Insurance Matters Are Adjusted.

The general principle of giving Prince Rupert equal insurance with other Pacific ports has been won, even though possibly minor matters in connection with it may yet have to be taken up with the British board. Boats may now come here and load without endangering their standing at Lloyds or with any other big insurance organization.

The Board of Trade has fought this matter for a long time. An interminable number of letters have been written and rewritten with little effect at first but eventually action was promised. Even then it was a long time before instructions including this port were sent out.

The result is very satisfactory to the Board of Trade and to all citizens of Prince Rupert. It is one more step toward the realization of our aim to make this a real Pacific port.

Electors Looking At Politics Sensibly.

The tendency seems to be for the electors generally to take a sensible view of the political situation. They are getting away from the personal attitude and are thinking more of the question of policy. They take a look down at the elevator and decide that a party which places them on the map in that way is the one they will support.

We all know that all three men are good men. Either one of them could represent us at Ottawa but Stork is a Liberal supporting a Liberal government, whereas either of the other men are in the opposition. They may make speeches but that does not help much. What we need is men who are able to deliver the goods and we all know what Stork did.

Making Speeches On Floor Of House.

The floor of the House is the place where speeches are made for the consumption of the constituencies. It is not the place where actual work is done for the benefit of the constituencies.

When a member wishes to go on record and get his name in Hansard he makes a speech on the floor of the House. Occasionally his speech, if an outstanding one, may have some influence on the members but usually it is absolutely ineffective. The member knows before that stage is reached just which way he is going to vote.

That is why Prince Rupert's member is not often heard on the floor of the House. Instead he meets the ministers personally and also brings his case before the members in places where it is likely to have some effect. The result has already been seen.

Some of the opponents of Fred Stork claim he has not talked enough. If talking would get anything, he would doubtless be at it continuously, but it will not. The member who talks too much at Ottawa is soon discredited.

City Council To Be Complimented.

The city council is to be complimented on deciding to take no part in politics but to do its best to aid the city in regard to the grain business. As a preliminary they have voted $500 to enable the committee to send a man to the prairies to investigate conditions and to get in touch with the grain dealers there with a view to inducing them to make shipments this way.

It is understood that a certain amount of business will come through Prince Rupert in any case, but what is needed now is to get as much as possible moving in this direction. In order to do that someone has to act as the intermediary between the dealers and the shipowners in order that charters may be secured readily.

CONCERT WAS GREAT SUCCESS

Miss Advant and S. K. Campbell Starred in Big Event Here Last Night

The I.O.D.E. concert given in the Westholme Theatre last night was of outstanding interest in that it was the first in which Miss Adene Advant, the operatic contralto, formerly of the D'Oyley Carte Opera Company, of London, England was heard in a large hall. Her singing and that of S. K. Campbell, who is so well known to music lovers here, formed the chief attraction. They sang well, both individually and together and the audience was not backward in expressing its appreciation. In every number throughout the evening there was a recall.

Most of the numbers were musical selections from the "Mikado," and the catchy music caught the audience and pleased them thoroughly. The girls' choruses were excellent and the singing of Frank Moore first rate. Much amusement was caused by the duet between Miss Advant and Charles Evitt although it lost some of its interest in the repetition.

One feature which caused a good deal of favorable comment was the orchestra selection by Professor Pryce's Juvenile Orchestra. Jimmie Bryant was accompanist and members of the orchestra who played were: Audrey Parkin, Nellie Lawrence, Wisner Bryant, James Valentine, Bert Cameron, Gordon Clark, Eddie Walters and Prima Vacchar.

An amusing feature of the evening was a comic sketch by Harry McMasters and William Mitchell, which was well performed. McMaster is particularly well suited for the part of a professional humorist.

The complete program follows:

Orchestra selection, Westholme Orchestra.

Song, "The Dancing Lesson," Herbert Oliver; Miss Adene Advant; accompanist, Miss B. Curtin.

Duet: Il Trovatore," - Miserere" (Verdi), Miss Adene Advant and S. K. Campbell.

Comic sketch, Harry McMasters and William Mitchell.

Orchestra selection, Prof. Pryce's Juvenile Orchestra.

Overture "Mikado," Westholme Orchestra.

Men's chorus, "Gentlemen of Japan."

Song and chorus "Nanki-Poo," S. K. Campbell.

Song, "Yum - Yum," Miss Adene Advant.

Quintette, "Flowers That Bloom in the Spring," Miss Adene Advant, Mrs. McMillan, C. V. Evitt, G. A. Woodland and Frank Moore.

Girls' Chorus and "Three Little Maids," Misses Adene Advant, A. Dalby and Mrs. Blance.

Duet, "Were You Not to Ko-Ko Plighted," Miss Adene Advant and Mr. Charles Evitt.

Song and chorus, "He's Got 'em on the List," Frank Moore.

Quartette, "Madrigal," Miss Adene Advant, Mrs. McMillan, Mr. S. K. Campbell, A. Clapperton.

Song, "Tit Willow," Frank Moore.

Chorus, Finale; Conductor, Professor Pryce.

Ladies' Chorus—Mrs. J. H. Macey, Mrs. S. King, Mrs. S. Darton, Miss I. Bourassa, Miss G. Curtin, Miss Nada Johnstone, Miss C. Mitchell, Miss E. Marsh, Miss O. Munroe, Miss D. Tremayne, Miss K. Stork, Miss P. Fremayne and Miss A. Donaldson.

Gentlemen of Japan — S. J. Hunter, J. Hastie, J. R. Hudson, Steve King, M. McMaster, W. Mitchell, W. C. Orchard, G. Waddell, G. A. Woodland, C. V. Evitt and A. Clapperton.

The concert is being repeated tonight.

CARRYING FRESH FISH TO MARKET BY PLANE

Plan Being Followed in Sweden With Good Results

(Victoria Times)

Now comes another suggestion for extending the commercial usefulness of the aeroplane. This time it is a proposal to carry fresh fish through the air every morning direct from the fishing ports to the markets of the great cities. The firms interested in this innovation advocate all-metal machines, with monoplane wings lifting a fishing tank fuselage, completely equipped for the carriage of a finny cargo. They point out also that scarce fish which are considered luxuries could be carried alive over great distances.

Nor is this plan, enterprising as it obviously appears, altogether new. Such a scheme has been found thoroughly practical in Sweden. Each morning a cargo of soles, turbot, lobsters, and other fresh fish, caught on the west coast of Sweden, is brought in a Junkers all-metal monoplane to Stockholm, and the fish are actually on sale at nine o'clock.

These evidences of a fast-moving world once more remind us that less than twenty-five years ago the Wright Brothers were told they would never be able to fly a heavier-than-air machine. But they flew. Since then a heavier-than-air machine has been flown across the Atlantic without a halt and similar craft have circled the globe. These achievements are emphasized by the fact that aerial mail and passenger services in many countries have long since ceased to be novelties.

THE MAN IN THE MOON says:

A LOT of people are great in everything except the art of bringing up children.

WHEN you look around and take stock of the people you meet it makes you think that perhaps after all birth control might be a good thing.

FORKE says he didn't endorse Nickerson but Nickerson says Forke would have endorsed him if he had been nominated by a Progressive convention, or words to that effect.

THE best answer to many prayers would be "No."

FOOLING the electors seems to be the popular sport of the day.

THE electors will have their turn next week when they will fool two of the local enthusiasts.

WHY have an election in this constituency. All three candidates have won already. They admit it.

I AM told that Stork was taken to task for importing speakers. All the same we're glad to be able to see "Pat Maitland" and the other guys from the south, who are going to tell the electors what fine fellows the Conservatives are and how they are going to build up a wall as high as the tower of Babel to protect the poor people from the attacks of the Yankees.

HE made a speech
And the crowd all cheered,
But voting against him
Was the thing he feared.

BENTINCK Island came into the limelight recently. First it was announced that the island was to be converted into a lazaretto, then the Dutch steamer was wrecked there, then a fisherman astounded Victoria by catching a 160 pound halibut off its shore and then came the wreck of the tug Hope with its tragic result.

Ten Years Ago in Prince Rupert

October 20, 1915.

Mrs. Rietchel has received a letter from her husband, who was seriously wounded by shrapnel at the front, stating that he is now convalescent and hoping to get back into action before long.

Parker Williams, leader of the Socialist Party in the Legislature, who is visiting Prince Rupert, says that he has visited every town and hamlet in the south and that the position of the Conservative party is absolutely hopeless.

Nejaab J. Jabour, aged 23, youngest brother of James and Daniel Jabour, died in the Prince Rupert General Hospital this morning. The funeral will take place tomorrow from Hayner Bros. chapel to Fairview Cemetery.

TIE CONTRACTS ARE BEING ALLOTTED IN MONTREAL THIS WEEK

Word has been received in the city that C. N. R. tie contracts for this district are being allotted in Montreal this week. It is understood that the requirements this winter will not be as heavy as last year. Pending the receipt of definite allotments and terms, various tie operators in the interior are now making preparations for the season's work.
