West Must Insist

On Railways Complying.

It looks just now as if the railways were governing Canada and against any such conditions of affairs the West must put in such an emphatic protest that a change is bound to take place. When the country begins to be governed by the C.P.R. or any other corporation it is time vigorous action was taken.

There has been talk enough about the western freight rates. The demand has been made that they be equalized and the Government of Canada and the Board of Railway Commissioners have both ordered that this be done. Now, according to report, the railways are not complying with the order.

There has been enough playing with the West on the part of Montreal and the East generally. If we cannot get decent treatment it is time we advocated more vigorous measures.

Prince Rupert is vitally interested in this freight rates case. It is not a matter of politics. It is simply business. We shall have to talk so plainly pretty soon that there will be no mistaking what we mean.

Flour Mill For Prince Rupert.

A Vancouver man writes suggesting the establishment of a flour mill here. He gives reasons why he thinks it should be successful. With his proposal we agree most heartily. There is an opening for the establishment of a mill here and anything that can possibly be done locally should be undertaken so that if possible such an industry may become an accomplished fact.

Pupils In Schools Indicate Permanency.

When the schools reopened after the holidays it was found that there were about 1,050 pupils attending in this city. In the city of Nelson there were 1,120, and in Ketchikan the number was 1,522. Nelson is comparatively an old city and Ketchikan, although older than Prince Rupert, is new so far as its modern development is concerned.

Everybody Use North B.C. Produce.

Prince Rupert people should make a point of buying Northern B.C. produce. This is the natural market for the potatoes and other products of the farms of the interior and if Prince Rupert people insist on having those products they will help the farmers and at the same time indirectly help themselves.

Very soon Bulkley Valley beef will be coming in, but in the meantime there are potatoes of the best quality and the way to build up the north is to encourage those who are giving their lives to the work of developing it.

The government has done a great deal toward helping Prince Rupert but we must do something ourselves and there is no way we can co-operate to better advantage than by insisting on being given potatoes grown in Northern British Columbia.

Getting In Touch With The Unseen.

A despatch published yesterday telling about Conan Doyle receiving spirit messages, caused a good deal of discussion locally. A great many are inclined to scoff at the idea of such message being received while others are firm believers in close contact between the seen and the unseen.

Those who listen to radio messages coming from points thousands of miles away realize that there may be spirit messages also pervading the air which need only the proper receiving apparatus to enable us to hear them. At any rate it is not impossible and thousands of people today believe they really do occur.

It is easy to scoff. The ignorant have always done that. There were men who scoffed at the automobile until they were knocked down by one.

SHIP PRODUCE IN CAR LOTS

Marketing Centre Being Established at Smithers and Effort Made to Push Sales

SMITHERS, Sept. 19.—At the regular monthly meeting of the board of trade in the Municipal Office Monday night, Wm. Doodson of the firm of Sealy and Doodson, outlined for the meeting the plans of his firm for the establishment of a centre to deal with the marketing of farm produce of the Bulkley Valley.

Mr. Doodson said the farmers throughout the district had been requested to supply him with a list of the produce they will have for sale this fall, and he has communicated with the wholesalers in the business centres asking that they give him a chance to show that the produce of the Bulkley Valley is equal or better than the products of other districts.

The plan is to have warehouses at Smithers and ship from here in car load lots, and a start has already been made on the erection of the first building which will be twenty-four by 60 feet. The firm's own cold storage plant will of course take care of the storage of the beef and other meats.

The board gave their endorsement to the project and expressed a willingness to give their assistance where needed.

PRINCE Rupert will be all right in the long run, but the difficulty is the run is too long.

Autumn resolutions:
Determining to save part of salary.

Determine to incur no more debts.

Make up mind to play badminton.

Deciding to study evenings in stead of going to bridge parties.

Decide to mind own business all time.

Decide to make up mind soon.

THE difficulty about living alone is that there's nobody to growl at when things go wrong.

Ten Years Ago in Prince Rupert

A pot of money containing $100.01, donated by George Frizzell and raffled by the Red Cross, has been won by David Thompson.

Adair Carss injured his leg while out hunting at the head of the Inlet today. He fell on his hunting knife.

W. J. Greer won the Exhibition gold medal for shooting at the McNeill Creek range today. His score was 87 and that of Joe Jack, who won the silver medal, was 82.

Home, Sweet Home

CLARES HECLA

The Furnace that Saves One Ton in Seven

There's no place like home on a winter's night—if the home is heated by the Hecla Furnace—for inside is the cosy, warming glow of perfect heating—the right temperature for health and good spirits.

The winter has lost its terrors for the whole family—no more colds, chills, frozen pipes—even the flowers on the windowsills thrive in the beneficent, humid warmth provided by the Hecla.

The steel ribbed fire pot provides an extraordinarily large radiating surface—extracting all the heat from the coal. Its fused joints prevent leakage of gas and dust into the rooms. Its individual triangular grate bars enable you to trim the fire and dispose of the ashes without losing any of the good live coals. Its circular water pan humidifies the heat to the correct degree for health.

Altogether you will find, as thousands of users have, that the Hecla is the most satisfactory, as well as the most economical heating unit you could procure.

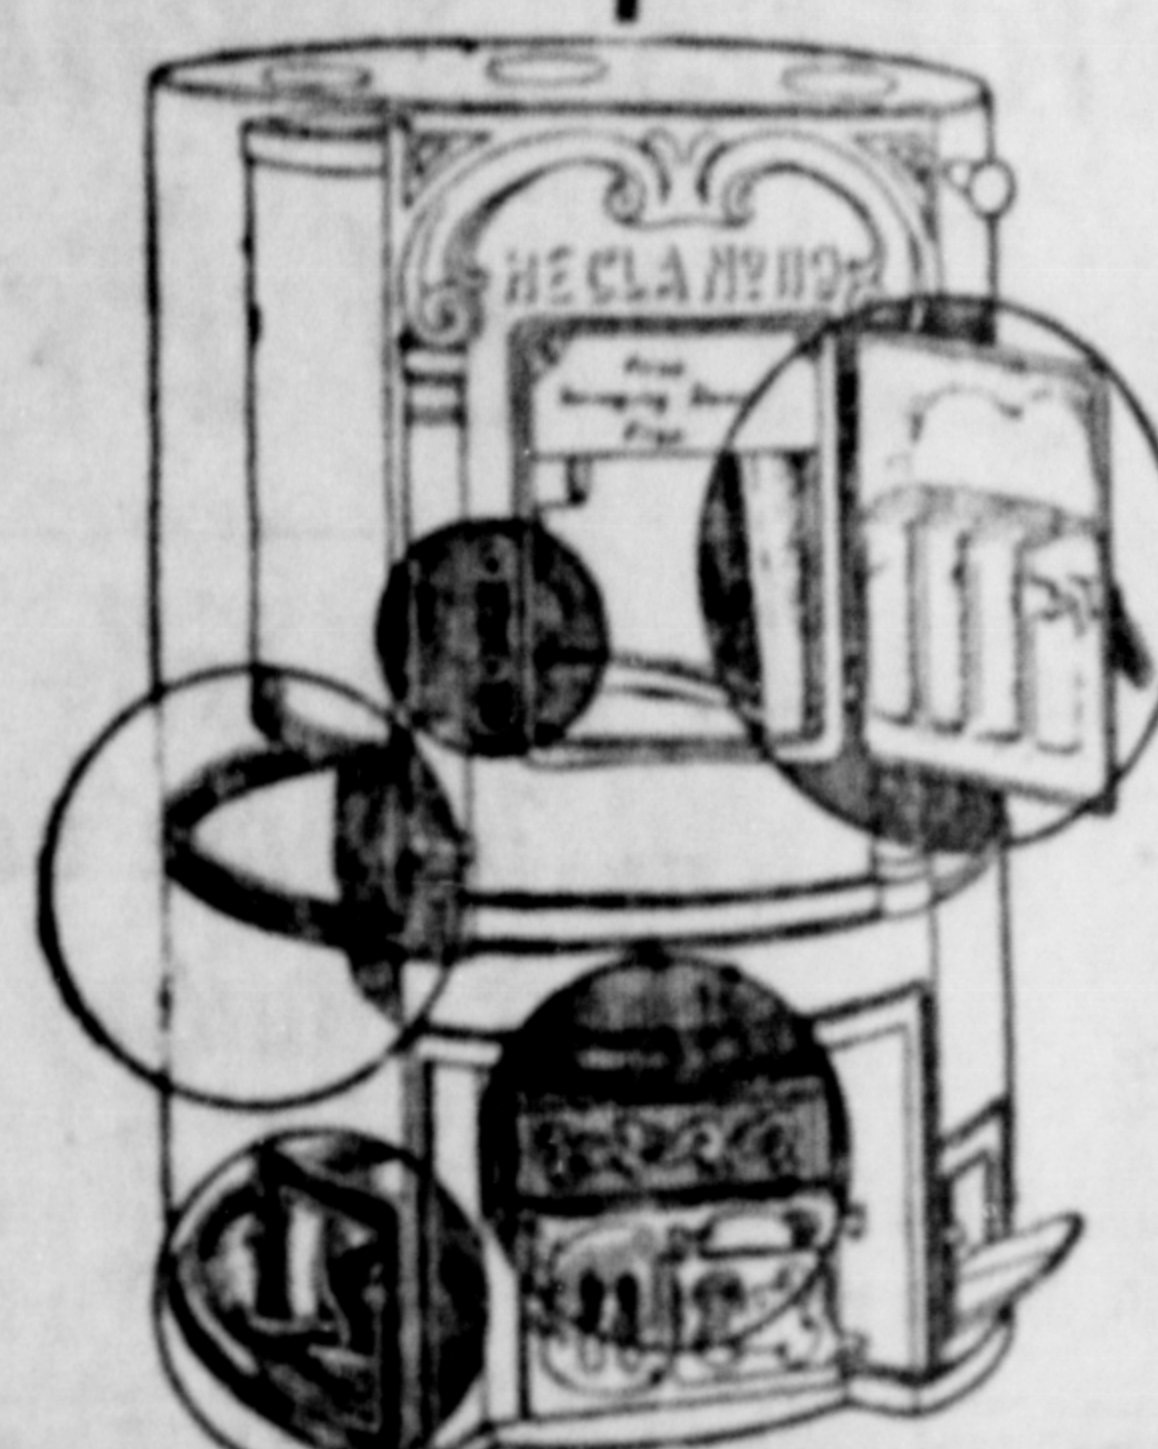

The complete story of the Hecla will interest you. Our dealer in your neighborhood will tell you—or if you cannot locate him, mail the attached coupon.
