BOARD GETS $600 GRANT

City Council Not Unanimous as to Vote for Publicity Purposes

Difference of opinion as a result of discussion having been resolved to unanimity, the city council last night decided to pay the Board of Trade its usual grant of $600 this year, this to be in addition to the payment of some $350 which was made by the city to cover half the cost of a publicity booklet recently issued by the board.

The matter was referred to the council by the finance committee without recommendation. It was pointed out by Ald. Casey that the council had borne half the cost of the booklet. The question arose as to whether this $350 should be deducted from the annual grant to the board or whether the full $600 should still be paid. His mind was open on the question though, in speaking of the work carried out by the board this year he was inclined to think that its urgings on the matter of closing the port to U.S. fishermen had been directly at variance with the expressed wishes of the majority of the citizens. He thought that the city might have a publicity organization of its own if grants as high as $900 were to be paid annually to the Board of Trade.

Effective Booklet

Ald. Larsen, while of the opinion that it was rather steep to pay the Board of Trade an annual grant of $900, defended the effectiveness of the booklet even if it had cost $700.

Ald. Brown, seconded by Ald. McKechnie, moved that the balance of $600 be paid over to the Board of Trade after the city's share for the booklet had been deducted.

Ald. McMordie felt that, in view of the fact that it had been at first decided to grant the Board of Trade $600 for the year, and subsequently at the suggestion of a committee of the city council the booklet had been published, it was up to the council to live up to its contract and pay the $600 over and above the booklet. The board should not be called upon to pay the entire cost of something that had been suggested by the city.

Not a Member

Ald. Stephens was inclined to take a view similar to that of Ald. McMordie. A grant of $600 had been promised the Board of Trade and he thought the council was in honor bound to carry out that promise. It would have been different if the booklet had at first been included in the $600. As far as the booklet was concerned, he thought it was the best publicity effort that had ever been undertaken for the city. "I am not a member of the Board of Trade and I am not attempting to defend the board, but I feel that credit should be given where credit is due. It may have been a gentlemen's agreement, but I think it should be as binding as if it had been a written one."

Stating that he had been convinced by the argument of Ald. McMordie and Ald. Stephens that it was the duty of the city to pay the full $600, Ald. Casey asked Ald. Brown and Ald. McKechnie to change their resolution accordingly. This was done and a resolution to pay the full $600 was unanimously passed.

The usual annual bylaw providing for the exemption of crown lands from tax sale was given its first readings at last night's meeting of the city council.

MUSICAL ECKARDTS GAVE A GOOD SHOW

Proved Themselves Accomplished Musicians and Clever Entertainers—Here Tonight

When the curtain went down at the close of the entertainment given last night by the Musical Eckhardts at the Westholme Theatre there were insistent demands for more and prolonged applause from the large audience. The program was an excellent one and was highly appreciated by those present. So seldom does a good entertainment come to this city that local people appreciate a good show, and they were not disappointed last night.

The Eckhardts were first rate. They played all kinds of instruments. In addition to the Swiss Bells, which they feature, they also proved themselves well able to play the xylophone, saxophone, trombone, chimes, musical glasses, flute, piccolo and the English concertina, and they even extracted music from a hand-saw and sweeping broom.

Vocal selections both popular and comic were enjoyed by the audience and the monologues kept them very much alive.

The music of the Strain sisters proved one of the important features of the evening and motion pictures wound up an unusually good entertainment. The show will be repeated tonight.
