STEALING FROM BOAT IS CHARGE ON WHICH MARTIN COMMITTED

Was Arrested Last Night at Knox Hotel and Before Magistrate Today

Joseph Martin, a new arrival in the city, was committed for trial in the city police court this morning by Stipendiary Magistrate H. F. McLeod on a charge of theft.

On October 14, Michael Cashen, owner of the gasboat Glory, reported to the police that between the evening of October 13 and the morning of October 14 a suitcase and two club bags, containing wearing apparel, and also a 38 calibre revolver had been removed from his boat. The goods were found by Constable Nutt on another boat at Cow Bay and the trail subsequently led to the Knox Hotel where Martin was arrested last night by Constables Macdonald and Potterton. Accused had on his person the revolver which was identified by Cashen.

The case came up in court this morning when witnesses were Michael Cashen, George Constable, E. A. Loring and the police officers. City Solicitor E. F. Jones prosecuted. Martin is said to have a police record.

TESTS ON RECOVERY OF GOLD FROM BLACK SANDS QUEEN CHARLOTTE ISLANDS.

The purchaser was Carson and Co., brokers, of Toronto, who acquired an interest in the properties and in turn disposed of same to the Trethewey-Tough Syndicate of Toronto. A corporation is to be organized and the various interests in the lands paid for by stock.

Skeena River

In addition to the Graham Island holdings the company has acquired leases on the Skeena River near Hazelton where the Cabrera cyaniding process will be used to recover the fine gold from the Skeena. The recovering of gold from the river sands by cyanide varies considerably from the treatment of beach sands. Mr. Cabrera spent over a month on the Skeena this summer and is certain that this process, varied to meet river conditions, will be as effective on river sands as on beach sands. He will go to Hazelton shortly with a laboratory outfit and make a series of tests before returning to the east.

The results attained by Mr. Cabrera on the Graham Island sands came after two years of persistent effort. In February, 1924, Mr. Cabrera sent two employees to Massett, R. E. Burger and J. A. Lane, two men who had worked with him on Slate Creek in the Omineca the year before. From Massett these men travelled the beaches on the north and east coasts and obtained samples of sands from various locations. These samples were sent to Mr. Cabrera in Prince Rupert where they were assayed and submitted to various recovery tests.

In March Mr. Cabrera went to Massett where assaying was continued to determine economic deposits of gold sands. Screen tests were made and then tests on concentration with rocker and with sluices. Cyanide testing runs were made in a Braun Laboratory outfit treating fifty pound charges. Beach sands, sands and gravels, and concentrates of sands were treated and notes and records of procedure and results carefully kept.

Work at Massett

In the summer, 1924, a plant was commenced at Massett designed to treat ten tons of concentrates per day, the concentrates to be obtained by sluicing. Before the completion of this plant beach sands showing high values in gold were prospected on the north beach. The values in these sands were found to be high enough per ton to not require concentration and further that they were free from clays (slimes) and in addition were found to be free from any interfering agents detrimental to cyaniding. These three conditions promised the ideal. Therefore a small test plant was erected on the north beach and tests and runs were carried on therein for over six weeks, till October, 1924.

The P.B.C. Mines Co. of which Mr. Cabrera is the one third owner was responsible for the work up to this period. They, however, did not continue the work this year as several deals were and are still pending for the sale of their holdings.

With the financial assistance of Carson and Company of Toronto, Mr. Cabrera was able to continue his work this summer and to bring same to a conclusion that satisfies and justifies all concerned.

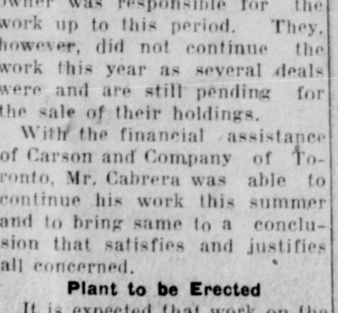
Plant to be Erected

It is expected that work on the construction of a large cyanide plant will be started within a very short time, as the Toronto interests had their representative examining the property during the past two weeks with this end in view.

John Tough of Toronto represents the easteners. Mr. Tough with his brother were the owners and operators of the first producing mine in the Kirkland Lake field of Ontario. They were subsequently well known by their successful management of the Tough-Oakes Co. of Toronto.

Mr. Tough with Mr. Cabrera are in Rupert en route to Hazelton where they will spend several weeks examining properties there before returning to Toronto.

In addition to the Toronto concern, a Philadelphia syndicate is now preparing plans and specifications for a two hundred ton plant to be erected on the east coast of Graham Island, actual work to start about January 1. The corporation is now being organized by local attorneys.



SPORT CHAT

Indoor sports are now pretty well under way in the city for the winter season. Men's whist started on Thursday night of this week and ladies', last night. Fixtures will take place regularly until spring. Billiards will be started next Tuesday night with the second division meeting of the Prince Rupert Billiard Parlor and Grotto. On Thursday night, the Great War Veterans and Cold Storage will play. The second cribbage league set of games will be played on Monday evening. There is not much sign of life in the basketball world but the annual meeting of the Association will probably take place within the next week. It was called a couple of weeks ago but had to be postponed because there were not sufficient persons present to form a quorum.

A move is under way in Vancouver to convert Hastings Park oval into an athletic centre for the city. A mass meeting of all sports organizations in Vancouver was held this week to go into the matter. The sports bodies are expected to raise one half of the amount necessary to put the proposition over and the Exhibition Board will find dollar for dollar. The carrying out of the project would fill a long felt need in the city. Vancouver is short of sports grounds now and various plans are up to provide more.
