. The various departments are being conducted as follows:

Plain and fancy needlework—Mrs. C. F. Kemp, Mrs. Fred Pyle, Mrs. A. E. Bazzett-Jones and Mrs. J. H. Macey.

Home Cooking—Mrs. Wallace C. Orchard, Mrs. R. V. G. Lepine, Mrs. Adam Mackie and Mrs. M. M. Stephens.

Bran tub—Mrs. G. H. Arnott and Mrs. G. Smith.

Candy and novelties—Mrs. C. C. Mills assisted by members of the Girls' Auxiliary.

White Elephant—Mrs. C. V. Eviitt and Mrs. A. E. Wright.

Japanese stall—Miss Lennox assisted by Japanese ladies.

Decorations—Mrs. A. T. Parkin, Mrs. A. E. Wright, Mrs. W. H. Vickers, Mrs. G. Smith and Mrs. Burt.

Program—Mrs. G. A. Woodland, Mrs. D. Wilton and Mrs. A. T. Parkin.

Cashier—Mrs. W. E. Collison.

Mrs. W. J. Greer is in charge of the tea room; Mrs. F. H. Du Vernet, Mrs. G. A. Rix, Mrs. J. C. McLennan and Mrs. H. E. Tremayne are pouring; assisting are Mrs. Tucker, Mrs. Gandow, Mrs. Burt, Mrs. Bert West and Mrs. W. B. Morgan, while Mrs. Creech, Mrs. H. O. Crewe, Mrs. A. T. Parkin, Mrs. W. H. Vickers, Mrs. J. W. Nicholls, Mrs. E. S. Tall and Mrs. Skuce are acting as serviteurs.

GRAVE OF DONKEY BECOMES A SHRINE

Holy Dervish Receives Alms After Burying His Beast of Burden

A story used to be told by the rihald here of a certain dervish who, in the course of his pilgrimage to the Holy Cities, lost by death the donkey which had been presented to him by his sheik, says the London Times. The dervish buried the dead animal by the roadside, and then, declaring that a dead companion had been interred in the newly made grave, managed, little by little, to collect enough alms from pious travellers to set up a turbeh or mausoleum over the body and, of course, became himself, to his no small profit, the custodian of the shrine.

As the years went past this turbeh became a great resort of pilgrims. Wonderful miracles were accomplished at the shrine, and their fame reached even to the old sheik, who had never had any tidings of his disciple since he set forth on his pilgrimage to the Holy Cities. Filled then with pious curiosity, he finally decided to visit his colleague, and, after locking up his own turbeh, set out on his journey. Great was his joy when he recognized in the turbeh his former pupil, and when at last the two men were alone the old sheik inquired with much interest about the bones which reposed under the turbeh, as he had never heard of any saint who used to dwell in that neighborhood. The dervish was for a while covered with confusion, but finally confided to the sheik that the sole occupant of the turbeh was his donkey, which had died on the journey. To the relief of the younger man, the sheik did not appear to be greatly affected by this confession, and so, after a pause, the dervish ventured to inquire who was the saint whose bones reposed under his master's turbeh, and then learned for the first time that that building housed the mortal remains of the father of his own holy ass.

PRESENTATION TO DR. GRANT

St. Andrew's Society Gives Retiring Chaplin Moose-hide Lamp Shade

Members of the St. Andrew's Society gathered in large numbers last evening to bid farewell to Rev. Dr. H. R. Grant, their chaplain for eleven years, who is about to leave the city.

The feature of the evening was the presentation to Dr. Grant of a beautiful burnt moose-hide lamp shade, the handiwork of Morte H. Craig, Prince Rupert's artist. The presentation was made on behalf of the Society by S. D. Macdonald and the lamp bore the following text:

"As the years roll on Prince Rupert will naturally become a past event in your life and each day will grow a trifle more misty as newer and fresher experiences make their daily demands on your care and consideration. For this reason we have gathered here tonight to present to you a very novel address which cannot fail to constantly and persistently perpetuate a loving memory of loyalty and love of the friends who are leaving behind. We are going to miss you and we want to tell you that, on bidding farewell to you and your family, it is with the keenest regret and sorrow."

"Life membership in the St. Andrew's Society of Prince Rupert was conferred upon Rev. Dr. H. R. Grant on September 13, 1918."

Dr. Grant made a suitable reply to the presentation.

In the course of the evening there was a musical program to which Mrs. Jarvis H. McLeod, Mrs. William Millar, George Waddell, Miss Catherine Jones, John E. Davey, Alex. Clapperton and Bob James contributed with W. Vaughan Davies accompanying. There were also pipe selections by Piper Archie McIndawar. The evening closed with the customary Scottish farewell of singing "Auld Lang Syne."

George W. Abbott presided and the committee consisted of S. D. Macdonald, Howard Steen, Geo. W. Abbott and Archie Sinclair. Refreshments were served under a committee consisting of Mrs. G. W. Abbott, Mrs. J. R. Tannock and Mrs. Howard Steen.

Son—Pa, is a diplomat a man who knows how to hold his tongue?

Father—No, my boy. A diplomat is a man who knows how to hold his job.

BULLET RIDDLED AUTOS ARE SOLD

Relics of Rum Running Days Disposed of by Sheriff at Regina

REGINA, Nov. 5.—Riddled with bullets, two powerful touring cars, relics of the rum-running days of Regina, under the prohibition regime, were the focus of interest at a sheriff's sale here.

The sale was made under a judgment given Alfred Rubin, of Montreal against the Prairie Drug Company, Regina, in the court of King's Bench recently. The sale realized $16,000.

Besides the two old cars, there were 1,200 cases of empty bottles, a still, 220 oak barrels, 19 hogheads, 185 steel drums, 28 small kegs and 14 crates of pint flasks, the full paraphernalia for the liquor manufacturing firm of several years ago.

Listed for sale were 199 drums of pure alcohol, containing a total of 22,000 gallons, but these were not sold. The Liquor Board refused the sheriff permission to dispose of the spirits, which was under bond.

Practically all of the material was bought by Mr. Rubin, who originally started the action in connection with some liquor deals made several years ago. If some means of selling the alcohol can be found, it is expected that the balance of the judgment will be realized.

INDIAN THEORY IS DISCLOSED

Curious Tale of Evolution of Man Written on Rocks 2,900 Years Ago

DENVER, Colo., Nov. 5.—The research of Dr. Jean Allard Jeancon, curator of archaeology for the Colorado museum, has disclosed that the North American Indians devised a theory of evolution which antedated that of Charles Darwin by some 3,900 years.

Written on rocks in symbolic language, which archaeologists have found in ruins, the Indian's legend of the creation and evolution of man was that he was born of Mother Earth in her innermost recesses and after four
